Introduced by M. of A. GALEF -- read once and referred to the Committee on Judiciary

AN ACT to amend the domestic relations law, in relation to consideration by the courts in awarding temporary possession of a marital residence during the pending of a divorce action

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Section 234 of the domestic relations law, as amended by 2 chapter 685 of the laws of 1963, is amended to read as follows:

3 § 234. Title to or occupancy and possession of property. 1. In any 4 action for divorce, for a separation, for an annulment or to declare the 5 nullity of a void marriage, the court may (1) determine any question as 6 to the title to property arising between the parties, and (2) make such 7 direction, between the parties, concerning the possession (pendente lite 8 or otherwise) of property, as in the court's discretion justice requires 9 having regard to the circumstances of the case and of the respective 10 parties, which circumstances shall include, but not be limited to, the 11 following:

12 (a) the best interests of the child or children;

13 (b) incidents of domestic violence, which shall include (i) verbal 14 abuse; (ii) physical abuse; and/or (iii) domestic violence as defined by 15 the New York state office for prevention of domestic violence;

16 (c) the financial circumstances of the parties, including, without 17 limitation, whether or not a pendente lite sale of the residence that is 18 the subject of the application for exclusive use and occupancy should be 19 directed; and

20 (d) any other factor which the court shall expressly find to be just 21 and proper.

22 2. Such direction may be made in the final judgment, or by one or 23 more orders from time to time before or subsequent to final judgment, or 24 by both such order or orders and final judgment. Where the title to real 25 property is affected, a copy of such judgment, order or decree, duly 26 certified by the clerk of the court wherein said judgement was rendered, 27 shall be recorded in the office of the recording officer of the county
