NEW YORK STATE SENATE

THE STENOGRAPHIC RECORD

ALBANY, NEW YORK

June 18, 2018

1:44 p.m.

REGULAR SESSION

SENATOR JOSEPH GRIFFO, Acting President

FRANCIS W. PATIENCE, Secretary

P R O C E E D I N G S

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: The Senate will come to order.

I ask all present to please rise and join with me as we recite the Pledge of Allegiance to our Flag.

(Whereupon, the assemblage recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Today's invocation will be offered by Rabbi Neal Joseph Loevinger, Director of Spiritual Care Services at Vassar Brothers Medical Center in Poughkeepsie.

Rabbi?

RABBI LOEVINGER: Thank you, honored Senators and guests.

Thank you, Senator Serino, for the invitation.

Please come and visit Poughkeepsie sometime. I bring you greetings from Health Quest, the premier medical system which I'm honored to serve; we're building the most beautiful hospital in New York. I hope you only visit as a guest.

(Laughter.)

RABBI LOEVINGER: Last week -- yeah, somebody got it.

Last week in our biblical reading we read a story in the Book of Numbers of a man named Korach, who challenged Moses for the leadership of the Israelites. And Korach sought a position of leadership not out of a desire to serve, but out of a desire to rule for his own sense of power and wanting glory and dominion over others.

And this kind of leadership causes division, strife and, in the story we read in the Book of Numbers, even death.

There is a resolution at the end of the story when Moses affirms to his brother Aaron, the high priest of the Israelites, that leadership does not mean only power and glory for the leader, but rather leadership means service, bearing in mind the entire people and their needs, bearing in mind that you serve a greater community and a greater good -- a kind of leadership that is now called servant leadership, which is, in its root, biblical leadership.

And this is the kind of leadership that I pray to the source of my strength that all of us in this chamber are blessed to accomplish. This is true leadership: Service, humility, bound together with others through the values we all share. Values like healing, hope, justice, mercy, fairness, equality, dignity and generosity.

We believe many things in this wonderfully diverse State of New York. We have many faiths, and some of us have no particular religious faith, but we are bound together in a commitment to serve.

And so I turn to the one I call God, the source of my strength, the source of my wisdom, who you may know through a different name or through a different experience. But I hope you will turn to that source of meaning in your life and find that core of values that can bind you to others and the common work of leadership for our great state -- the values that bind us together as a citizenry, and the values that will bring our state and our common mission together into a great future together.

I thank God for the strength that we may all accomplish this, and I thank you for the privilege of being here today.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Thank you, Rabbi.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Comrie to explain his vote.

SENATOR COMRIE: Mr. President, I'm a no on this bill.

I think that it creates a diminution of services to children when we now more than ever need to make sure that our children that are suffering through trauma, through changes, through bullying, through all of the things that beset our young children, where they're going to be now not given the same level of service by trained doctorates who have an opportunity to make sure that our children are taken care of.

I'm very concerned that while we need a major overhaul in our school system, while we don't have enough counselors to take care of our children now, that we're going to create an opportunity to lower the bar and make it more problematic to ensure that all of the treatment modalities that have been proven true and effective will be also not happening for our children.

So therefore I must vote no on this bill. I have many people that have come to me that have told me that the reason that there are not enough school counselors in the schools is because we haven't funded them. But to create a sea of people that are not fully trained in dealing with all of the things that our children are facing will be a disservice also.

I vote no.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Comrie to be recorded in the negative.

Senator Stavisky to explain her vote.

SENATOR STAVISKY: Thank you, Mr. President.

I had some problems with this bill which I discussed in the committee. And there are some good things in this bill. It highlights the need for school psychologists. It emphasizes the need for Medicaid reimbursement for school psychologists. There are a lot of good things in here.

But I too am going to be a no vote, because while I agree with the objectives of the bill, I think we have to take a careful look and fine-tune some of the definitions of psychologists, because there are many different kinds of psychologists. And if you're going to call yourself a psychologist, this is a doctoral-level profession.

And I will vote no. Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Stavisky in the negative.

(The Secretary called the roll.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Krueger to explain her vote.

SENATOR KRUEGER: Thank you.

I note that many of us changed our votes from a yes to a no this year. That's because the Regents already followed through on what they hoped we would do, which is they have implemented an alternative path to a high school degree through vocational ed high school programs.

So I think we're voting no to make sure that we don't send two conflicting messages. One, the Regents have done something; let's see how it works. And two, let's not confuse the mission by putting in different and not parallel proposals at a time when many of us think they finally did what we hoped they'd do.

So I'm voting no, Mr. President, thank you.

(The Secretary called the roll.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Kaminsky to explain his vote.

SENATOR KAMINSKY: Thank you, Mr. President.

Water is an extremely precious resource. And a problem we have when we deal with conservation is simply that consumers don't know how much they're using, because their water bills often come in cubic feet. This bill is a common-sense measure on Long Island which would have water purveyors detail in gallons how much water consumers are actually using.

It will also have a seasonal output so you know how much you're using season to season, as well as a year-to-date metric so consumers are knowing this year versus last year and of course how they're doing over the course of a year in utilizing water.

If we want to get people to start thinking about conservation, the first thing they need to start thinking about is, at home, how much water they're actually using. I think people will be really shocked when they see in gallons how much water they're using a year and will want to take efforts help conserve their water usage.

It's a common-sense bill. I urge my colleagues to vote yes.

Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Kaminsky to be recorded in the affirmative.

Announce the results.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Call the roll.

(The Secretary called the roll.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Boyle to explain his vote.

SENATOR BOYLE: Mr. President, to explain my vote.

This bill handles the situation -- which happens more frequently than you might think -- of a homeowner who takes their oil tank out of the basement and doesn't notify the company that's doing the oil delivery. Many times oil is then delivered by the oil company all over the basement, hundreds of gallons. Obviously, it's an environmental and safety nightmare. Houses have been destroyed as a result of it. It's a common-sense proposal.

But most importantly, Mr. President, I'd like to thank the chief advocate for this, a gentleman we lost recently, Kevin Rooney, the CEO of the Oil Heat Institute of Long Island. He was the CEO for 25 years. Kevin was a renaissance man, a brilliant individual, and a fierce advocate for the oil heat industry. I want to thank Kevin. Rest in peace.

And I vote aye.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Call the roll.

(The Secretary called the roll.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Sanders to explain his vote.

SENATOR SANDERS: Thank you, Mr. President.

HPD does an excellent job, in most cases, to help keep homeownership affordable. However, there are cases, and I can speak of a few, where HPD has okayed contractors to come in -- one contractor actually put the heating system at the ceiling. At the ceiling. Which means that the home would never be warm. There's nothing that you can do. And despite as many attempts as we have made, nothing was done to reverse that. And there are many cases like that.

If that's the case, then we need a vehicle by which normal, everyday people who find themselves, through no fault of their own, relying on HPD -- and if HPD says that this is a good product, then they should make the homeowner right and not have the homeowner chase after the contractor, who has far more money at his disposal for law fees. And ultimately the homeowner is the person who is just out of luck.

So this bill is an attempt to correct that injustice.

I want to thank everyone who voted for it. I want to even thank those who mistakenly voted against it, and I want to give them a chance to get on the right side.

(Laughter.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Sanders, how do you vote?

(The Secretary called the roll.)

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Bailey to explain his vote.

SENATOR BAILEY: Thank you, Mr. President.

Thank you to my colleagues for supporting this important piece of legislation in rethinking how we are going to go about economic development in the State of New York.

I am a huge believer in worker cooperatives, worker-owned businesses, and this bill would be able to create co-ops and funding for microbusinesses, which are businesses that have less than five people. And as we know, small businesses are the lifeblood of our community.

But I take this opportunity to have us in this chamber think about worker cooperatives as a really viable economic engine in the State of New York.

I had the pleasure of being able to go to Mondragon, Spain, last September, where they have cooperative communities and they have a cooperative ecosystem. And it's more egalitarian way of sharing wealth without necessarily leaning towards socialism as people believe it.

And I believe that worker cooperatives are the next wave of economic development in our state -- better governance, higher wages, but still a pure business model. At the end of the day, if you have a poor business, your business will not succeed. And this is not intended to be a crutch for businesses, but this is just intended to fund businesses that are doing well and can do well.

And I thank my colleagues again for voting aye.

I vote aye, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT GRIFFO: Senator Bailey to explain his vote.

SENATOR BAILEY: Thank you, Mr. President.

Approximately three years ago I sat down with a principal in my district, my namesake, Principal Jamaal Bowman, and we spoke about ACEs. And it's not aces as in tennis or aces as in a hole-in-one, but ACEs as in Adverse Childhood Experiences. They use a scale from zero to 10 to measure what childhood trauma is and how it affects our students. And the higher the score, the more adversity that one is facing.

And I encourage all my colleagues to Google "take an ACE score" and you can see how many adverse circumstances that you may have faced. And the higher the score, as I said, the more adversity you faced. And you have categories of these ACEs -- abuse, neglect, and household dysfunction. And the higher the score, the more likely it is for a child to experience dysfunction in school.

A lot of times when we look at our children as to why they're failing, it's not because they don't have the intellectual aptitude, it's because there are external factors that are affecting their ability to learn. And while I hope for more things in this area of childhood trauma, I'm glad that we're taking the first step in passing this study so that we can really study what is affecting our children inside and outside of the classroom.

Ultimately, I believe that each child should be screened for ACEs with their physicians, but that's a little bit ahead of the game. But I think that at the very least this study is a great start to get administrators, teachers and everybody in the school building thinking about how our children are facing trauma on a day-to-day basis and how it affects their ability to learn.

Once again, I thank my colleagues for supporting this important piece of legislation. And I vote aye, Mr. President.
