AN ACT to amend the judiciary law, in relation to the sufficiency of the number of judges and justices in districts and courts

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. The judiciary law is amended by adding a new section 219-f to read as follows:

§ 219-f. Sufficiency of number of judges and justices in districts and courts. In exercising its powers pursuant to subdivision b of section six of article six of the constitution, the legislature shall seek to ensure that each district and court therein shall have sufficient numbers of judges and justices to perform its functions in a thorough and efficient manner, considering the number of cases filed in each court, the complexity of such cases, the extent of delays in the disposition of cases in each court, and any other factors used by recognized national or state authorities who study the proper allocation of judicial resources.

§ 2. Paragraph (j) of subdivision 1 of section 212 of the judiciary law, as added by chapter 156 of the laws of 1978, is amended to read as follows:

(j) Collect, compile and publish statistics and other data with respect to the unified court system and to assist the legislature in performing its functions pursuant to section two hundred nineteen-f of this article and submit annually, on or before the fifteenth day of March, to the legislature and the governor a report of ~~his~~ such administrator's activities and the state of the unified court system during the preceding year. Such report shall include a specific recommendation to change the number of judges and justices as needed in each court.

§ 3. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after it shall have become a law.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets ~~[-]~~ is old law to be omitted.
