a. A regional fish and wildlife management board shall be appointed in each of the regions established under subdivision 3 of this section. Such regional board shall consist of three members from each county within the region which has appointed its members. In each county, one member shall be a member of or represent the board of supervisors or county legislative body, one member shall represent the landowners of the county and one member shall represent the sportsmen of the county. Such members from each county shall be appointed by the chairman of the board of supervisors of such county with the approval of the board of supervisors, except that in a county having a county president, a county executive or other chief executive officer, the chief executive officer shall appoint the members representing such county with the approval of board of supervisors of such county. In a county having an elected legislative body the presiding officer shall appoint the members representing such county with the approval of the legislative body. If there is no presiding officer then the members representing such county shall be appointed by the legislative body as a whole. If a member of the board of supervisors or legislative body is not available to actively participate on the fish and wildlife management board, a representative shall be selected who is an elected county official or who is employed by the county government in a position having administrative or manageauthority. A landowner representative must actually reside upon lands within the county and actually be engaged in the operation of such lands for production of agricultural commodities or forest products. If a landowner representative with such qualifications is not 7 available to actively participate on the fish and wildlife management 8 board, a representative may be appointed who has been for at least five 9 of the past ten years, before commencing his first term in any series of 10 consecutive terms, engaged in such operation of rural lands, 11 resides within the county he represents. If no landowner representative with either of these qualifications is available to actively participate 12 on the fish and wildlife management board a representative may be 13 14 appointed who is a resource manager engaged in such operations on rural 15 lands, and designated by the corporate owner of those lands to represent 16 the landowner's agricultural or silvicultural interests. In the case of 17 certain counties designated by the full state board with a scarcity of 18 rural lands operated for production of agricultural commodities or 19 forest products, the landowner representative shall own such rural lands 20 in New York state, whether or not those properties lie within the county 21 wherein he resides and represents. A sportsman representative must be a 22 resident of the county. The said chief executive officer, presiding 23 officer or legislative body shall receive and consider for appointment as the landowner representative, the recommendations made by the county 24 25 bureau and Pomona grange, and for appointment as the sportsmen's representative, the recommendations made by the county units of 26 ized sportsmen's groups, AS WELL AS CONSIDERING THE ADVANTAGES OF NEW 27 REPRESENTATIVES. The term of office of regional board members shall 28 29 calendar years. A member shall be eligible [to succeed himself not 30 more than three times and shall thereafter be eligible for reappointment only after one term out of office] FOR REAPPOINTMENT TO SUCCESSIVE TERMS 31 32 OF OFFICE WHERE OTHERWISE QUALIFIED. The term of the sportsmen's repre-33 sentative and the board of supervisors or county legislative body representative shall expire at the end of the odd numbered years; the term of 34 the landowner representative shall expire at the end of the even 35 numbered years. An alternate board of supervisors or county legislative 36 37 body representative, sportsmen's representative and landowner represen-38 tative may also be appointed, who shall be available to serve in the 39 event of the temporary inability of the member sportsmen's represen-40 tative or member landowner representative or board of supervisors or county legislative body representative to so function. A vacancy in 41 membership of a regional board shall be filled in the same manner as the 42 43 original appointment for the balance of the unexpired term during which 44 the vacancy occurs; if a supervisor member or county legislative body member shall cease to be a supervisor or member of the legislative body before the expiration of his term as a member of the regional board, a 45 46 47 successor shall be appointed for the unexpired balance of the term as a 48 member of the regional board. The chairman of the Board of Directors of each soil and water conservation district and the chairman of each regional forest practice board within the fish and wildlife management 49 50 51 region, or his or their representatives, shall be advisory members with-52 out vote. 53
