REGULAR SESSION

SENATOR CRAIG JOHNSON, Acting President

ANGELO J. APONTE, Secretary

P R O C E E D I N G S

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: The Senate will please come to order.

I ask everyone present to rise and recite with me the Pledge of Allegiance to our Flag.

(Whereupon, the assemblage recited the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.)

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Today's invocation will be provided by the Reverend Peter G. Young, of Mother Theresa Community here in Albany.

REVEREND YOUNG: Thank you, Senator. Let us pray.

As we share the priorities of the New York State budget in this time of difficulty, may we again proudly say we're happy to be the kind of New Yorkers that were the example of Van Buren, Fillmore, Arthur, Cleveland, Theodore and Franklin Roosevelt, all serving as presidents from here in our Empire State.

May we continue in the greatness of their dedicated public service to all of our citizens. May we follow in the rich tradition of the Senators that first met in Kingston five days after the Declaration of Independence.

You, O God, have provided our Senators with outstanding examples to inspire those in this Senate chamber for their committed service to all of our citizens. We ask You to bless them in Your name, now and forever.

Amen.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you, Reverend.

"RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution, suitably engrossed, be transmitted to The Reverend Dr. W. Franklyn Richardson."

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Senator Hassell-Thompson.

SENATOR HASSELL-THOMPSON: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

At the time that I asked to speak on the resolution, I wasn't sure that it was going to be read in its entirety. So there's very little that I need to add, except to say that the leadership of Dr. Franklyn Richardson goes way beyond the walls of his churches, as this resolution dictates.

But it also does not include the work that he has done to break the silence around HIV and AIDS. And he has been one of the forward ministers of the National Baptist Convention who has made the world AIDS problem one of the top issues for the National Baptist Convention, because people were not prepared to put the proper face on who has AIDS in this country.

And so that I want to just commend Dr. Richardson for his committed and focused dedication to the people not only of the community of Mt. Vernon, but to the State of New York and to this country, for the work that he has done and the leadership that he has provided, both spiritual, ecumenically, and certainly as a builder and developer who recognizes the need for poor and not-so-poor people to have more than adequate housing in which to live.

So I thank you, Mr. President, and I certainly would like to invite all members who are present who wish to sign onto this resolution, and I will be more than happy to carry this forth at the celebration of the anniversary.

And I thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you very much, Senator Hassell-Thompson.

Senator Stewart-Cousins.

SENATOR STEWART-COUSINS: Thank you, Mr. President.

I rise to commend my colleague Senator Hassell-Thompson for bringing this resolution forth and, as a member of the extended family of Reverend Dr. Richardson, to just commend him also on his 35 years of being, I believe, a preacher's preacher.

But as Senator Hassell-Thompson said, his interests go far, far beyond the walls of the church, the City of Mt. Vernon, the county. He has a national focus.

But he is someone who thinks globally and always acts locally. Whether it's human rights or civil rights or whether it's just being there to offer the quiet spiritual counseling from someone who is more than willing to be available to whatever shoulder is needed at any point in time, Reverend Richardson is there.

So I do want to say 35 years, I would never have thought he'd serve this long -- but he is becoming more and more influential, powerful, and respected.

So thank you very much.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you very much, Senator Stewart-Cousins.

Senator Oppenheimer.

SENATOR OPPENHEIMER: Well, we seem to be the fan club of Reverend Richardson.

A lot has been said about him, and I was going to comment on his passion for social justice and how he has been a leader nationwide in that arena.

But on a more personal note, I would say that I have been in his church when he has delivered some of the most astonishingly beautiful sermons, that you would think he was a great literary scholar. Which he probably is. But the beauty of his sermons and the way they are structured, with a beginning, a middle, and an end which relates back to the beginning, they are really wonderful examples of literary achievement.

So not only does he have a beautiful soul, and working hard to bring social justice, but he also is an extraordinary mind who has a gift for writing and preaching. And we thank him for that, and we thank him for 35 years of dedicated service, not just to the local community in Westchester but to the nation.

Thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you very much, Senator Oppenheimer.

SENATOR KLEIN: Mr. President, at this time I move we take up Senate Resolution Number 4542, by Senator Duane, and ask that the resolution be read in its entirety and move for its immediate adoption.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: The Secretary will read.

THE SECRETARY: By Senator Duane, Legislative Resolution Number 4542, endorsing the application to bring a space shuttle to the State of New York for permanent display for the benefit of the public.

"WHEREAS, The NASA space shuttle program has been in operation since 1981; and

"WHEREAS, The space shuttle program represents the most successful continued space program in the history of space exploration; and

"WHEREAS, The successes of the space shuttle program have benefited our nation and its interests and our entire world in advancing scientific discovery; and

"WHEREAS, The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has announced that the fleet of space shuttle orbiters will be permanently retired within the next one to two years; and

"WHEREAS, Institutions around the United States who are interested in permanently displaying a space shuttle to the public have been invited to submit applications to NASA; and

"WHEREAS, The Intrepid Sea, Air and Space Museum in New York has submitted such an application in pursuit of bringing a space shuttle to this great Empire State, and permanently displaying it for the benefit of the general public; and

"WHEREAS, The State of New York is an ideal location to display a shuttle for the benefit of the general public, due to the significant size of the local population, the tens of millions of tourists who visit every year, and the high concentration of educational and cultural institutions that would benefit from the exposition of a shuttle in New York, as well as numerous other reasons; now, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED, That this Legislative Body pause in its deliberations to hereby endorse the application to bring a space shuttle to the State of New York for permanent display, and to encourage all New Yorkers to support this effort; and be it further

"RESOLVED, That copies of this resolution, suitably engrossed, be transmitted to the Intrepid Sea, Air and Space Museum in New York and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration."

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Senator Duane.

SENATOR DUANE: Thank you, Mr. President.

As we know, the space shuttle program has only three missions left, and then the program is going to be disbanded and the shuttles will be mothballed. And in July, NASA is expected to decide, as a result of a nationwide competition, a permanent home for the shuttles the Endeavor, the Atlantis, and Discovery.

Now, the Intrepid, which is moored on the West Side of Manhattan now permanently, played a key role during NASA's early years. It was the primary recovery vessel for astronauts and space capsules when they splashed into the water after the Mercury and Gemini space missions. And the Intrepid is a very important tourist economic engine for the state. It brings in over a million visitors per year.

And I would be very pleased and proud if my colleagues would join me in urging NASA to bring home one of the three of the shuttles and give it a permanent home in our state at Pier 86 on Manhattan's West Side.

And so, Mr. President, I urge everyone to vote in favor. But if I may even anticipate a favorable response, I also would welcome everyone to sign onto the resolution, and I would like it to be open to everyone.

Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you, Senator Duane.

Are there any other Senators that wish to speak on the resolution?

The question is on the resolution. All those in favor please signify by saying aye.

(Response of "Aye.")

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Opposed, nay.

(No response.)

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: The resolution is adopted.

Senator Duane has indicated that he would like to open this resolution up to the entire body for cosponsorship. Any Senator wishing not to be on the resolution please inform the desk.

Senator Klein.

SENATOR KLEIN: Mr. President, at this time can we take up Senate Resolution 4571, by Senator Adams. I ask that the title of the resolution be read and move for its immediate adoption.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: The Secretary will read.

THE SECRETARY: By Senator Adams, Legislative Resolution Number 4571, memorializing Governor David A. Paterson to proclaim April 2010 as Autism Awareness Month in the State of New York.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Senator Adams.

SENATOR ADAMS: Thank you, Mr. President.

This is an important month. This is Autism Awareness Month. And autism is one of the many illnesses that impacts children. And it just draws attention to the whole issue around children with special needs.

And I just want to make sure that we never forget that behind a child with special needs is a special parent, and that parent must ensure that that child has a countless number of hours of attention. And one of the highest levels of love and affection comes from a parent that shows the attention to a child with special needs.

Autism impacts over 17,000 students in New York City between the ages of 4 and 21. Boys are four times more likely to be impacted by autism, and one in every 58 boys will be diagnosed with autism. So we must ensure that we do all that we can to provide the needed services, provide the needed care.

I've always believed that the three areas of our society that we should give the greatest level of focus and attention during these budgetary moments is our seniors, our children, and our children with special needs.

And so I believe that by this being Autism Awareness Month, it gives us the opportunity to understand the importance of allocating the necessary resources, services and, more important, the necessary patience for those who are afflicted with autism.

Thank you, Mr. President.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you very much, Senator Adams.

Are there any other Senators that wish to be heard on this resolution?

Senator McDonald.

SENATOR McDONALD: Thank you, Mr. President.

I would like to thank everybody for this resolution. More importantly, I'd like to thank each and every member of the Senate and the Assembly -- each party, each house -- for their commitment to this issue. I have yet to speak to anybody who wasn't genuinely committed to it. And as it was spoken earlier, we're here for people more than anything else, and this is all about people.

Now, this is a special issue for me. That issue is I have two grandsons, brothers, that are both autistic. It changes your life. It changes your outlook on life. It's very, very important.

And as much as I like the resolution, I know that this year, next year, and unfortunately for years in the future we'll be dealing with this issue. Which means that we're going to have to talk about some very serious things -- supporting families, especially single-parent families, economic assistance, educational assistance, all kinds of therapy. And, when these folks grow up to be 21, supporting adult facilities, homes, jobs, whatever is needed.

The numbers are getting staggering. It's frightening. But I think this body, along with our colleagues in the Assembly and our Governor, I think all of us working as a team, we can do this. We can make our folks who have this problem in New York State, we can make their lives a little bit better, a little easier. And I think we can lead this whole country on this issue.

This will be an issue that we will be dealing with, no matter who we are in this chamber, for a long time. And quite frankly, I think everybody here is up to the task, and I'm proud to be part of that team.

Thank you.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Thank you, Senator McDonald.

Senator Volker.

SENATOR VOLKER: I just want to thank you for the resolution, everyone.

And my son -- who is an adolescent psychologist, has a professorship at SUNY Buffalo -- has been doing studies on autism for many years. In fact, he has had federal and state programs that he's been involved with -- and now that he's married a Chinese-Canadian wife, who also is a professor of psychology, the two of them are working on autism. And I frankly think that they're doing some great work at SUNY Buffalo.

But the biggest thing is that autism has become a cause that it was not before, because people just didn't realize the importance and the amount of it that there was.

So I want to thank everybody involved here, Eric and Roy, for the work that you're doing. I have a feeling that we're going to find out that this issue is only going to get bigger as the years went on. And what we're doing in this Legislature will become very, very historic, I believe.

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: The question is on the resolution. All those in favor please signify by saying aye.

(Response of "Aye.")

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: Opposed, nay.

(No response.)

ACTING PRESIDENT CRAIG JOHNSON: The resolution is adopted.

Senator Adams has indicated that he would like to open this resolution up to the entire body for cosponsorship. Any Senator wishing to not be on the resolution please inform the desk.

Senator Klein.

putting forth this bill.

This is a really important bill, and it is going to serve the purpose of allowing soup kitchens and places where they feed people in need to be able to accept many, many food donations from restaurants and other places that before this time were concerned about the liability issue of passing along the food that they had not used for the day to a soup kitchen or to a food pantry.

So thank you very much. I think it's a good step in New York State.
