administrative law judges who are not affiliated with nor influenced by any state department. Investigations of the department of civilian justice shall be conducted in an impartial fashion by an investigative staff. All investigative staff must disclose any conflict of interests within investigations. Upon discovery of a non-disclosed conflict of an investigative staff member, such member shall be prohibited from participating in investigations and may be terminated.

§ 822. Department of civilian justice; functions and duties. The department of civilian justice shall have the following duties and responsibilities:

1. promulgate rules and regulations in accordance with the state administrative procedure act regarding corruption and misconduct by a person in a public safety position, including any position or rank within any police department, district attorney's office, fire department, county jail or correctional facility and the New York state department of corrections and community supervision;

2. receive, review and investigate complaints made by any person, whether or not that person is a victim of, or witness to, an incident of corruption or misconduct by a person in a public safety position, including any position or rank within any police department, district attorney's office, fire department, county jail or correctional facility and the New York state department of corrections and community supervision. Intake of complaints shall be taken by phone, mail and through the department of civilian justice website;

3. conduct adjudicatory proceedings in accordance with the state administrative procedure act, and issue final decisions, which may include discipline for any position or rank within any police department, district attorney's office, fire department, county jail or correctional facility and the New York state department of corrections and community supervision;

4. secure subpoenas, as needed, to retrieve evidence and conduct a thorough investigation of complaints received by the department of civilian justice;

5. review all records, files, and computers obtained by the department of civilian justice of any person under investigation by the department of civilian justice;

6. suspend any person or persons found guilty of obstructing an investigation of the department of civilian justice in an adjudicatory proceeding conducted pursuant to the state administrative procedure act. Such person or persons shall be further charged with misconduct and corruption in an adjudicatory proceeding conducted pursuant to the state administrative procedure act;

7. suspend any person or persons found guilty of causing retaliation against a person for filing a complaint with the department of civilian justice in an adjudicatory proceeding conducted pursuant to the state administrative procedure act. Such person or persons shall be further charged with misconduct and corruption in an adjudicatory proceeding conducted pursuant to the state administrative procedure act;

8. provide an annual report of the commissioner of civilian justice in a public hearing;

9. comply with the provisions of the freedom of information law, including directly handling all requests for information pursuant to the freedom of information law; and

10. engage in community outreach throughout the state to educate the public concerning the department of civilian justice's purpose and the

1 services provided to the public concerning the issues relevant to the 2 department of civilian justice's operation.
3 § 2. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall 4 have become a law.
