The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known as and may be cited as "Kyra's Law".
 § 2. Paragraph (a) of subdivision 1 of section 240 of the domestic relations law, as amended by chapter 567 of the laws of 2015, is amended

5 to read as follows: (a) In any action or proceeding brought (1) to annul a marriage or to б 7 declare the nullity of a void marriage, or (2) for a separation, or (3) 8 for a divorce, or (4) to obtain, by a writ of habeas corpus or by peti-9 tion and order to show cause, the custody of or right to visitation with any child of a marriage, the court shall require verification of the 10 11 status of any child of the marriage with respect to such child's custody 12 and support[, including any prior orders, and shall enter orders for custody and support] as, in the court's discretion, justice requires, 13 14 having regard to the circumstances of the case and of the respective 15 parties and to the best interests of the child and subject to the 16 provisions of subdivision one-c of this section. Where either party to 17 an action concerning custody of or a right to visitation with a child alleges in a sworn petition or complaint or sworn answer, cross-peti-18 tion, counterclaim or other sworn responsive pleading that the other 19 20 party has committed an act of child abuse against such child, or commit-21 ted an act of domestic violence against the party making the allegation 22 or a family or household member of either party, as such family or 23 household member is defined in article eight of the family court act, 24 [and such allegations are proven by a prependerance of the evidence, the 25 court must consider the effect of such domestic violence upon the best interests of the child, together with such other facts and circumstances 1 as the court deems relevant in making a direction pursuant to this 2 section and state on the record how such findings, facts and circum-3 stances factored into the direction ] the court must first, before 4 5 considering any other best interest factors, hear and determine upon б competent admissible evidence such allegations set forth, and enter any findings regarding any child abuse or domestic abuse. The evidentiary 7 8 hearing for such determination shall be held within sixty days of the 9 filing of a verified pleading. The court shall not be precluded from 10 issuing any necessary emergency orders to protect the child. All costs, including attorney and expert fees incurred by the non-offending parent 11 and the child, to prepare for and participate in such evidentiary hear-12 13 ing, shall be paid by the parent who is found to have committed child 14 abuse or domestic violence, unless the offending parent has insufficient means to fund such activities. If a parent makes a good faith allega-15 16 tion based on a reasonable belief supported by facts that the child is 17 the victim of child abuse, child neglect, or the effects of domestic violence, and if that parent acts lawfully and in good faith in response 18 to that reasonable belief to protect the child or seek treatment for the 19 20 child, then that parent shall not be deprived of custody, visitation or 21 contact with the child, or restricted in custody, visitation or contact, based solely on that belief or the reasonable actions taken based on 22 that belief. If [an allegation that a child is abused is supported by a 23 preponderance of the evidence, then the court shall consider such 24 evidence of abuse in determining the visitation arrangement that is in 25 26 the best interest of the child, and the court shall not place a child in 27 the custody of a parent who presents a substantial risk of harm to that child, and shall state on the record how such findings were factored 28 into the determination. Where a proceeding filed pursuant to article ten 29 30 or ten-A of the family court act is pending at the same time as a 31 proceeding brought in the supreme court involving the custody of, or right to visitation with, any child of a marriage, the court presiding 32 33 over the proceeding under article ten or ten-A of the family court act may jointly hear the disposition's hearing on the petition under article 34 35 ten or the permanency hearing under article ten A of the family court 36 act and, upon referral from the supreme court, the hearing to resolve 37 the matter of custody or visitation in the proceeding pending in the supreme court; provided however, the court must determine custody or 38 visitation in accordance with the terms of this section ] the court finds 39 a pattern of domestic violence or child abuse by a parent, the court 40 shall award sole custody of the child to the non-offending parent or 41 42 party and shall suspend visitation or only award professionally super-43 vised visitation to the parent engaged in a pattern of violence or abusive behavior. If the court does not make a finding that a party has 44 45 engaged in a pattern of domestic violence or child abuse, the court may 46 not refuse to consider additional evidence of domestic violence or child 47 abuse presented later in the case.

48 An order directing the payment of child support shall contain the social security numbers of the named parties. In all cases there shall 49 50 be no prima facie right to the custody of the child in either parent. 51 Such direction shall make provision for child support out of the proper-52 ty of either or both parents. The court shall make its award for child 53 support pursuant to subdivision one-b of this section. Such direction 54 may provide for reasonable visitation rights to the maternal and/or 55 paternal grandparents of any child of the parties. Such direction as it 56 applies to rights of visitation with a child remanded or placed in the

1 care of a person, official, agency or institution pursuant to article 2 ten of the family court act, or pursuant to an instrument approved under section three hundred fifty-eight-a of the social services law, shall be 3 4 enforceable pursuant to part eight of article ten of the family court 5 act and sections three hundred fifty-eight-a and three hundred eightyб four-a of the social services law and other applicable provisions of law against any person having care and custody, or temporary care and custo-7 8 dy, of the child. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any writ-9 ten application or motion to the court for the establishment, modifica-10 tion or enforcement of a child support obligation for persons not in 11 receipt of public assistance and care must contain either a request for child support enforcement services which would authorize the collection 12 of the support obligation by the immediate issuance of an income 13 14 execution for support enforcement as provided for by this chapter, 15 completed in the manner specified in section one hundred eleven-g of the 16 social services law; or a statement that the applicant has applied for is in receipt of such services; or a statement that the applicant 17 or knows of the availability of such services, has declined them at this 18 19 time and where support enforcement services pursuant to section one 20 hundred eleven-g of the social services law have been declined that the 21 applicant understands that an income deduction order may be issued pursuant to subdivision (c) of section fifty-two hundred forty-two of 22 the civil practice law and rules without other child support enforcement 23 services and that payment of an administrative fee may be required. The 24 25 court shall provide a copy of any such request for child support 26 enforcement services to the support collection unit of the appropriate 27 social services district any time it directs payments to be made to such support collection unit. Additionally, the copy of any such request 28 29 shall be accompanied by the name, address and social security number of 30 the parties; the date and place of the parties' marriage; the name and 31 date of birth of the child or children; and the name and address of the employers and income payors of the party from whom child support is 32 33 sought or from the party ordered to pay child support to the other 34 party. Such direction may require the payment of a sum or sums of money 35 either directly to the custodial parent or to third persons for goods or 36 services furnished for such child, or for both payments to the custodial 37 parent and to such third persons; provided, however, that unless the 38 party seeking or receiving child support has applied for or is receiving such services, the court shall not direct such payments to be made to 39 the support collection unit, as established in section one hundred 40 41 eleven-h of the social services law. Every order directing the payment 42 of support shall require that if either parent currently, or at any time 43 in the future, has health insurance benefits available that may be extended or obtained to cover the child, such parent is required to 44 45 exercise the option of additional coverage in favor of such child and 46 execute and deliver to such person any forms, notices, documents or 47 instruments necessary to assure timely payment of any health insurance claims for such child. 48 49 § 3. The domestic relations law is amended by adding a new section 50 240-d to read as follows: 51 § 240-d. Custody and visitation; health and safety of the child. 1.

52 For the purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the 53 following meanings: 54 (a) "Adverse childhood experiences" means any stressful or traumatic

55 experience of a child during such child's childhood which are strongly 56 related to the development and prevalence of a wide range of health

7	(c) "Victim of domestic violence" shall have the same meaning as
8	defined in section four hundred fifty-nine-a of the social services law.
9	(d) "Friendly parent" means the propensity of a parent to actively

13	(e) "Primary attachment figure" means the parent who best provides
14	emotional security and comfort to the child and takes into consideration
15	which parent provided most of the child care during the first two years
16	of the child's life.
17	2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a court
18	making a determination based on the best interests of a child pursuant
19	to the provisions of this chapter shall prioritize and promote the
20	health and safety of such child when making such determinations. Promot-
21	ing the safety of a child shall include preventing direct physical
22	and/or emotional harm to such child and creating situations that may
23	decrease the likelihood such child will engage in harmful behaviors.
24	3. Prior to the issuance of any form of an order of custody or visita-
25	tion, the court shall determine the safety of the child who is the
26	subject of such order by considering all relevant factors and by giving
27	weighted consideration to those factors which affect the health and
28	safety of such child, which shall include, but not be limited to:
29	(a) whether either parent is more likely to ensure the health and
30	safety of the child. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that custo-
31	dy or visitation shall not be awarded to a parent or party who jeopard-
32	izes the health and safety of the child;
33	(b) the negative consequences associated with separating the child
34	from its primary attachment figure;
35	(c) whether either parent jeopardizes the health and safety of the
36	child by unreasonably placing the child at substantial risk of severe
37	emotional distress or bodily injury;
38	(d) any present or past abuse committed by a parent, or a member of a
39	parent's household against the child, regardless of whether there is
40	continued risk of harm to the child;
41	(e) whether either parent has committed an act of child abuse against
42	the child, or committed an act of domestic violence against the party
43	making the allegation, a family member, or a household member of either
44	party;
45	(f) whether either parent is better able and more likely to attend to
46	the daily physical, emotional, developmental, educational and special
47	needs of the child;
48	(g) any history of violence or abuse committed by a parent or a member
49	of a parent's household against:
50	(1) any other party;
51	(2) another child in the parent's household; or
52	(3) the child's other parent or any other individual who currently
53	resides, or formerly resided, in the other parent's household;
54	(h) any fear held by the child of a parent based on such parent's
55	specific conduct that is contrary to the child's best interest, and
56	specifically to the child's health and safety; and

(i) the presence of adverse childhood experiences, and whether either 1 2 parent's behaviors have contributed to the presence of adverse childhood 3 experiences for such child. 4 4. (a) The court shall not presume that a child's deficient or nega-5 tive relationship with a parent was caused by the other parent, nor б shall a child be separated from a parent found to be the primary attach-7 ment figure for the purpose of improving a deficient relationship with 8 the other parent. 9 (b) Concerns regarding unconscious or subliminal parental alienation 10 shall not be admissible in any proceeding for custody or visitation and 11 shall not be considered in assessing a child's best interests. (c) No psychological or medical theories or labels related to a 12 child's resistance to contact with one parent shall be admitted into 13 evidence unless they are based on empirical proof of scientific reli-14 ability and validity and generally accepted by the scientific and 15 16 professional community. 17 (d) No reunification treatment or any similar program shall be ordered by the court without scientifically valid and generally accepted proof 18 19 of the effectiveness and therapeutic value of such treatment or program; 20 nor shall a treatment or program be ordered which is predicated on sepa-21 rating a child from the child's primary attachment figure. (e) Any order attempting to remediate a child's resistance to contact 22 or visitation with a parent shall address any parental behaviors or 23 contributions the court determines to be the cause of, either wholly or 24 25 in part, such resistance. 26 (f) In cases where the court has found a parent to be a victim of 27 domestic violence and/or where child abuse has occurred or is occurring, a court shall not consider whether either parent is a friendly parent. 28 5. In cases where the court has found a parent to be a victim of 29 30 domestic violence and/or where child abuse has occurred or is occurring: 31 (a) the court shall not base decisions on a legal presumption of 32 shared parenting; and 33 (b) all costs, including attorney and expert fees, incurred by the non-offending parent and the child, shall be paid by the parent who is 34 35 found to have committed child abuse or domestic violence, unless the offending parent has insufficient means to pay such costs. 36 37 6. (a) Before judges and other court professionals handle child custo-38 dy proceedings in which one or more parties have alleged domestic violence or child abuse, they shall complete at least twenty hours of 39 initial training for the handling of such cases. The office of children 40 41 and family services shall, within amounts appropriated for such purpose, 42 contract exclusively with a nonprofit entity designated by the federal 43 department of health and human services to coordinate statewide improve-44 ments within local communities, social services systems, and programming 45 regarding the prevention and intervention of domestic violence in the 46 state of New York, and other nonprofit entities with whom it subcontracts with expertise in child abuse and adverse childhood experiences 47 48 to develop such training. Such entity, or entities in partnership, shall be responsible for providing such training to judges and other court 49 professionals handling child custody proceedings and for reviewing and 50

51 updating training topics at least once every two years. Such training 52 shall include, but not be limited to: 53 (1) a review of relevant statutes and case law pertaining to domestic

54 violence and child abuse;

5	or child, including verbal, emotional, psychological, and/or economic
6	abuse, isolating tactics and efforts to build trust and an emotional
7	connection with a child to support future manipulation, exploitation and
8	abuse, coercive control, threats, controlling and harassing behaviors,
9	including monitoring of a partner's location and activities, litigation
10	abuse and demands for custody or joint custody in order to pressure the
11	partner to return or punish the partner for leaving;
12	(4) knowledge of trauma, particularly as it relates to sexual abuse
13	and the risks posed to children and the long-term dangers and impacts
14	posed by the presence of adverse childhood experiences;

16	custody proceedings;
17	(6) education regarding the harm courts may cause children in child

21	label that is not supported by scientific research and not generally
22	accepted by the scientific community;
23	(7) the investigation process once a law enforcement agency or a local
24	department of social services has received a report of suspected child
25	abuse, including the limitations of investigating reports of suspected
26	child abuse; and
