January 27, 2017

Introduced by M. of A. BRINDISI, SKOUFIS, HUNTER, GOTTFRIED, KAVANAGH, ROZIC, SEPULVEDA -- read once and referred to the Committee on Environmental Conservation

AN ACT to amend the environmental conservation law, in relation to prohibiting the use of chemical flame retardants

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Article 37 of the environmental conservation law is amended by adding a new title 9 to read as follows:

TITLE 9

CHEMICAL FLAME RETARDANTS

Section 37-0901. Definitions.

37-0903. Prohibition on the use of chemical flame retardants.

37-0905. Increased fire safety.

§ 37-0901. Definitions. As used in this title:

1. "Chemical flame retardants" shall mean any halogenated chemical flame retardant, including but not limited to TDCPP Tris (1, 3 Dichloro-2-propyl) phosphate, and any Phosphorus-Bromine flame retardants.

2. "Residential upholstered furniture" shall mean a sofa, loveseat, chair, ottoman, footstool, or other item of furniture, intended for indoor use in a home that consists, in whole or in part, of leather, plastic, fabric or other material that contains cotton, wool, polyurethane or other natural or synthetic material that is placed in cushions or on the frame of the furniture.

§ 37-0903. Prohibition on the use of chemical flame retardants.

1. Beginning July first, two thousand eighteen, no person, firm, partnership, association, limited liability company or corporation shall sell or offer for sale any residential upholstered furniture that contains chemical flame retardants intentionally-added in order to provide a specific characteristic, appearance or quality, to perform a specific function, or for any other purpose.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD01978-01-7

1     2. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the sale or 2     distribution of residential upholstered furniture resold or offered for 3     resale, or distributed by consumers for consumer use.

4     § 37-0905. Increased fire safety.

5     1. Beginning December first, two thousand twenty, each manufacturer of 6     residential upholstered furniture that is sold or offered for sale in 7     the state shall certify to the department that any residential uphol-
8     stered furniture sold or offered for sale in the state meets the 9     requirements of the open flame flammability standard.

10    2. a. For purposes of this section, "open flame flammability standard"
11    shall mean a standard, developed pursuant to rules and regulations of 12    the department, in consultation with the office of fire prevention and 13    control, requiring residential upholstered furniture to not lead to 14    flashover for at least fifteen minutes of time. Such standard shall be 15    reviewed for effectiveness no less than every two years, with such 16    review including, at a minimum, examination of the standards used in 17    other states.

18    b. For the purposes of this section "flashover" shall mean the point
19    at which all exposed surfaces of the residential upholstered furniture
20    reach ignition temperatures and fire spreads rapidly.

21    c. For the purposes of this section "manufacturer" shall mean a 22    person, firm, partnership, association, limited liability company or 23    corporation that assembles or substantially assembles residential uphol-
24    stered furniture for sale in the state or imports residential uphol-
25    stered furniture for sale in the state.

26    3. The department may, following public hearings, adopt rules and 27    regulations authorizing an exemption to subdivision one of section 28    37-0903 of this title upon a determination by the commissioner that the 29    proposed chemical flame retardant will not negatively affect human 30    health or the environment. Such determination may only be made after the 31    completion of a comprehensive health impact assessment conducted by the 32    department of health, following a model recommended by the centers for 33    disease control and prevention.

34    § 2. This act shall take effect on the thirtieth day after it shall 35    have become a law; provided however, that section 37-0905 of the envi-
36    ronmental conservation law as added by section one of this act shall 37    take effect June 1, 2020; provided, however, that the commissioner of 38    environmental conservation is authorized and directed to promulgate any 39    rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of this act
40    on or before such effective date.
