IN ASSEMBLY

March 16, 2018

Introduced by M. of A. WALKER, LENTOL, ROZIC, RYAN, SEAWRIGHT, SEPULVEDA
-- read once and referred to the Committee on Codes

AN ACT to amend the criminal procedure law, in relation to the issuance of securing orders and in relation to making conforming changes

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subdivisions 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 of section 500.10 of the criminal procedure law are amended and a new subdivision 3-a is added to read as follows:

1. "Principal" means a defendant in a criminal action or proceeding, or a person adjudged a material witness therein, or any other person so involved therein that ~~he~~ the principal may by law be compelled to appear before a court for the purpose of having such court exercise control over ~~his~~ the principal's person to secure ~~his~~ the principal's future attendance at the action or proceeding when required, and who in fact either is before the court for such purpose or has been before it and been subjected to such control.

2. "Release on own recognizance." A court releases a principal on ~~his~~ the principal's own recognizance when, having acquired control over ~~his~~ the principal's person, it permits ~~him~~ the principal to be at liberty during the pendency of the criminal action or proceeding involved upon condition that ~~he~~ the principal will appear thereat whenever ~~his~~ the principal's attendance may be required and will at all times render ~~himself~~ the principal amenable to the orders and processes of the court.

3-a. "Release under non-monetary conditions." A court releases a principal under non-monetary conditions when, having acquired control over a person, it authorizes the person to be at liberty during the pendency of the criminal action or proceeding involved under conditions ordered by the court, which shall be the least restrictive conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court. Such conditions may include, among other conditions reasonable under the circumstances: that the principal be in contact with a pretrial services agency serving principals in that county; that the principal abide by reasonable, specified restrictions on travel that are reasonably related to an actual risk of intentional flight from the jurisdiction; that the principal refrain from possessing a firearm, destructive device or other dangerous weapon; that, when it is shown pursuant to subdivision four of section 510.45 of this title that no other realistic monetary condition or set of non-monetary conditions will suffice to reasonably assure the person's return to court, the person be placed in reasonable pretrial supervision with a pretrial services agency serving principals in that county; that, when it is shown pursuant to paragraph (a) of subdivision four of section 510.40 of this title that no other realistic non-monetary condition or set of non-monetary conditions will suffice to reasonably assure the principal's return to court, the principal's location be monitored with an approved electronic monitoring device, in accordance with such subdivision four of section 510.40 of this title. A principal shall not be required to pay for any part of the cost of release on non-monetary conditions.

4. "Commit to the custody of the sheriff." A court commits a principal to the custody of the sheriff when, having acquired control over ~~his~~ the principal's person, it orders that ~~he~~ the principal be confined in the custody of the sheriff during the pendency of the criminal action or proceeding involved.

5. "Securing order" means an order of a court committing a principal to the custody of the sheriff~~]~~ or fixing bail, where authorized, or releasing ~~him on his~~ the principal on the principal's own recognizance or releasing the principal under non-monetary conditions.

6. "Order of recognizance or bail" means a securing order releasing a principal on ~~his~~ the principal's own recognizance or under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, fixing bail.

7. "Application for recognizance or bail" means an application by a principal that the court, instead of committing ~~him~~ the principal to or retaining ~~him~~ the principal in the custody of the sheriff, either release ~~him on his own~~ the principal on the principal's own recognizance ~~or~~, release under non-monetary conditions, or, where authorized, fix bail.

8. "Post bail" means to deposit bail in the amount and form fixed by the court, with the court or with some other authorized public servant or agency.

9. "Bail" means cash bail ~~or~~, a bail bond or money paid with a credit card.

§ 1-a. Section 500.10 of the criminal procedure law is amended by adding two new subdivisions 21 and 22 to read as follows:

21. "Qualifies for electronic monitoring," for purposes of subdivision four of section 510.40 of this title, means a person charged with a felony, a misdemeanor crime of domestic violence, a misdemeanor defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law, a crime and the circumstances of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section 530.60 of this title apply, or any misdemeanor where the defendant stands previously convicted, within the past five years, of a violent felony offense as defined in section 70.02 of the penal law. For the purposes of this subdivision, in calculating such five year period, any period of time during which the defendant was incarcerated for any reason between the time of the commission of any such previous crime and the time of commission of the present crime shall be excluded and such five year period shall be extended by a period or periods equal to the time served under such incarceration.

22. "Misdemeanor crime of domestic violence," for purposes of subdivision twenty-one of this section, means a misdemeanor under the penal law provisions and circumstances described in subdivision one of section 530.11 of this title.

§ 2. Section 510.10 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 459 of the laws of 1984, is amended to read as follows:

§ 510.10 Securing order; when required; alternatives available; standard to be applied.

1. When a principal, whose future court attendance at a criminal action or proceeding is or may be required, [~~initially~~] comes under the control of a court, such court [~~must~~] shall, in accordance with this title, by a securing order[~~, either~~] release [~~him~~] the principal on [~~his~~] the principal's own recognizance, release the principal under non-monetary conditions, or, where authorized, fix bail or commit [~~him~~] the principal to the custody of the sheriff. In all such cases, except where another type of securing order is shown to be required by law, the court shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own recognizance, unless it is demonstrated and the court makes an individualized determination that the principal is a significant risk of intentional flight to avoid prosecution. If such a finding is made, the court must select the least restrictive alternative and condition or conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court.

2. A principal is entitled to representation by counsel under this chapter in preparing an application for release, when a securing order is being considered and when a securing order is being reviewed for modification, revocation or termination. If the principal is financially unable to obtain counsel, counsel shall be assigned to the principal.

3. In cases where the most serious offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case before the court or a pending case is an offense that is not a class A felony defined in the penal law or a felony enumerated in section 70.02 of the penal law (other than burglary in the second degree as defined in subdivision two of section 140.25 of the penal law or robbery in the second degree as defined in subdivision one of section 160.10 of such law or reporting a false incident in the second degree as defined in section 240.55 of such law) or a misdemeanor defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law, the court shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own recognizance, unless the court finds on the record or in writing that release on the principal's own recognizance will not reasonably assure the principal's return to court. In such instances, the court shall release the principal under non-monetary conditions, selecting the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court. The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in writing.

4. Except as provided in subdivision five of this section, in cases where an offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case before the court or a pending case is a felony enumerated in section 70.02 of the penal law (except burglary in the second degree as defined in subdivision two of section 140.25 of the penal law or robbery in the second degree as defined in subdivision one of section 160.10 of such law or reporting a false incident in the second degree as defined in section 240.55 of such law) or a misdemeanor defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law, the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law, shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own recognizance or under non-monetary conditions, or fix bail. In such instances, the court shall select the least restrictive alternative and

1 conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court.
2 The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the 3 record or in writing.

4 5. In cases where an offense with which the defendant stands charged
5 in the case before the court or a pending case is a felony sex offense
6 as defined in section 70.80 of the penal law, a felony terrorism offense
7 under section 490.10, 490.15, 490.30, 490.35, 490.37, 490.40, 490.45,
8 490.47, 490.50 or 490.55 of the penal law, a class A felony offense
9 defined in the penal law, a felony offense of witness intimidation under 10 section 215.15, 215.16, or 215.17 of the penal law, a felony offense
11 where a required element thereof is an intent to cause serious physical 12 injury or death to another person and causing such injury or death to 13 such person or a third person, or a felony for when the defendant would 14 be eligible for sentencing under section 70.08 of the penal law, the 15 court, unless otherwise prohibited by law, shall release the principal 16 pending trial under non-monetary conditions, or fix bail, or commit the 17 principal to the custody of the sheriff. In such instances, the court 18 shall select the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will 19 reasonably assure the principal's return to court. The court shall 20 explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in 21 writing.

22 6. When a securing order is revoked or otherwise terminated in the 23 course of an uncompleted action or proceeding but the principal's future 24 court attendance still is or may be required and [he] the principal is 25 still under the control of a court, a new securing order must be issued.
26 When the court revokes or otherwise terminates a securing order which 27 committed the principal to the custody of the sheriff, the court shall 28 give written notification to the sheriff of such revocation or termi-29 nation of the securing order.

30 § 3. Section 510.20 of the criminal procedure law is amended to read 31 as follows:

32 § 510.20 Application for [~~recognizance or bail; making and determi-~~ 33 ~~nation thereof in general~~] a change in securing order.

34 1. Upon any occasion when a court [~~is required to issue~~] has issued a 35 securing order with respect to a principal[, ~~or at any time when a~~] and 36 the principal is confined in the custody of the sheriff as a result of 37 the securing order or a previously issued securing order, [he] the prin-38 cipal may make an application for recognizance, release under non-mone-39 tary conditions or bail.

40 2. (a) The principal is entitled to representation by counsel in the 41 making and presentation of such application. If the principal is finan-42 cially unable to obtain counsel, counsel shall be assigned to the prin-43 cipal.

44 (b) Upon such application, the principal must be accorded an opportu-45 nity to be heard, present evidence and to contend that an order of 46 recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, where author-47 ized, bail must or should issue, that the court should release [him-on 48 his] the principal on the principal's own recognizance or under non-mon-49 etary conditions rather than fix bail, and that if bail is authorized 50 and fixed it should be in a suggested amount and form.

51 § 4. The criminal procedure law is amended by adding a new section
52 510.25 to read as follows:

53 § 510.25 Rehearing after five days in custody.

54 In addition to any other available pre-conviction motion or procedure, 55 a principal for whom bail is authorized and was fixed, or who was 56 remanded to the custody of the sheriff but is legally eligible for

1 release, and who is in custody five days thereafter shall be brought 2 before the court the next business day for a rehearing on the securing 3 order. The court shall consider the matter in accordance with section 4 510.10 of this article, de novo, including the principal's individual 5 financial circumstances, hear from the defense and, if they so desire, 6 the people, consider relevant testimony and cross-examination presented, 7 consider any relevant, admissible evidence not legally privileged, and 8 order a new securing order in accordance with the principles and proce-9 dures in this article. This process shall continue with additional 10 rehearings, held promptly on reasonable written request of defense coun-11 sel, made on notice to the people.

12 § 5. Section 510.30 of the criminal procedure law, subparagraph (v) of 13 paragraph (a) of subdivision 2 as amended by chapter 920 of the laws of 14 1982, subparagraph (vi) of paragraph (a) of subdivision 2 as renumbered 15 by chapter 447 of the laws of 1977, subparagraph (vii) as added and 16 subparagraphs (viii) and (ix) of paragraph (a) of subdivision 2 as 17 renumbered by section 1 of part D of chapter 491 of the laws of 2012, 18 and subdivision 3 as added by chapter 788 of the laws of 1981, is 19 amended to read as follows:

20 § 510.30 Application for [~~recognizance or bail~~] securing order; rules of 21 law and criteria controlling determination.

22 1. [~~Determinations of applications for recognizance or bail are not in~~ 23 ~~all cases discretionary but are subject to rules, prescribed in article~~ 24 ~~five hundred thirty and other provisions of law relating to specific~~ 25 ~~kinds of criminal actions and proceedings, providing (a) that in some~~ 26 ~~circumstances such an application must as a matter of law be granted,~~ 27 ~~(b) that in others it must as a matter of law be denied and the princi-~~ 28 ~~pal committed to or retained in the custody of the sheriff, and (c) that~~ 29 ~~in others the granting or denial thereof is a matter of judicial~~ 30 ~~discretion.~~

31 2. ~~To the extent that the issuance of an order of recognizance or bail~~ 32 ~~and the terms thereof are matters of discretion rather than of law, an~~ 33 ~~application is determined on the basis of the following factors and~~ 34 ~~criteria:~~

35 (a)] With respect to any principal, the court in all cases, unless 36 otherwise provided by law, must [consider the] impose the least restric-37 tive kind and degree of control or restriction that is necessary to 38 secure [his court attendance] the principal's return to court when 39 required. In determining that matter, the court must, on the basis of 40 available information, consider and take into account[+

41 ~~(i) The principal's character, reputation, habits and mental condi-~~ 42 ~~tion;~~

43 ~~(ii) His employment and financial resources; and~~

44 ~~(iii) His family ties and the length of his residence if any in the~~ 45 ~~community; and~~

46 ~~(iv) His]~~ information about the principal that is relevant to the 47 principal's return to court, including:

48 (a) The principal's activities and history;

49 (b) If the principal is a defendant, the charges facing the principal;

50 (c) The principal's criminal conviction record if any provided that 51 the court must also consider and take into account the time that has 52 elapsed since the occurrence of such crime or crimes and the age of the 53 principal at the time of the occurrence of such crime or crimes; [and

54 ~~(v) His]~~ (d) The principal's record of previous adjudication as a 55 juvenile delinquent, as retained pursuant to section 354.2 of the family 56 court act, or, of pending cases where fingerprints are retained pursuant

1 to section 306.1 of such act, or a youthful offender, if any provided 2 that the court must also consider and take into account the time that 3 has elapsed since the occurrence of such delinquency or youthful offen-4 der conduct and the age of the principal at the time of such delinquency 5 or youthful offender conduct; [and

6 ~~(vi) His]~~ (e) The principal's previous record ~~[if any in responding to~~ 7 ~~court appearances when required or]~~ with respect to intentional flight 8 to avoid criminal prosecution; ~~[and~~

9 ~~(vii)]~~ (f) If monetary bail is authorized, according to the 10 restrictions set forth in this title, the principal's individual finan-11 cial circumstances;

12 (g) Where the principal is charged with a crime or crimes against a 13 member or members of the same family or household as that term is 14 defined in subdivision one of section 530.11 of this title, the follow-15 ing factors:

16 ~~[(A)]~~ (i) any violation by the principal of an order of protection 17 issued by any court for the protection of a member or members of the 18 same family or household as that term is defined in subdivision one of 19 section 530.11 of this title, whether or not such order of protection is 20 currently in effect; and

21 ~~[(B)]~~ (ii) the principal's history of use or possession of a firearm; 22 and

23 ~~[(viii)]~~ (h) If ~~[he]~~ the principal is a defendant, ~~[the weight of the~~ 24 ~~evidence against him in the pending criminal action and any other factor~~ 25 ~~indicating probability or improbability of conviction; or,~~ in the case 26 of an application for ~~[bail or recognizance]~~ a securing order pending 27 appeal, the merit or lack of merit of the appeal~~;~~ ~~and~~

28 ~~(ix) If he is a defendant, the sentence which may be or has been~~ 29 ~~imposed upon conviction].~~

30 ~~[(b)]~~ 2. Where the principal is a defendant-appellant in a pending 31 appeal from a judgment of conviction, the court must also consider the 32 likelihood of ultimate reversal of the judgment. A determination that 33 the appeal is palpably without merit alone justifies, but does not 34 require, a denial of the application, regardless of any determination 35 made with respect to the factors specified in ~~[paragraph (a)]~~ subdivi-36 sion one of this section.

37 3. When bail or recognizance is ordered, the court shall inform the 38 principal, if ~~[he]~~ the principal is a defendant charged with the commis-39 sion of a felony, that the release is conditional and that the court may 40 revoke the order of release and may be authorized to commit the princi-41 pal to the custody of the sheriff in accordance with the provisions of 42 subdivision two of section 530.60 of this chapter if ~~[he]~~ the principal 43 commits a subsequent felony while at liberty upon such order.

44 § 6. Section 510.40 of the criminal procedure law is amended to read
45 as follows:

46 § 510.40 ~~[Application for recognizance or bail; determination thereof,~~
47 ~~form of securing order and execution thereof]~~ Court notifi-48 cation to principal of conditions of release and of alleged 49 violations of conditions of release.

50 1. ~~[An application for recognizance or bail must be determined by a~~ 51 ~~securing order which either:~~

52 ~~(a) Grants the application and releases the principal on his own~~ 53 ~~recognizance; or~~

54 ~~(b) Grants the application and fixes bail; or~~

55 ~~(c) Denies the application and commits the principal to, or retains~~ 56 ~~him in, the custody of the sheriff.~~

1 ~~2-~~ Upon ordering that a principal be released on ~~[his]~~ the principal's 2 own recognizance, or released under non-monetary conditions, or, 3 if bail has been fixed, upon the posting of bail, the court must direct 4 ~~[him]~~ the principal to appear in the criminal action or proceeding 5 involved whenever ~~[his]~~ the principal's attendance may be required and 6 to ~~[render himself]~~ be at all times amenable to the orders and processes 7 of the court. If such principal is in the custody of the sheriff or at 8 liberty upon bail at the time of the order, the court must direct that 9 ~~[he]~~ the principal be discharged from such custody or, as the case may 10 be, that ~~[his]~~ the principal's bail be exonerated.

11 ~~[3-]~~ 2. Upon the issuance of an order fixing bail, where authorized, 12 and upon the posting thereof, the court must examine the bail to deter-13 mine whether it complies with the order. If it does, the court must, in 14 the absence of some factor or circumstance which in law requires or 15 authorizes disapproval thereof, approve the bail and must issue a 16 certificate of release, authorizing the principal to be at liberty, and, 17 if ~~[he]~~ the principal is in the custody of the sheriff at the time, 18 directing the sheriff to discharge ~~[him]~~ the principal therefrom. If 19 the bail fixed is not posted, or is not approved after being posted, the 20 court must order that the principal be committed to the custody of the 21 sheriff. In the event of any such non-approval, the court shall explain 22 promptly in writing the reasons therefor.

23 3. Non-monetary conditions of release shall be individualized and 24 established in writing by the court. At future court appearances, the 25 court shall consider a lessening of conditions or modification of condi-26 tions to a less burdensome form based on the principal's compliance with 27 such conditions of release. In the event of alleged non-compliance with 28 the conditions of release in an important respect, pursuant to this 29 subdivision, additional conditions may be imposed by the court, on the 30 record or in writing, only after notice of the facts and circumstances 31 of such alleged non-compliance, reasonable under the circumstances, 32 affording the principal and the principal's attorney and the people an 33 opportunity to present relevant, admissible evidence, relevant witnesses 34 and to cross-examine witnesses, and a finding by clear and convincing 35 evidence that the principal violated a condition of release in an impor-36 tant respect. Following such a finding, in determining whether to 37 impose additional conditions for non-compliance, the court shall consid-38 er and may select conditions consistent with the court's obligation to 39 impose the least restrictive condition or conditions that will reason-40 ably assure the defendant's return to court. The court shall explain on 41 the record or in writing the reasons for its determination and for any 42 changes to the conditions imposed.

43 4. (a) Electronic monitoring of a principal's location may be ordered 44 only if the court finds, after notice, an opportunity to be heard and an 45 individualized determination explained on the record or in writing, that 46 the defendant qualifies for electronic monitoring in accordance with 47 subdivision twenty-one of section 500.10 of this title, and no other 48 realistic non-monetary condition or set of non-monetary conditions will 49 suffice to reasonably assure a principal's return to court.

50 (b) The specific method of electronic monitoring of the principal's 51 location must be approved by the court. It must be the least restric-52 tive procedure and method that will reasonably assure the principal's 53 return to court, and unobtrusive to the greatest extent practicable.

54 (c) Electronic monitoring of the location of a principal may be 55 conducted only by a public entity under the supervision and control of a 56 county or municipality or a non-profit entity under contract to the

1 county, municipality or the state. A county or municipality shall be 2 authorized to enter into a contract with another county or municipality 3 in the state to monitor principals under non-monetary conditions of 4 release in its county, but counties, municipalities and the state shall 5 not contract with any private for-profit entity for such purposes.

6 (d) Electronic monitoring of a principal's location may be for a maxi-7 mum period of sixty days, and may be renewed for such period, after 8 notice, an opportunity to be heard and a de novo, individualized deter-9 mination in accordance with this subdivision, which shall be explained 10 on the record or in writing.

11 5. If a principal is released under non-monetary conditions, the court 12 shall, on the record and in an individualized written document provided 13 to the principal, notify the principal, in plain language and a manner 14 sufficiently clear and specific:

15 (a) of any conditions to which the principal is subject, to serve as a 16 guide for the principal's conduct; and

17 (b) that the possible consequences for violation of such a condition 18 may include revocation of the securing order and the ordering of a more 19 restrictive securing order.

20 § 7. The criminal procedure law is amended by adding a new section
21 510.43 to read as follows:

22 § 510.43 Court appearances: additional notifications.

23 The court or, upon direction of the court, a certified pretrial 24 services agency, shall notify all principals released under non-monetary 25 conditions and on recognizance of all court appearances in advance by 26 text message, telephone call, electronic mail or first class mail. The 27 chief administrator of the courts shall, pursuant to subdivision one of 28 section 10.40 of this chapter, develop a form which shall be offered to 29 the principal at court appearances. On such form, which upon completion 30 shall be retained in the court file, the principal may select one such 31 preferred manner of notice.

32 § 8. The criminal procedure law is amended by adding a new section
33 510.45 to read as follows:

34 § 510.45 Pretrial services agencies.

35 1. The office of court administration shall certify and regularly 36 review for recertification one or more pretrial services agencies in 37 each county to monitor principals released under non-monetary condi-
38 tions. Such office shall maintain a listing on its public website iden-39 tifying by county each pretrial services agency so certified in the 40 state.

41 2. Every such agency shall be a public entity under the supervision 42 and control of a county or municipality or a non-profit entity under 43 contract to the county, municipality or the state. A county or munici-44 pality shall be authorized to enter into a contract with another county 45 or municipality in the state to monitor principals under non-monetary 46 conditions of release in its county, but counties, municipalities and 47 the state shall not contract with any private for-profit entity for such 48 purposes.

49 3. (a) Any questionnaire, instrument or tool used with a principal in 50 the process of considering or determining the principal's possible 51 release on recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or on 52 bail, or used with a principal in the process of considering or deter-53 mining a condition or conditions of release or monitoring by a pretrial 54 services agency, shall be promptly made available to the principal and 55 the principal's counsel upon written request. Any such blank form ques-56 tionnaire, instrument or tool regularly used in the county for such

1 purpose or a related purpose shall be made available to any person 2 promptly upon request.

3 (b) Any such questionnaire, instrument or tool shall be:

4 (i) free from discriminatory and disparate impact on detention and 5 other outcomes based on age, race, creed, color, national origin, sexual 6 orientation, gender identity or expression, military status, sex, mari-7 tal status, disability, or any other constitutionally protected class, 8 regarding the use thereof; and

9 (ii) empirically validated and regularly revalidated, with such vali-10 dation and revalidation studies and all underlying data, except personal 11 identifying information for any defendant, publicly available upon 12 request.

13 4. Monitoring by a pre-trial services agency may be ordered as a non-14 monetary condition pursuant to this title only if the court finds, after 15 notice, an opportunity to be heard and an individualized determination 16 explained on the record or in writing, that no other realistic non-mone-17 tary condition or set of non-monetary conditions will suffice to reason-18 ably assure the principal's return to court.

19 5. Each pretrial service agency certified by the office of court 20 administration pursuant to this section shall at the end of each year 21 prepare and file with such office an annual report, which the office 22 shall compile, publish on its website and make available upon request to 23 members of the public. Such reports shall not include any personal iden-24 tifying information for any individual defendants. Each such report, in 25 addition to other relevant information, shall set forth, disaggregated 26 by each county served:

27 (a) the number of defendants monitored by the agency;

28 (b) the length of time (in months) each such person was monitored by 29 the agency prior to acquittal, dismissal, release on recognizance, revo-30 cation of release on conditions, and sentencing;

31 (c) the race, ethnicity, age and sex of each person monitored;

32 (d) the crimes with which each person monitored was charged;

33 (e) the number of persons monitored for whom release conditions were 34 modified by the court, describing generally for each person or group of 35 persons the type and nature of the condition or conditions added or 36 removed;

37 (f) the number of persons monitored for whom release under conditions 38 was revoked by the court, and the basis for such revocations; and

39 (g) the court disposition in each monitoring case, including sentenc-40 ing information.

41 § 9. Section 510.50 of the criminal procedure law is amended to read
42 as follows:

43 § 510.50 Enforcement of securing order.

44 1. When the attendance of a principal confined in the custody of the 45 sheriff is required at the criminal action or proceeding at a particular 46 time and place, the court may compel such attendance by directing the 47 sheriff to produce [him] the principal at such time and place. If the 48 principal is at liberty on [his] the principal's own recognizance or 49 non-monetary conditions or on bail, [his] the principal's attendance 50 may be achieved or compelled by various methods, including notification 51 and the issuance of a bench warrant, prescribed by law in provisions 52 governing such matters with respect to the particular kind of action or 53 proceeding involved.

54 2. Except when the principal is charged with a new crime while at 55 liberty, absent relevant, admissible evidence demonstrating that a prin-56 icipal's failure to appear for a scheduled court appearance was willful,

1 the court, prior to issuing a bench warrant for a failure to appear for 2 a scheduled court appearance, shall provide at least forty-eight hours 3 notice to the principal or the principal's counsel that the principal is 4 required to appear, in order to give the principal an opportunity to 5 appear voluntarily.

6 § 10. Paragraph (b) of subdivision 2 of section 520.10 of the criminal 7 procedure law, as amended by chapter 784 of the laws of 1972, is amended
8 to read as follows:

9 (b) The court [~~may~~] shall direct that the bail be posted in any one of 10 [~~two~~] three or more of the forms specified in subdivision one of this 11 section, designated in the alternative, and may designate different 12 amounts varying with the forms[~~;~~], except that one of the forms shall be 13 either an unsecured or partially secured surety bond, as selected by the 14 court.

15 § 11. Section 530.10 of the criminal procedure law is amended to read 16 as follows:

17 § 530.10 Order of recognizance release under non-monetary conditions or 18 bail; in general.

19 Under circumstances prescribed in this article, a court, upon applica-20 tion of a defendant charged with or convicted of an offense, is required 21 [~~or authorized to order bail or recognizance~~] to issue a securing order 22 for [~~the release or prospective release of~~] such defendant during the 23 pendency of either:

24 1. A criminal action based upon such charge; or

25 2. An appeal taken by the defendant from a judgment of conviction or 26 a sentence or from an order of an intermediate appellate court affirming 27 or modifying a judgment of conviction or a sentence.

28 § 12. Subdivision 4 of section 530.11 of the criminal procedure law, 29 as added by chapter 186 of the laws of 1997, is amended to read as 30 follows:

31 4. When a person is arrested for an alleged family offense or an 32 alleged violation of an order of protection or temporary order of 33 protection or arrested pursuant to a warrant issued by the supreme or 34 family court, and the supreme or family court, as applicable, is not in 35 session, such person shall be brought before a local criminal court in 36 the county of arrest or in the county in which such warrant is return-37 able pursuant to article one hundred twenty of this chapter. Such local 38 criminal court may issue any order authorized under subdivision eleven 39 of section 530.12 of this article, section one hundred fifty-four-d or 40 one hundred fifty-five of the family court act or subdivision three-b of 41 section two hundred forty or subdivision two-a of section two hundred 42 fifty-two of the domestic relations law, in addition to discharging 43 other arraignment responsibilities as set forth in this chapter. In 44 making such order, the local criminal court shall consider de novo the 45 [~~bail~~] recommendation and securing order, if any, made by the supreme or 46 family court as indicated on the warrant or certificate of warrant.
47 Unless the petitioner or complainant requests otherwise, the court, in 48 addition to scheduling further criminal proceedings, if any, regarding 49 such alleged family offense or violation allegation, shall make such 50 matter returnable in the supreme or family court, as applicable, on the 51 next day such court is in session.

52 § 13. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 8 of section 530.13 of the criminal 53 procedure law, as added by chapter 388 of the laws of 1984, is amended
54 to read as follows:

55 (a) revoke an order of recognizance, release under non-monetary condi-56 tions or bail and commit the defendant to custody; or

§ 14. The opening paragraph of subdivision 1 of section 530.13 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 137 of the laws of 2007, is amended to read as follows:

When any criminal action is pending, and the court has not issued a temporary order of protection pursuant to section 530.12 of this article, the court, in addition to the other powers conferred upon it by this chapter, may for good cause shown issue a temporary order of protection in conjunction with any securing order ~~[committing the defendant to the custody of the sheriff or as a condition of a pre-trial release, or as a condition of release on bail]~~ or an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal. In addition to any other conditions, such an order may require that the defendant:

§ 15. Subdivision 11 of section 530.12 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 498 of the laws of 1993, the opening paragraph as amended by chapter 597 of the laws of 1998, paragraph (a) as amended by chapter 222 of the laws of 1994, paragraph (d) as amended by chapter 644 of the laws of 1996, is amended to read as follows:

11. If a defendant is brought before the court for failure to obey any lawful order issued under this section, or an order of protection issued by a court of competent jurisdiction in another state, territorial or tribal jurisdiction, and if, after hearing, the court is satisfied by competent proof that the defendant has willfully failed to obey any such order, the court may:

(a) revoke an order of recognizance or release under non-monetary conditions or revoke an order of bail or order forfeiture of such bail and commit the defendant to custody; or

(b) restore the case to the calendar when there has been an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal and commit the defendant to custody; or

(c) revoke a conditional discharge in accordance with section 410.70 of this chapter and impose probation supervision or impose a sentence of imprisonment in accordance with the penal law based on the original conviction; or

(d) revoke probation in accordance with section 410.70 of this chapter and impose a sentence of imprisonment in accordance with the penal law based on the original conviction. In addition, if the act which constitutes the violation of the order of protection or temporary order of protection is a crime or a violation the defendant may be charged with and tried for that crime or violation.

§ 16. Section 530.20 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 531 of the laws of 1975, subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of subdivision 2 as amended by chapter 218 of the laws of 1979, is amended to read as follows:

§ 530.20 ~~[Order of recognizance or bail;]~~ Securing order by local criminal court when action is pending therein.

When a criminal action is pending in a local criminal court, such court, upon application of a defendant, ~~[must or may order recognizance or bail]~~ shall proceed as follows:

1. ~~[When the defendant is charged, by information, simplified information, prosecutor's information or misdemeanor complaint, with an offense or offenses of less than felony grade only, the court must order recognizance or bail.]~~ (a) In cases where the most serious offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case before the court or a pending case is an offense that is not a class A felony defined in the penal law or a felony enumerated in section 70.02 of the penal law (other than burglary in the second degree as defined in subdivision two of section

1 140.25 of the penal law or robbery in the second degree as defined in 2 subdivision one of section 160.10 of such law or reporting a false inci-3 dent in the second degree as defined in section 240.55 of such law) or a 4 misdemeanor defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law, the 5 court shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own 6 recognizance, unless the court finds on the record or in writing that 7 release on the principal's own recognizance will not reasonably assure 8 the principal's return to court. In such instances, the court shall 9 release the principal under non-monetary conditions, selecting the least 10 restrictive alternative and conditions that will reasonably assure the 11 principal's return to court. The court shall explain its choice of 12 alternative and conditions on the record or in writing.

13 (b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this subdivision, in cases 14 where an offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case 15 before the court or a pending case is a felony enumerated in section 16 70.02 of the penal law (except burglary in the second degree as defined 17 in subdivision two of section 140.25 of the penal law or robbery in the 18 second degree as defined in subdivision one of section 160.10 of such 19 law or reporting a false incident in the second degree as defined in 20 section 240.55 of such law) or a misdemeanor defined in article one 21 hundred thirty of the penal law, the court, unless otherwise prohibited 22 by law, shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own 23 recognizance, or release the principal under non-monetary conditions, or 24 fix bail. In such instances, the court shall select the least restric-25 tive alternative that will reasonably assure the principal's return to 26 court. The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions 27 on the record or in writing.

28 (c) In cases where an offense with which the defendant stands charged 29 in the case before the court or a pending case is a felony sex offense
30 as defined in section 70.80 of the penal law, a felony terrorism offense
31 under section 490.10, 490.15, 490.30, 490.35, 490.37, 490.40, 490.45,
32 490.47, 490.50 or 490.55 of the penal law, a class A felony offense
33 defined in the penal law, a felony offense of witness intimidation under 34 section 215.15, 215.16, or 215.17 of the penal law, a felony offense
35 where a required element thereof is an intent to cause serious physical 36 injury or death to another person and causing such injury or death to 37 such person or a third person, or a felony for which the defendant would 38 be eligible for sentencing under section 70.08 of the penal law, the 39 court, unless otherwise prohibited by law, shall release the principal 40 pending trial under non-monetary conditions, or fix bail, or commit the 41 principal to the custody of the sheriff. In such instances, the court 42 shall select the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will 43 reasonably assure the principal's return to court. The court shall 44 explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in 45 writing.

46 2. When the defendant is charged, by felony complaint, with a felony, 47 the court may, in its discretion, order recognizance, release under 48 non-monetary conditions, or, where authorized, bail or commit the 49 defendant to the custody of the sheriff except as otherwise provided in 50 subdivision one of this section or this subdivision:

51 (a) A city court, a town court or a village court may not order recog-52 nizance or bail when (i) the defendant is charged with a class A felony, 53 or (ii) ~~[it appears that]~~ the defendant has two previous felony
54 convictions;

(b) No local criminal court may order recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail with respect to a defendant charged with a felony unless and until:

(i) The district attorney has been heard in the matter or, after knowledge or notice of the application and reasonable opportunity to be heard, has failed to appear at the proceeding or has otherwise waived his right to do so; and

(ii) The court ~~[has]~~ and counsel for the defendant have been furnished with a report of the division of criminal justice services concerning the defendant's criminal record, if any, or with a police department report with respect to the defendant's prior arrest and conviction record, if any. If neither report is available, the court, with the consent of the district attorney, may dispense with this requirement; provided, however, that in an emergency, including but not limited to a substantial impairment in the ability of such division or police department to timely furnish such report, such consent shall not be required if, for reasons stated on the record, the court deems it unnecessary. When the court has been furnished with any such report or record, it shall furnish a copy thereof to counsel for the defendant or, if the defendant is not represented by counsel, to the defendant.

§ 17. The section heading and subdivisions 1 and 2 of section 530.30 of the criminal procedure law, subdivision 2 as amended by chapter 762 of the laws of 1971, are amended to read as follows:

Order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail; by superior court judge when action is pending in local criminal court.

1. When a criminal action is pending in a local criminal court, other than one consisting of a superior court judge sitting as such, a judge of a superior court holding a term thereof in the county, upon application of a defendant, may order recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, bail when such local criminal court:

(a) Lacks authority to issue such an order, pursuant to ~~[paragraph (a) of subdivision two]~~ the relevant provisions of section 530.20 of this article; or

(b) Has denied an application for recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail; or

(c) Has fixed bail, where authorized, which is excessive; or

(d) Has set a securing order of release under non-monetary conditions which are more restrictive than necessary to reasonably assure the defendant's return to court.

In such case, such superior court judge may vacate the order of such local criminal court and release the defendant on ~~[his own]~~ recognizance or under non-monetary conditions, or where authorized, fix bail in a lesser amount or in a less burdensome form, whichever are the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will reasonably assure the defendant's return to court. The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in writing.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, when the defendant is charged with a felony in a local criminal court, a superior court judge may not order recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, bail unless and until the district attorney has had an opportunity to be heard in the matter and such judge ~~[has]~~ and counsel for the defendant have been furnished with a report as described in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section 530.20 of this article.

§ 18. Section 530.40 of the criminal procedure law, subdivision 3 as amended by chapter 264 of the laws of 2003, and subdivision 4 as amended by chapter 762 of the laws of 1971, is amended to read as follows:

§ 530.40 Order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail; by superior court when action is pending therein.

When a criminal action is pending in a superior court, such court, upon application of a defendant, must or may order recognizance or bail as follows:

1. When the defendant is charged with an offense or offenses of less than felony grade only, the court must, unless otherwise provided by law, order recognizance or ~~[bail]~~ release under non-monetary conditions in accordance with this section.

2. When the defendant is charged with a felony, the court may, in its discretion, order recognizance ~~[or]~~, release under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, bail. In any such case in which an indictment (a) has resulted from an order of a local criminal court holding the defendant for the action of the grand jury, or (b) was filed at a time when a felony complaint charging the same conduct was pending in a local criminal court, and in which such local criminal court or a superior court judge has issued an order of recognizance ~~[or]~~, release under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, bail which is still effective, the superior court's order may be in the form of a direction continuing the effectiveness of the previous order.

3. In cases where the most serious offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case before the court or a pending case is an offense that is not a class A felony defined in the penal law or a felony enumerated in section 70.02 of the penal law (other than burglary in the second degree as defined in subdivision two of section 140.25 of the penal law or robbery in the second degree as defined in subdivision one of section 160.10 of such law or reporting a false incident in the second degree as defined in section 240.55 of such law) or a misdemeanor defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law, the court shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own recognizance, unless the court finds on the record or in writing that release on the principal's own recognizance will not reasonably assure the principal's return to court. In such instances, the court shall release the principal under non-monetary conditions, selecting the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court. The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in writing.

4. Except as provided in subdivision five of this section, in cases where an offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case before the court or a pending case is a felony enumerated in section 70.02 of the penal law (except burglary in the second degree as defined in subdivision two of section 140.25 of the penal law or robbery in the second degree as defined in subdivision one of section 160.10 of such law or reporting a false incident in the second degree as defined in section 240.55 of such law) or a misdemeanor defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law, shall release the principal pending trial on the principal's own recognizance, or release the principal under non-monetary conditions, or fix bail, selecting the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court. The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in writing.

5. In cases where an offense with which the defendant stands charged in the case before the court or a pending case is a felony sex offense as defined in section 70.80 of the penal law, a felony terrorism offense under section 490.10, 490.15, 490.30, 490.35, 490.37, 490.40, 490.45, 490.47, 490.50 or 490.55 of the penal law, a class A felony offense defined in the penal law, a felony offense of witness intimidation under section 215.15, 215.16, or 215.17 of the penal law, a felony offense where a required element thereof is an intent to cause serious physical injury or death to another person and causing such injury or death to such person or a third person, or a felony for which the defendant is eligible for sentencing under section 70.08 of the penal law, the court, unless otherwise prohibited by law, shall release the principal pending trial under non-monetary conditions, or fix bail, or commit the principal to the custody of the sheriff, selecting the least restrictive alternative and conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court. The court shall explain its choice of alternative and conditions on the record or in writing.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of ~~[subdivision two]~~ subdivisions two, three, four and five of this section, a superior court may not order recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, bail, or permit a defendant to remain at liberty pursuant to an existing order, after ~~[he]~~ the defendant has been convicted of either: (a) a class A felony or (b) any class B or class C felony as defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law committed or attempted to be committed by a person eighteen years of age or older against a person less than eighteen years of age. In either case the court must commit or remand the defendant to the custody of the sheriff.

~~[4-]~~ 7. Notwithstanding the provisions of ~~[subdivision two]~~ subdivisions two, three, four and five of this section, a superior court may not order recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, where authorized, bail when the defendant is charged with a felony unless and until the district attorney has had an opportunity to be heard in the matter and such court ~~[has]~~ and counsel for the defendant have been furnished with a report as described in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section 530.20 of this article.

§ 19. Subdivision 1 of section 530.45 of the criminal procedure law, as amended by chapter 264 of the laws of 2003, is amended to read as follows:

1. When the defendant is at liberty in the course of a criminal action as a result of a prior order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail and the court revokes such order and then ~~[either]~~, where authorized, fixes no bail or fixes bail in a greater amount or in a more burdensome form than was previously fixed and remands or commits defendant to the custody of the sheriff, or issues a more restrictive securing order, a judge designated in subdivision two of this section, upon application of the defendant following conviction of an offense other than a class A felony or a class B or class C felony offense as defined in article one hundred thirty of the penal law committed or attempted to be committed by a person eighteen years of age or older against a person less than eighteen years of age, and before sentencing, may issue a securing order and ~~[either]~~ release the defendant on ~~[his]~~ the defendant's own recognizance, release the defendant under non-monetary conditions, or, where authorized, fix bail~~]~~ or fix bail in a lesser amount or in a less burdensome form, or issue a less restrictive securing order, than fixed by the court in which the conviction was entered.

§ 20. Section 530.60 of the criminal procedure law, subdivision 1 as amended by chapter 565 of the laws of 2011, subdivision 2 as added by chapter 788 of the laws of 1981 and paragraph (a) of subdivision 2 as amended by chapter 794 of the laws of 1986, is amended to read as follows:

§ 530.60 [~~Order of recognizance or bail; revocation thereof~~] Certain modifications of a securing order.

1. Whenever in the course of a criminal action or proceeding a defendant is at liberty as a result of an order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail issued pursuant to this chapter, and the court considers it necessary to review such order, [~~it~~] whether due to a motion by the people or otherwise, the court may, and except as provided in subdivision two of section 510.50 of this title concerning a failure to appear in court, by a bench warrant if necessary, require the defendant to appear before the court. Upon such appearance, the court, for good cause shown, may revoke the order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions, or bail. If the defendant is entitled to recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions, or bail as a matter of right, the court must issue another such order. If [~~he or she~~] the defendant is not, the court may either issue such an order or commit the defendant to the custody of the sheriff in accordance with this section.

Where the defendant is committed to the custody of the sheriff and is held on a felony complaint, a new period as provided in section 180.80 of this chapter shall commence to run from the time of the defendant's commitment under this subdivision.

2. (a) Whenever in the course of a criminal action or proceeding a defendant charged with the commission of a felony is at liberty as a result of an order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail issued pursuant to this article it shall be grounds for revoking such order that the court finds reasonable cause to believe the defendant committed one or more specified class A or violent felony offenses or intimidated a victim or witness in violation of [~~sections~~] section 215.15, 215.16 or 215.17 of the penal law while at liberty.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision or any other law, whenever in the course of a criminal action or proceeding a defendant charged with the commission of an offense is at liberty as a result of an order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or bail issued pursuant to this article it shall be grounds for revoking such order and fixing bail in such criminal action or proceeding when the court has found, by clear and convincing evidence, that the defendant:

(i) persistently willfully failed to appear after notice of scheduled appearances in the case before the court; or

(ii) violated an order of protection in the manner prohibited by subdivision (b), (c) or (d) of section 215.51 of the penal law while at liberty; or

(iii) stands charged in such criminal action or proceeding with a misdemeanor or violation and, after being so charged, intimidated a victim or witness in violation of section 215.15, 215.16 or 215.17 of the penal law while at liberty; or

(iv) stands charged in such action or proceeding with a felony and, after being so charged, committed a felony while at liberty.

(c) Before revoking an order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions, or bail pursuant to this subdivision, the court must hold a hearing and shall receive any relevant, admissible evidence not legally privileged. The defendant may cross-examine witnesses and may

1 present relevant, admissible evidence on his own behalf. Such hearing 2 may be consolidated with, and conducted at the same time as, a felony 3 hearing conducted pursuant to article one hundred eighty of this chap-
4 ter. A transcript of testimony taken before the grand jury upon presen-5 tation of the subsequent offense shall be admissible as evidence during 6 the hearing. The district attorney may move to introduce grand jury 7 testimony of a witness in lieu of that witness' appearance at the hear-8 ing.

9 ~~[(b)]~~ (d) Revocation of an order of recognizance, release under non-10 monetary conditions or bail and a new securing order fixing bail or 11 commitment, as specified in this paragraph and pursuant to this subdivi-12 sion shall be for the following periods~~[, either]~~:

13 (i) Under paragraph (a) of this subdivision, revocation of the order 14 of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, as the case 15 may be, bail, and a new securing order fixing bail or committing the 16 defendant to the custody of the sheriff shall be as follows:

17 ~~[(i)]~~ (A) For a period not to exceed ninety days exclusive of any 18 periods of adjournment requested by the defendant; or

19 ~~[(ii)]~~ (B) Until the charges contained within the accusatory instru-20 ment have been reduced or dismissed such that no count remains which 21 charges the defendant with commission of a felony; or

22 ~~[(iii)]~~ (C) Until reduction or dismissal of the charges contained 23 within the accusatory instrument charging the subsequent offense such 24 that no count remains which charges the defendant with commission of a 25 class A or violent felony offense.

26 Upon expiration of any of the three periods specified within this 27 ~~[paragraph]~~ subparagraph, whichever is shortest, the court may grant or 28 deny release upon an order of bail or recognizance in accordance with 29 the provisions of this article. Upon conviction to an offense the 30 provisions of article five hundred thirty of this chapter shall 31 apply~~[-]~~; and

32 ~~[(e)]~~ (ii) Under paragraph (b) of this subdivision, revocation of the 33 order of recognizance, release under non-monetary conditions or, as the 34 case may be, bail shall result in the issuance of a new securing order 35 which may, if otherwise authorized by law, permit the principal's 36 release on recognizance or release under non-monetary conditions, but 37 shall also render the defendant eligible for an order fixing bail 38 provided, however, that in accordance with the principles in this title 39 the court must select the least restrictive alternative and condition or 40 conditions that will reasonably assure the principal's return to court.
41 Nothing in this subparagraph shall be interpreted as shortening the 42 period of detention, or requiring or authorizing any less restrictive 43 form of a securing order, which may be imposed pursuant to any other 44 law.

45 (e) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) or (b) of this 46 subdivision a defendant, against whom a felony complaint has been filed 47 which charges the defendant with commission of a class A or violent 48 felony offense or violation of section 215.15, 215.16 or 215.17 of the 49 penal law committed while he was at liberty as specified therein, may be 50 committed to the custody of the sheriff pending a revocation hearing for 51 a period not to exceed seventy-two hours. An additional period not to 52 exceed seventy-two hours may be granted by the court upon application of 53 the district attorney upon a showing of good cause or where the failure 54 to commence the hearing was due to the defendant's request or occurred 55 with his consent. Such good cause must consist of some compelling fact

1 or circumstance which precluded conducting the hearing within the 2 initial prescribed period.

3 § 21. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 9 of section 216.05 of the criminal 4 procedure law, as amended by chapter 258 of the laws of 2015, is amended
5 to read as follows:

6 (a) If at any time during the defendant's participation in the judi-7 cial diversion program, the court has reasonable grounds to believe that 8 the defendant has violated a release condition in an important respect 9 or has willfully failed to appear before the court as requested, the 10 court except as provided in subdivision two of section 510.50 of this 11 chapter regarding a failure to appear, shall direct the defendant to 12 appear or issue a bench warrant to a police officer or an appropriate 13 peace officer directing him or her to take the defendant into custody 14 and bring the defendant before the court without unnecessary delay; 15 provided, however, that under no circumstances shall a defendant who 16 requires treatment for opioid abuse or dependence be deemed to have 17 violated a release condition on the basis of his or her participation in 18 medically prescribed drug treatments under the care of a health care 19 professional licensed or certified under title eight of the education 20 law, acting within his or her lawful scope of practice. The relevant 21 provisions of [~~subdivision one of~~] section 530.60 of this chapter relat-22 ing to [~~revocation of recognizance or bail~~] issuance of securing orders 23 shall apply to such proceedings under this subdivision.

24 § 22. The opening paragraph of section 240.44 of the criminal proce-25 dure law, as added by chapter 558 of the laws of 1982, is amended to 26 read as follows:

27 Subject to a protective order, at a pre-trial hearing held in a crim-28 inal court at which a witness is called to testify, each party, [~~at the~~ 29 ~~conclusion~~] prior to the commencement of the direct examination of each 30 of its witnesses, shall, upon request of the other party, make available
