MEMORIALIZING the Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim July 2018, as Arachnoiditis Awareness Month in the State of New York

WHEREAS, Arachnoiditis is a debilitating, progressive, chronic pain disorder caused by inflammation of the arachnoid, one of the three membranes that surround and protect the nerves of the spinal cord; and

WHEREAS, Arachnoiditis attacks cause the arachnoid to become inflamed because of an irritation caused by chemicals, infection from bacteria or viruses, a direct injury to the spine, chronic compression of spinal nerves, or complications from spinal surgery or other invasive spinal procedures; and

WHEREAS, Arachnoiditis can interfere with the function of one or more of the central nervous system's nerves, thus causing those afflicted with the disorder to experience symptoms including numbness, tingling, or a stinging and burning pain in the lower back or legs; others afflicted with Arachnoiditis can suffer from debilitating muscle cramps, twitches, or spasms; and

WHEREAS, Arachnoiditis knows no age limit, and if left unrecognized, untreated or mistreated, can lead to a variety of symptoms that may result in devastating consequences which can impair the person's ability to function independently; and

WHEREAS, Prevention is paramount, and early diagnosis and intervention is crucial, and correct aggressive treatment by a qualified medical professional can lead to a positive result; increased awareness of Arachnoiditis is the key to prevention; and

WHEREAS, Arachnoiditis is believed to affect more females than males, with approximately 11,000 new cases documented in the United States each year; because these practices still occur on a fairly regular basis, it is unlikely that the number of patients diagnosed annually will decline without a continued effort to increase awareness of the need for a change in treatment protocol; and

WHEREAS, In 2014, The Art for Arachnoiditis Project began as a One-to-One Survivor portrait project; since then, it has grown into an international Creative Wellness Project with a website for survivors serving 93 countries; there are currently 267 survivors from around the globe registered at The Art For Arachnoiditis Project alone who receive these free creative wellness benefits because other support and care are not available to, or inadequate for them; and

WHEREAS, The State of New York should help inform the public about the prevalence of this debilitating disease, thus bringing greater attention to Arachnoiditis so that steps can be put in place for screening and prevention; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That this Legislative Body pause in its deliberations to memorialize Governor Andrew M. Cuomo to proclaim July 2018, as Arachnoiditis Awareness Month in the State of New York; and be it further

RESOLVED, That copies of this Resolution, suitably engrossed, be transmitted to The Honorable Andrew M. Cuomo, Governor of the State of New York, and Sheila L. Kalkbrenner, Founder of The Art For Arachnoiditis.
