April 22, 2022

WHEREAS, The knowledge of ways to live in harmony with our environment and methods and technologies to accomplish this end already exists in the pristine natural resources that New York State has to offer for sustainable communities in rich agriculture, clean waters and a movement that promotes reliance on renewable energy resources and recycling; and

WHEREAS, Local communities can do much to reverse environmental degradation and contribute to building a healthy society by promoting energy conservation, sustainable land use policies, and public transit; and

WHEREAS, There are sound economic, environmental, and social reasons for local governments to initiate energy efficiency and renewable energy practices; and

WHEREAS, The environmental realities of our time require humans to make a dramatic shift in our relationship to the earth; and

WHEREAS, April 22, 2022, marks the 52nd Anniversary of Earth Day, a day set aside to celebrate the beauty and bounty of our environment and to revitalize the efforts required to protect, and maintain respect for, the environment and its resources; and

WHEREAS, Earth Day 2022 activities and events will educate all citizens on the importance of acting in an environmentally sensitive fashion by recycling, conserving energy and water, using efficient transportation, and adopting more ecologically sound lifestyles; and
