Introduced by Sen. SAVINO -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Consumer Protection

AN ACT to amend the general business law, in relation to safety standards at baseball stadiums

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The general business law is amended by adding a new section 399-k to read as follows:

§ 399-k. Safety standards; baseball stadium netting. 1. Definitions. As used in this section:

(a) "Baseball stadium" means those places of public assembly with an occupancy capacity of at least five thousand persons, in which baseball games are played and seating or standing room is assigned by issuance of tickets purchased by spectators.

(b) "Protective netting" means an open-meshed material made by knotting together wire, rope, thread, or any other material used to protect spectators at baseball games from errant baseballs.

2. The department of state, in consultation with the office of parks, recreation and historic preservation, shall promulgate rules and regulations establishing safety standards to extend protective netting from the area behind home plate to the foul poles at either end of both foul lines, during baseball games played in all baseball stadiums in the state.

3. Posting of notices. (a) There shall be posted in a conspicuous place and manner in all baseball stadiums notices warning spectators about the danger of baseballs landing in the seating area. Placement locations, sizes and styles of said notices shall be determined by the department of state in consultation with the office of parks, recreation and historic preservation but shall be no smaller than eight inches by ten inches and shall be posted in such a manner that it cannot be readily removed.

(b) All baseball stadium website seating charts and online ticketing outlets that sell spectator tickets for baseball games shall provide information about which seats are behind protective netting.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.
