AN ACT to amend the penal law and the civil rights law, in relation to enacting the reproductive health care facilities and religious worship access act

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "reproduc-
2 tive health care facilities and religious worship access act".

3 § 2. Legislative intent. The legislature finds that the right to 4 obtain reproductive health services and the right to religious worship
5 are essential personal rights protected by state and federal law. Equal-6 ly, the right to peaceably protest and express one's views is protected 7 by state and federal law. Such actions include, but are not limited to, 8 the right to speak, march, demonstrate, or engage in other activity
9 protected by the First Amendment.

10 The legislature finds that current law does not adequately protect 11 reproductive health care facilities or places of religious worship and 12 those who work in or seek services from or access to such facilities.
13 Therefore, the legislature has determined that it is appropriate for the 14 protection of the public health, safety and welfare, to enact legis-
15 lation to prohibit interference with access to reproductive health care 16 services or places of religious worship, so that persons harmed by such 17 conduct can seek redress in the courts and the state can obtain injunc-
18 tive relief and damages. Furthermore, the legislature has determined 19 that it is appropriate to enact this legislation to: ensure public safe-20 ty and order; protect freedom to receive reproductive health services;

6 § 3. Section 240.70 of the penal law, as added by chapter 635 of the
