NEW YORK STATE SENATE

THE STENOGRAPHIC RECORD

ALBANY, NEW YORK

May 28, 2024

3:22 p.m.

REGULAR SESSION

SENATOR JAMAAL T. BAILEY, Acting President

ALEJANDRA N. PAULINO, ESQ., Secretary

P R O C E E D I N G S

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The Senate will come to order.

I ask everyone present to please rise and recite the Pledge of Allegiance.

(Whereupon, the assemblage recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The Reverend Dr. Meg Stapleton Smith, of St. John's Episcopal Church in Monticello, New York, will deliver today's invocation.

Reverend Doctor.

REVEREND DR. SMITH: May the words of my mouth be pleasing to God. I speak to you in the name of the One Holy and Undivided Trinity.

We gather today with one common purpose, one common vision of humanity, regardless of religious creed, spiritual practice, political party. We who are gathered in this room believe that the world as it is, is not the world as it should be. And we have committed ourselves to making the world a more just and loving place.

And in order to realize that vision,

I pray that all gathered here may have the courage to be attentive to those who are suffering. I pray in the name of God that those gathered here may be aware of the unhoused, those who don't have access to nourishing foods, those impacted by climate change, and those who suffer the damage of COVID.

God, we ask You to help us remember how the laws we create impact human dignity. So we pray that the laws passed here may embrace the diversity of Your creation. And we pray that the laws passed here today may guide us to peace.

For, O God, You are the fountain of wisdom Whose will is good and gracious and Whose law is truth. We beseech You to guide and bless our Senators and representatives assembled here today, that they may enact such laws that will please You, to the glory of Your name and the welfare of all people.

Through Jesus Christ, Amen.

(Response of "Amen.")

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The Secretary will read.

THE SECRETARY: Resolution 2591, by Senator Stewart-Cousins, honoring the distinguished veterans from the State of New York upon the occasion of their induction into the New York State Senate 2023 Veterans Hall of Fame.

Resolution 2592, by Senator Stewart-Cousins, honoring the distinguished veterans from the State of New York upon the occasion of their induction into the New York State Senate 2024 Veterans Hall of Fame.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Majority Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins on the resolutions.

SENATOR STEWART-COUSINS: Thank you so much, Mr. President.

I rise in order to, again, acknowledge, celebrate and thank the heroes that are in the chamber today. We have had a wonderful day, and I want to thank Senator Scarcella-Spanton for helping to arrange our annual celebration, our Veterans Hall of Fame.

We this morning got to hear the stories of so many veterans who not only served their country, our country, proudly but continue their service to this day.

As I said this morning, yesterday most of us, I'm sure, if not all of us observed Memorial Day celebrations and ceremonies, and we mourned those who came before us to fight for our right to be in this chamber, to pass, as our clergy said, laws that will govern how we live and how we are able to take care of the people in New York and beyond.

But we don't take for granted the opportunity to do these things. We don't take for granted why we are doing these things. We understand that people paid a price for us to be part of this democracy. People think of chambers like this as being divided, Democrats, Republicans. You'll be surprised that we actually agree on a lot of things. The thing that all of us agree on is that our nation is better because of the service of the individuals here today. That because of the individuals here today, we proudly serve. And every opportunity that we get to thank you, not only for your service but to set you up as an example for posterity, set you up as an example of how service goes beyond necessarily the battlefield and into our own communities and how we all benefit -- we all take the opportunity to do so.

We all have individuals here. I wanted to really give a special shout-out to my honoree. She is here, by our clock: Jean Otto MacIntosh, who is a World War Two veteran. She was a WAVE. She enlisted during World War II, and she was trained as an air traffic controller and went on to train fighter pilots how to use radar during night flights.

She has been an amazing contributor to our community in Westchester, lived in Irvington for 80 years, and now she's at Kendall on Hudson, which is in Sleepy Hollow, just a little beyond Irvington.

And she has been an inspiration to her church, to the community. And she doesn't want me to say this, but she is the one who brought Meals on Wheels to Irvington in 1975.

She didn't want me to say that, and I didn't know why, because I told her my parents -- again, my dad was a World War II veteran who suffered from dementia. My mom cared for him, and she had emphysema and COPD. And it was Meals on Wheels that provided lunch for them until I was able to get back there during dinnertime to serve them.

So Jean, thank you. And to all of our veterans, thank you so much for giving us the honor of inducting you into this Hall of Fame. You will be in our archives. You will be part of our history, because you have made history. And you've made our lives better.

Thank you so much. God bless you, and thank you for being here today.

(Applause.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Madam Leader.

Senator Ortt on the resolution.

SENATOR ORTT: Thank you, Mr. President.

I want to thank my colleagues. I certainly want to thank Majority Leader Stewart-Cousins for both her comments and her support of this program, the Veterans Hall of Fame. I want to thank our ranker -- Senator Scarcella-Spanton, our chair of the Veterans, Homeland Security and Military Affairs Committee, of course our ranker, Senator Jake Ashby, a veteran himself of the U.S. Army.

I know we have several veterans here in the Legislature. But I certainly want to recognize the nominees and their families who are here today, who are in the chamber with us today. I want to thank you for your service, for your sacrifice.

As one who's served myself, I can tell you that the family is a big part -- when we talk about service, when we talk about what veterans have given to this country, I can assure you, whether it's a spouse, a sibling, a parent, they serve as well. And it would not be but for their love and their service on the home front that allow our veterans to go and serve, whether it's on the home front, whether it's in a different country, whether it's in combat.

And I certainly want to thank all of my colleagues for nominating these very worthy nominees.

As was mentioned, we're a day removed from Memorial Day, when we recognize not only those who serve but -- I think maybe more importantly -- we recognize those who gave their lives in service. That's a very important distinction. And I can promise you that the nominees who are in this chamber, and all of the nominees who have been recognized by being inducted into the New York State Veterans Hall of Fame, they would tell you that on Memorial Day and on most days, they probably would tell you of somebody else who's not here today who is just as worthy or just as deserving. Because you always remember the folks who didn't come home.

And that was what yesterday was about. And it's a reminder that as elected leaders and I think as a country, as a state, that's the real price of living in a free country, is that somebody has to give their life, and people do give their lives in service to our country, and have for its entire history.

We have veterans in this group that span every conflict from World War II all the way to the most recent conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. I want to thank each one of them for their service, for their commitment not only to the United States of America but to their communities when they came home.

And I would also like to take a little bit to -- an indulgence, if I could, to recognize my nominee, who could not be with us today. But Tech Sergeant Henry -- known as "Uncle Hank" -- Ross from Hilton, New York. He was born in Rochester.

Sergeant Ross served in the United States Army Air Corps -- this is before there was an Air Force -- during World War II. From 1943 to 1945, he served as a radio operator and a side waist gunner on board a B-24 Liberator. Following six months of boot camp and basic training, he was assigned to the 450th Bombardment Group H of the 721st squadron based in Manduria, Italy.

Over his time he survived over 50 bombing missions, flown over hostile skies that were heavily protected by anti-aircraft guns over Italy, France, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and even Germany.

Like many of his fellow veterans, the pain and the agony of war for him is not too far away. He was awarded the Purple Heart, among other medals and ribbons, for not only his accomplishments but for injuries that still plague him today.

Don't be fooled. Despite his injuries, he is turning 100 on May 16th. And you can still catch glimpses of Sergeant Ross patrolling the streets of Hilton on his scooter -- but don't blink, or you might miss him.

Speaking of games or, you know, lighthearted aspects of it, he also is quite the euchre player and remains as sharp as ever, you know, back in his hometown of Hilton.

In fact, when I called him for this, to let him know that he was my nominee, he was watching television and we had a very interesting conversation. We did not know each other very well personally before, but he was savvy enough to know that very often folks who are seniors who are up there in their age, they get calls from people on the phone looking to scam them out of things. And he thought I was calling him as a scam.

(Laughter.)

SENATOR ORTT: And so I had to give him my name and all my information. And his -- I think it was his niece who was there was able to look me up and verify that in fact I was his State Senator and the Veterans Hall of Fame was a real thing. But such are the lives of our Greatest Generation.

And I'm honored, as the leader has nominated a World War II veteran, to be able to nominate World War II veterans still. Because there are fewer and fewer and fewer, and there's going to come a day when there's not going to be any left.

And these people -- this generation didn't just win a war, they saved the planet. They saved the world. And the world that we know today, when we talk about freedom and liberty and democracy and we talk about all these things, none of it would be possible and much of it would not exist but for the sacrifices of that generation.

And so to Uncle Hank, Tech Sergeant Henry Ross, and all of the other nominees, I want to thank you for your service -- for your commitment, for your faith, for your courage -- to the United States of America. And I hope that everybody in this body and everybody across this country and this state remains worthy of your sacrifice going forward.

So thank you very much, and God bless.

(Applause.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator Ortt.

Jack's mom, Senator Scarcella-Spanton, on the resolution.

SENATOR SCARCELLA-SPANTON: Thank you, Mr. President.

First and foremost, I'd like to thank Majority Leader Stewart-Cousins for hosting today's Veterans Hall of Fame event. It's actually the first time that this event was brought back in-person since COVID. So it was really exciting to have everybody come up and really special to see everybody in person again.

It's so important that we continue to acknowledge members of the armed services from New York and to honor our exceptional men and women who served our great country and who were chosen for this prestigious honor based on either service in combat or notable work performed after discharge from their service.

On that note, I would like to personally acknowledge my nominee, Lee Covino. Lee and I spoke just a couple of weeks ago. He was on the mend and excited to come up to Albany. It's something that he was really looking forward to. And he tragically passed away just about a week and a half ago.

Lee was incredibly, incredibly special to the Staten Island veteran community. He served in the Vietnam War, and there wasn't any issue regarding veterans that you wouldn't go to Lee for. I can say Senator Lanza and I host a Veterans Day barbecue. My son, who's here with me today, he came, got wet in the rain, and Lee was the one who gave him a sweatshirt, made sure he was warm.

He was just genuinely a good person. When my husband got out of the military, Lee was the first person that we called to just seek some guidance on things for.

So he will sorely be missed. He was instrumental, as a matter of fact, in bringing the Vet Center and the VA Clinic to Staten Island, as well as establishing a Staten Island bus link to the VA Hospital in Brooklyn, and this provides lifesaving services to our Staten Island veterans.

Thank you for all you have done for our nation, state and communities around New York. Congratulations to all the honorees.

And I also wanted to mention Senator Lanza's nominee, Jim Haynes, who's also really involved in the veterans community on Staten Island.

And with that, thank you. I proudly vote aye.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator.

Senator Ashby on the resolution.

SENATOR ASHBY: Thank you, Mr. President.

I want to thank Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins and Chairwoman Scarcella-Spanton.

Welcome to Jack, joining us in the chamber today. I think his sibling had been here before, but it's great -- great to see kids in the chamber.

And thank you to our leader, Rob Ortt, for his continued service.

And thank you for all of the veterans and your families for being here today. And I know that it has been said, in terms of this falling after Memorial Day -- and I do think it is fitting because I believe each and every one of these veterans, when you look at how they continue to inspire people with their service, I believe that their inspiration comes from those who gave their life for this country and continue to come forward each and every day.

How else could we have veterans who are 104 years old and start Meals on Wheels programs? Serve three tours in Iraq? The stories go on and on.

And in my district I was fortunate and privileged enough to nominate Chief Warrant Officer 2 Casey Frankoski, who gave her life while patrolling the southern border in a Black Hawk helicopter. And Casey could have done anything, but she wanted to fly helicopters.

And it's that type of commitment, that type of dedication that we continue to see from our men and women in uniform that will continue to inspire future veterans and those who wish to serve their community for generations to come.

I proudly vote aye on this resolution.

Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator Ashby.

To our guests, we thank you for your service, for your bravery, and we welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We extend to you all of the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please rise and be recognized.

(Extended standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The question is on the resolution. All in favor signify by saying aye.

(Response of "Aye.")

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Opposed, nay.

(No response.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The resolution is adopted.

Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Mr. President, he's been mentioned a few times already, so let's officially welcome Jack Spanton to the chamber, who's chosen to spend the week of his eighth birthday here with us.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Jack Spanton, welcome to the chamber.

(Cheers; applause.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Mr. President, I also want to take a moment to introduce an important community. Today is the first ever Nepalese Community Day here in the State Capitol.

And the Nepalese community is a growing one in New York, particularly so in my district and I think in Senator Ramos's district, as they are a growing community in the Jackson Heights/Woodside area of Queens.

And we have a number of leaders from that community who are with us today. I have had the good fortune of being invited to visit Nepal and scale Mt. Everest, which is very ambitious. I think I'll pass that honor to Senator Liu, who I'm sure can handle it. He wants to go together.

(Laughter.)

SENATOR GIANARIS: Anyway, I'm sure you're all invited.

But if you would take a moment,

Mr. President, to welcome these leaders of the Nepalese community to our chamber and grant them the privileges of the house.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: To our leaders of the Nepalese community, I welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We extend to you all of the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please rise and be recognized.

(Standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Now please recognize Senator Skoufis for an introduction.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Skoufis for the purposes of an introduction.

SENATOR SKOUFIS: Thank you very much, Mr. President, and my colleagues, for a moment.

If you're wondering why there's so much energy emanating from the gallery up in the wings up there, it's because we have valedictorians and salutatorians from 14 high schools in Orange County, and lots of brain power up in the wings of the gallery.

This has become something of an annual tradition here in the Senate for the 42nd Senate District. And I'm really thrilled to welcome some of the best and the brightest from Orange County to this chamber, not just for some of the proceedings today but for most of today and this afternoon through a variety of events and activities.

Before I get to them, I also want to acknowledge the parents and faculty, some of whom are here, some who are back in Orange County. Certainly the achievements of these incredible students are in part a result of the sacrifice and the dedication of the adults that have supported them throughout the four years -- and even beyond -- during their time in high school, whether it's helping with homework or bringing them to and from activities at the school or just the day-to-day challenges of being successful as a student here in New York State.

And certainly to become a valedictorian or salutatorian is an incredible achievement. For some of them we're talking about upwards of 1500, 2,000 peers that are in a high school at a time. But regardless of their class size, to be one or two as they graduate and move on to -- whether it's the military or college or taking some time to themselves before moving on to other activities -- it's an astounding achievement that ought to be recognized.

And so I will quickly get through the list here if my colleagues could bear with me as I acknowledge these incredible students.

From Monroe-Woodbury High School, my alma mater, we have Julia Landres and Diya Mangatt.

We have, from Cornwall Central High School, Sebastian Castro and Matthieu Schaal.

From Middletown, we have Kaitlyn Eisentraut and Lily Lerouge.

From Orange-Ulster BOCES, we have Emma Pollock.

From Minisink Valley High School we have two valedictorians, co-valedictorians, as well as a salutatorian. We have Sophia Solimando, Ethan Hidalgo, and Olivia Loeven.

From Washingtonville High School, Gavin Chaing and Kiera Calovic.

From Goshen we have Thomas Tedeschi and Norah Staunton.

From Pine Bush, Saige Valentino and Angela Hilgenfeldt.

From George F. Baker High School we have Reginald Juance and Jake Sandak.

From Burke Catholic High School we have Madeline Coley.

From Port Jervis, Katarina Navarro.

SS Steward, Derrick You.

James I. O'Neill High School, Anna Bellocchio and Nora Nowicki.

And on behalf of Senator Rolison and myself, from Newburgh Free Academy, we have Sara Hyun and Anakin Landolfa.

I also want to thank Nicole Clarke, from my office, for organizing today's activities.

But most importantly, if you could bestow congratulations and the privileges of the chamber, Mr. President, to these incredible young students, future leaders, for all their success and wish them continued success.

Thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: To the best and the brightest and their support systems, we welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We congratulate you and extend to you all of the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please rise and be recognized.

(Standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Mr. President, as we are continuing to move through resolutions, I'm simultaneously going to call a meeting of the Rules Committee in Room 332 immediately.

And let's take up previously adopted Resolution 2462, by Senator Ramos, read its title and recognize Senator Ramos.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: There will be an immediate meeting of the Rules Committee in Room 332.

The Secretary will read the resolution.

THE SECRETARY: Resolution 2462, by Senator Ramos, mourning the death of Cecilia Gentili, successful advocate, talented actress, and cherished community member.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Ramos on the resolution.

SENATOR RAMOS: Thank you, Mr. President.

I rise today to honor a local hero --

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: A little order, please.

Senator Ramos.

SENATOR RAMOS: Thank you, Mr. President.

I rise today to recognize a local hero and a deeply loved and departed friend, Cecilia Gentili.

I wish I could tell you about the first time I met Cecilia. I don't remember the day or the circumstance. I was young and impressionable, and she was immediately a light in my life. She was so fabulous and fearless. And when I won elected office in 2018, I knew I wanted her to MC my inauguration.

Throughout her life, Cecilia fought hard against poverty, bigotry, and ignorance with a sharp wit and an incredible sense of humor. She had an aura that invited people in and made us feel safe.

I think she would have loved the spectacular display at her funeral -- the fashion, the music, the glamour and the intrigue.

She refused to let anyone forget that trans people are our neighbors. She sued the federal government to ensure the Affordable care Act included essential healthcare for trans people. She was instrumental in this body's passing GENDA, and was relentless about creating safety for her loved ones wherever transphobia and anti-immigrant sentiments reared their ugly heads.

In a 2021 op-ed in the New York Times titled "What Republicans Can Learn From My Grandmother," Cecilia left us with a message that so neatly defines the compassion and what solidarity looks like in action: "Invite us to your table, and it will grow to fit us all."

The loss of Cecilia leaves an empty chair at the table. Cecilia was a hero and mother figure to so many people from all corners of the world. Her leadership will live on through the people she mentored and mothered, who will take her seat at the table and continue to make room for others.

Mr. President, today we are joined by Cecilia's husband, Peter Scotto, and close family friend Elizabeth Rivera. Thank you so much for being here and helping us honor Cecilia and her amazing legacy.

Thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator Ramos.

Senator Hoylman-Sigal on the resolution.

SENATOR HOYLMAN-SIGAL: I want to thank my terrific colleague Senator Ramos, who represented Cecilia in her Senate district.

I had a longstanding relationship with Cecilia over the years which really came to fruition in 2019 when the Senate Democratic majority came into its own and we finally passed the Gender Expression Non-Discrimination Act, the bill that finally, after decades of being blocked, granted human rights protections to New York transgender residents and anyone who comes to New York State.

That was so crucial. But it was only the first thing we did in conjunction with Cecilia, whether it was our bill last year to make New York State a safe haven for transgender youth and their families and their physicians, seeking gender-affirming care, or banning what was a crazed practice in our criminal justice system that allowed the fact that your victim was transgender to be a defense to murder.

Cecilia was in the forefront of all of those changes. And I'm very sad, shocked and bereft at her loss, the loss to her family and to the wider trans and LGBTQIA community, but to all New Yorkers who care about human rights and equality.

I vote aye. Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Brisport on the resolution.

SENATOR BRISPORT: Thank you, Mr. President.

I want to thank my colleagues and thank Senator Ramos for bringing this resolution to the floor.

Cecilia was just a beacon of light and a ray of hope for so many people in the community -- trans, sex workers, people living with HIV and AIDS. It is definitely our loss.

But though her specific candle may not be burning right now, she ignited so many others in the movement that we get to have the opportunity to carry the torch in her name.

And I vote aye. Thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: To our guests, we offer our condolences and we welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We extend to you all of the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please rise and be recognized.

(Standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The resolution was previously adopted on May 21st.

Senator Serrano.

SENATOR SERRANO: Thank you, Mr. President.

Let's take up previously adopted Resolution 2267, by Senator Rolison, please read that title only, and call on Senator Rolison.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The Secretary will read.

THE SECRETARY: Resolution 2267, by Senator Rolison, congratulating the City of Poughkeepsie upon the occasion of hosting the 17th Annual Guelaguetza Festival on August 4,

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Rolison on the resolution.

SENATOR ROLISON: Mr. President, I rise today with enthusiasm and respect and being very proud of my friends who are here in the gallery, my friend who is sitting over here next to the dais, and that is Carlos Gerardo Izzo. He is the Consul of Political and Public Affairs of the Mexican Consulate in New York City.

He is here today for another colleague and friend, the Consul General of Mexico in New York, Jorge Islas López, who happens to be in Mexico right now because they are getting ready for a national election on Sunday.

And we're honoring these individuals today, and so many more of the Oaxacan population in the City of Poughkeepsie on the 17th annual -- we're getting ready for it -- La Guelaguetza Festival in the City of Poughkeepsie, which is one of the largest La Guelaguetza festivals outside of Oaxaca.

Where for 17 years, thousands -- and when I say thousands, I mean thousands of individuals come to Waryas Park in the City of Poughkeepsie on that Sunday to celebrate La Guelaguetza. Which is a colorful, wonderful, musical day of events that everybody should come to. And I am inviting you to the City of Poughkeepsie on the 17th to be part of this.

And for me, as a new mayor in 2016, and wanting to get to know everyone in the City of Poughkeepsie -- because you think you know everyone, and you don't -- I reached out to friends who reached out to me, and we formed this committee, made up of individuals who helped me know more about Oaxaca and how the influence of Oaxaca in the City of Poughkeepsie is large, both from businesses small and large, and then knowing about the festival.

And this festival takes place in Oaxaca at the end of July, and it is an annual celebration that brings family, friends and communities together to celebrate, to dance, and enjoy the colorful traditions of Oaxaca.

And the local Oaxacan community began the festival now in its 17th year for the reason to strengthen the cultural and community bonds that existed in the City of Poughkeepsie that were only strengthened by this festival.

Now, La Guelaguetza -- Guelaguetza is a word from the Indigenous Zapotec language that means "sharing of mutual gifts." The spirit of Poughkeepsie's festival, where more than 100 artists, dancers, food vendors, singers, they present the culture and the traditions of eight regions in the State of Oaxaca. And it highlights the typical dances, the music of all the different towns, the flavors and the majestic colors that everyone wears that represents each individual state.

And this binational celebration of groups, presenters and teachers, coming specifically from Oaxaca -- and I had the honor to sign letters saying, please come to the City of Poughkeepsie, please come for this annual celebration. And they would come from Mexico and participate.

And also, too, what we did -- and I'm very proud of this -- at the urging of my friends from the Oaxacan community, is we have a friendship agreement between the City of Oaxaca and the City of Poughkeepsie. And when we did that and we corresponded with their government to get that done, individuals in the City of Poughkeepsie, not just from Oaxaca but from all over the region, said, You know what? Poughkeepsie is a welcoming city. I'm very proud of that.

And this would not have been done without you, without you and your team at the consulate, which I visited on several occasions. You have the Consul on Wheels, which comes to different cities within the Hudson Valley region to help individuals from Mexico get identification, making sure they have the proper paperwork, because it's not all the time that they do. And we admire that, and we encourage that.

So again, today, Mr. President, as a legislative body I know we recognize these individuals, these organizations and these festivals and really the beauty of Oaxaca is in the City of Poughkeepsie all the time. But on August 17th, the beauty, the culture, the richness and the togetherness of Oaxaca is on full display in the City of Poughkeepsie.

And, Mr. President, I'll close with this. If you would give the courtesies of this house to our guests and to our friend, it would be much appreciated. And I proudly vote aye.

Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator Rolison.

To our guests, I welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We extend to you all of the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please remain standing and be recognized.

(Standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The resolution was previously adopted on May 7th.

Senator Serrano.

SENATOR SERRANO: Thank you, Mr. President.

Let's take up previously adopted Resolution 2530, by Senator Chu, please read that resolution title only, and call on Senator Chu.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The Secretary will read.

THE SECRETARY: Resolution 2530, by Senator Chu, commemorating the observance of the 525th Anniversary of the establishment of Taishan on February 12, 2024.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Chu on the resolution.

SENATOR CHU: Thank you, Mr. President, for allowing me to speak on this resolution.

Today I rise to speak on this important milestone for our Taishanese American community, the 525th anniversary of Taishan's establishment.

Since the arrival of the first Taishanese immigrants in the United States in 1821, their 203 years of legacy of resilience and determination has left an enduring mark on the nation's cultural landscape. From their pivotal role in building the transcontinental railroad to their courageous stance during significant labor strikes, the Taishanese American community has consistently played a vital role in shaping the trajectory of American history.

Many notable figures come from Taishanese descent. Trailblazers like Anna May Wong, a pioneering actress in the 1920s, advocated for greater representation of Asian-Americans in the film and television industries. The Anna May Wong quarter coin, which was released in October 2022, honors her groundbreaking role in Hollywood, making the first time an Asian American has been featured on U.S. currency. Her work continues to inspire actors and filmmakers today.

Grace Lee Boggs, an author and social activist, was on the front lines of the development of Asian American movement from the 1949s to the '60s.

And Corky Lee, an admired activist, community organizer, and legendary photographer whose photos highlight Chinese-American participation in the construction of the transcontinental railroad. His work not only brought awareness to the lack of social justice surrounding the AAPI community, but visually presented a retelling of AAPI history through the lenses of the everyday Asian American.

Today we are joined by 50 Taishanese-Americans from my district. Please allow me to say a few words in Chinese and Taishanese to welcome them.

{In Chinese and Taishanese.}

SENATOR CHU: Mr. President, if I may, please extend them the courtesies and privileges of the floor.

Thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator Chu.

To our guests, I welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We extend to you all the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please rise and be recognized.

(Standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The resolution was previously adopted on May 21st.

Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Please recognize Senator Hinchey for an introduction.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Hinchey for the purposes of an introduction.

SENATOR HINCHEY: Thank you, Mr. President.

Every once in a while a New Yorker emerges who is a larger-than-life figure, someone who redefines what it means to be a visionary. Today I rise to honor the incredible life of Joan Kaplan Davidson, a pioneering preservationist, a tireless advocate for the arts, and a champion of environmental progress in the Hudson River Valley and across the Empire State.

Joan made a lifetime out of giving, among the most beautiful ways one can choose to live. She has been called unstintingly generous to the causes dear to her, and that unparalleled generosity has earned her the title of "the godmother of New York preservation."

Many may know Joan as the former president and president emeritus of the J.M. Kaplan Fund or her work as the past chairwoman of the New York State Council on the Arts, as well as the former commissioner of New York State Parks. Some others may just know her as a legend. A few of her lasting achievements include her role in helping create the Environmental Protection Fund in the 1993 and the Westbeth Artists Housing, her fight to preserve Broadway theaters in the 1970s and early '80s, and her support of the rescue and restoration of the Eldridge Street Synagogue on the Lower East Side.

Arguably Joan's greatest impact was her ability to believe in the grassroots ideas of New Yorkers and support movements that have led to some of the most transformative local-level changes our communities have seen. Joan was always there to lend a hand to activists, identify problems, envision solutions, and provide early funding to spark meaningful initiatives. The term philanthropist doesn't even begin to scratch the surface of Joan's legacy.

In the Hudson River Valley Joan was a luminary. Her unwavering support for our region and her passion for uniting people from all walks of life around common causes are gifts that we will forever cherish. I grew up regaled with incredible stories of Joan Davidson from my father, who worked tirelessly in partnership with Joan to protect our environment and the Hudson River Valley.

She was a fierce advocate for the Hudson River, and when my dad chaired the Assembly's Environmental Conservation Committee, Joan was part of the coalition who was dedicated to safeguarding the Hudson River, one of the most important and institutional natural resources that we have not just in New York State, but across the country.

Joan helped grow the historic and environmental preservation movements at a time when they were still finding their feet. She wielded her influence to support legal actions against developers and stood firmly on the side of communities battling corporate giants like Con Edison when the future of the Hudson River was at stake.

In 1963 when Con Edison planned to develop a portion of Storm King Mountain, endangering forestland and Hudson River ecology, Joan's support was crucial to protecting the scenic waterway from industrialization. This grassroots fight eventually led to the creation of organizations like Scenic Hudson and the National Resources Defense Council, or NRDC, which helped awaken the local need for public input in environmental policies.

Over the years Joan spent considerable time in Germantown, in Columbia County, stewarding her family's 19th-century estate on the Hudson River known as Midwood. This estate has become a local epicenter of cultural, social and political discourse and activism in the region, hosting gatherings large and small throughout the year.

In an interview with Chronogram Magazine, Joan once said about Midwood: "This house, with its Hudson River painters' settings, has given me a fine community of friends and neighbors and a lively cultural scene. It also confirms the causes of our family foundation and our Hudson Valley project: Clean air, clean water, protected lands, dense and interesting towns, equal justice for all."

New York will always remember Joan Kaplan Davidson for her boundless curiosity, for her creativity, and for her unwavering support of the people and places that give the Empire State its heart and soul. This past Sunday, May 26th, would have been Joan's 97th birthday. Tomorrow we'll be passing a resolution in her honor, but today it is my great pleasure to welcome several of her family members to the Senate chamber.

Joining us today are Joan's children Matt and Betsy Davidson and Betsy's husband, Peter Wolf, and Joan's granddaughter, Emma Davidson Tribbs and her husband Stu Davidson Tribbs.

I thank them for sharing Joan with us, for allowing us to see her incredible, vibrant personality and having her dedication help our future here in our state.

Mr. President, please welcome Joan's family to the chamber.

Thank you very much.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: To the family of Ms. Davidson, we offer our condolences and celebrate her life and welcome you on behalf of the Senate. We extend to you all the privileges and courtesies of this house.

Please rise and be recognized.

(Standing ovation.)

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Mr. President, let's take up previously adopted Resolution 1641, by Senator Persaud, read that resolution's title, and recognize Senator Webb on that resolution.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The Secretary will read.

THE SECRETARY: Resolution 1641, by Senator Persaud, memorializing Governor Kathy Hochul to proclaim May 20-28, 2024, as Period Poverty Awareness Week in the State of

New York.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Webb on the resolution.

(Pause.)

SENATOR WEBB: All right. Well, I guess it is me (laughing).

I want to thank Senator Persaud, Mr. President, for continuing to lift up this important awareness day.

Earlier today Senator Persaud hosted a webinar on this important issue that we commemorate today, and that is the issue of period poverty.

This is something that continues to be pervasive in a state such as ours here in New York. As the chair of Women's Issues, we have passed several bills through our committee as it pertains to addressing issues around access to menstrual hygiene products.

Being able to say things like "period" on a chamber floor is something that 10, 15, 20 years ago or more you wouldn't have been able to say. But it is an exemplification of why it's important to lift up this important issue.

Just to share some stats. In

New York State, one in six women and girls between the ages of 12 and 44 lives below the federal poverty line, and the cost of menstrual products, which may seem trivial to some, create real barriers for low-income individuals.

In the U.S., one in three low-income women miss work, school and outings due to lack of period supplies.

Menstrual products are most certainly not covered by public assistance programs. Fifteen percent of New York State Medicaid recipients are women of reproductive age, and 46 percent of all births in New York State are to mothers receiving Medicaid benefits.

And so what can we do as a state? Well, we're doing quite a bit. However, we can and should do more.

One of the ways in which we are doing this is trying to raise awareness through education. Also through policy, in expanding access to menstrual hygiene products. We have bills from several of our colleagues on the floor that have been introduced and passed to make menstrual hygiene products more accessible, making them free to all those individuals who experience menstruation, which that's half of the world's population.

And so again, I want to thank Senator Persaud and all of our colleagues for continuing to work on this important issue that impacts so many individuals across our great state.

I encourage my colleagues to vote aye and, more importantly, to commit to not only policies but also practices that help to remove barriers and also remove the stigma associated with this issue.

Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Thank you, Senator Webb.

Senator Gianaris.

SENATOR GIANARIS: Mr. President, the sponsors of the various resolutions we took up today would like to open them for cosponsorship.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: The resolutions are open for cosponsorship. Should you choose not to be a cosponsor, please notify the desk.

SENATOR WEIK: Thank you, Mr. President.

March 21st is World Down Syndrome Day, as declared by the United Nations General Assembly in December of 2011. On this day people with Down Syndrome and those who live and work with them throughout the world organize and participate in activities and events to raise public awareness and create a single global voice advocating for the rights, inclusion and well-being of people with Down syndrome.

Down syndrome is a condition in which a person has extra chromosome. Chromosomes are small packages of genes in the body. They determine how a baby's body forms and functions as it grows during pregnancy and after birth. Typically a baby is born with 46 chromosomes. Babies with Down syndrome have an extra copy of one of these chromosomes, chromosome 21.

Why March 21st? The 21st day of the third month was selected to signify the uniqueness of the triplication of the 21st chromosome, which causes Down syndrome.

So in 2021, ironically, I was approached by a young lady, a hardworking intern in one of my colleagues' offices. Her name is Janissa Lloyd. And Janissa asked me if we could please here in New York State recognize Down Syndrome Awareness Day. So I created this bill in honor of Janissa Lloyd.

And sure enough, in 2022, I received a message from a constituent, and I wanted to share that with you today.

"Dear Senator Weik, I wanted to sincerely and wholeheartedly thank you for your time and effort and support in helping us pass legislation to designate March 21st as Down Syndrome Awareness Day in New York.

"As a New Yorker and an expectant mother to our fourth child, Noah James, who is likely to be born with Down syndrome later this summer, it gives my family such comfort and encouragement to see members of our state's leadership championing acknowledgement and awareness of Down syndrome. To know that there's positive strides in understanding and accepting this chromosomal condition makes the uncertain road ahead seem lighter and brighter for myself and for so many others.

"So thank you again on behalf of myself, my family, and your soon to be newest constituent Noah."

And in honor of Noah James, who took his first steps today -- I think because I had this bill come to the floor, he was so excited. Last year he shared this with us; he was in the gallery but was unable to come up this time. I just want to say Noah James Bryant and Janissa Lloyd, this one's for you.

And thank you very much.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Scarcella-Spanton to explain her vote.

SENATOR SCARCELLA-SPANTON: Thank you, Mr. President.

And thank you, Senator Sanders, for working on this crucial legislation to establish September 22nd as Veteran Suicide Awareness and Remembrance Day.

It is heartbreaking reality that around 6,000 veterans take their own lives each year in the United States, with our younger veterans experiencing exponentially higher suicide rates compared to their older counterparts.

Each day 22 veterans tragically take their own lives, underscoring the urgency of addressing this mental health crisis within the veteran community.

The commemoration is not just about remembering those veterans who have taken their own lives. It also serves as a call to action to acknowledge that so many of our veterans are struggling to this day. It's about lessening the stigma surrounding suicide, and providing support to every at-risk veteran here in New York.

September 22nd will remind us every year of how important it is to be there for our veterans just as they have been there for us.

As legislators, we owe it to all the brave men and women who have served our country to ensure they receive the care and attention needed to overcome their mental health struggles and thrive in civilian life.

Thank you again, Senator Sanders, for your dedication to this important cause. I proudly vote aye.

ACTING PRESIDENT BAILEY: Senator Rhoads to explain his vote.

SENATOR RHOADS: Thank you, Mr. President.

You know, this is another in a series of bills trying to tinker with the Election Law and the process by which elections are operated. It seems fairly innocuous at the outset, but the issue is that this could be liable for abuse, as many times this is.

Now all of a sudden, if we're going to -- instead of having local officials serve and local residents serve as poll watchers, now we are going to have attorneys throughout the state being dispatched as mercenaries to go into individual districts and look for election issues.

These individuals are going to be there not to uphold the law but to specifically look for problems and opportunities to challenge results in competitive districts.

We're doing this, however, while ignoring larger issues with the election like the fact that we don't have voter identification. And it's not that there's an absence of bills on voter I.D. I'm carrying one myself, S6139, which would actually provide to every registered voter, for free, voter identification. In fact, notaries, in filling out the application, also wouldn't be permitted to charge for notarizing when it's for the purpose of filing for voter identification.

The voter identification is required for virtually every aspect of what we have in our everyday lives. From renting a car to doing simple things like buying cold medicine, you need to show identification in order to be able to do that. To preserve and protect one of the most vital things -- particularly as we just celebrated Memorial Day -- one of the most vital things we can do as citizens, which is to actually go and exercise our right to vote -- many of the challenges that we see in elections stem directly from the failure of having voter identification available and able to be looked at, at the polls, by our poll watchers.

Our election process does not need more attorneys. It needs more common sense. I will be voting against this bill, and I would urge the Majority to take up reasonable commonsense voter identification legislation.

Thank you, Mr. President.
