The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. The part heading of part 6 of article 2 and section 261 of
2 the family court act, as added by chapter 682 of the laws of 1975, are
3 amended to read as follows:

4 COUNSEL FOR [~~INDIGENT~~] ADULTS IN
5 FAMILY COURT PROCEEDINGS WHO ARE FINANCIALLY UNABLE TO OBTAIN

7 § 261. Legislative findings and purpose. Persons involved in certain
8 family court proceedings may face the infringements of fundamental 9 interests and rights, including the loss of a child's society and the
10 possibility of criminal charges, and therefore have a constitutional
11 right to counsel in such proceedings. Counsel is often indispensable to 12 a practical realization of due process of law and [~~may be helpful to~~] in 13 helping the court [~~in making~~] to make reasoned determinations of fact
14 and proper orders of disposition. The purpose of this part is to provide
15 a means for implementing the right to assigned counsel for [~~indigent~~
16 ~~persons~~] adults in proceedings under this act who are financially unable 17 to obtain counsel.

18 § 2. The section heading and subdivision (c) of section 262 of the 19 family court act, as added by chapter 682 of the laws of 1975, are
20 amended to read as follows:

21 Assignment of counsel for [~~indigent~~] persons who are financially
22 unable to obtain counsel.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscoring) is new; matter in brackets

(c) Implementation. (i) Any order for the assignment of counsel issued under this part shall be implemented as provided in article eighteen-B of the county law.

(ii) The determination of whether persons are financially eligible for assignment of counsel under this part shall be made in accordance with rules promulgated by the chief administrator of the courts.

(iii) Where representation is provided to an eligible adult prior to the filing of a petition under article ten or ten-A of this act or to a parent, caretaker or interested adult prior to the filing of a petition under article ten-C of this act, such representation shall be eligible for compensation under paragraph (i) of this subdivision.

§ 3. The family court act is amended by adding a new section 1016-a to read as follows:

§ 1016-a. Representation for adults subject to a child protective services investigation and/or child protective proceeding. (a) An adult who is the subject of a child protective services investigation has the right to counsel prior to the initiation of any court proceeding. If such a person appears in court without counsel at the first appearance for any matter under this article, the court, at the outset of the proceeding, shall inform the person of the right to be represented by counsel of their own choosing, of the right to have an adjournment to confer with counsel, and of the right to publicly funded legal representation if the person is financially unable to obtain counsel. For purposes of this section, such person shall be referred to as an "eligible person".

(b) Whenever a person has been provided with publicly funded legal representation under this article, such representation shall continue during (i) the period in which an order of disposition issued by the court pursuant to section one thousand fifty-two of this article directing supervision or protection or suspending judgment, or any extension thereof, is in effect; (ii) an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal, as provided for in section one thousand thirty-nine of this article, or any extension thereof; (iii) a permanency hearing pursuant to subdivision (b) of section one thousand ninety of this act; and (iv) the pendency of a supplemental or related proceeding, including any period of continuing jurisdiction.

(c) All notices and reports required by law and all motions made by any other party to the proceeding or the attorney for the child shall be served upon the attorney for the eligible person.

(d) Representation of the eligible person terminates only if the court relieves the attorney, or a final order is issued and the eligible person is informed of any existing right to appeal and declines to exercise any existing right to appeal and where no further jurisdiction continues under section one thousand eighty-eight of this act or any other provision of law.

(e) The attorney for the eligible person may be relieved as counsel upon application to the court for termination of the appointment. If the application is approved and the person remains eligible for publicly funded counsel, the court shall immediately appoint another attorney pursuant to section two hundred sixty-two of this act, upon whom all notices and reports required by law and all motions made by any other party to the proceeding or the attorney for the child shall be served.

(f) The attorney for the eligible person shall be entitled to compensation pursuant to applicable provisions of law for services rendered prior to and subsequent to the filing of a petition under this article, including disposition of the petition, as well as all permanency and

1 other post-dispositional, supplemental and related proceedings. The
2 court may receive and approve periodic requests by attorneys for payment
3 for all such services provided.

4 § 4. Paragraph 1 of subdivision (a) of section 1094 of the family
