AN ACT to amend the penal law, in relation to violation of orders of protection

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Subdivision (c) of section 215.51 of the penal law, as 2 amended by chapter 349 of the laws of 2006, is amended to read as 3 follows:
4 (c) he or she commits the crime of criminal contempt in the second
5 degree as defined in subdivision three of section 215.50 of this article 6 by violating that part of a duly served order of protection, or such 7 order of which the defendant has actual knowledge because he or she was 8 present in court when such order was issued, under sections two hundred 9 forty and two hundred fifty-two of the domestic relations law, articles 10 four, five, six and eight of the family court act and ~~[section]~~ sections 11 530.12 and 530.13 of the criminal procedure law, or an order of 12 protection issued by a court of competent jurisdiction in another state, 13 territorial or tribal jurisdiction, which requires the respondent or 14 defendant to stay away from the person or persons on whose behalf the 15 order was issued, and where the defendant has been previously convicted 16 of the crime of aggravated criminal contempt or criminal contempt in the 17 first or second degree for violating an order of protection as described 18 herein within the preceding five years; or 19 § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
