4 system that operates with varying levels of autonomy and that may exhib-
5 it adaptiveness after deployment and that, for explicit or implicit 6 objectives, infers, from the input the system receives, how to generate 7 outputs such as predictions, content, recommendations, or decisions that 8 may influence physical or virtual environments. This includes, but is 9 not limited to, systems, applications, software, or devices designed to:

10 (i) Sense, interpret, process, analyze, or otherwise comprehend data, 11 text, speech, voice, images, video, sensor inputs, or other forms of 12 information from physical and virtual environments.

13 (ii) Abstract concepts, detect patterns, extract features, develop 14 explanatory and predictive data models, or otherwise derive higher-order 15 insights through analysis of data and information.

16 (iii) Apply reasoning, decision logic, knowledge representation, 17 prediction models, data model inferences, or other structured and 18 unstructured techniques and capabilities to generate options, recommen-19 dations, forecasts, determinations, conclusions, actions, or other 20 outputs that influence physical or virtual environments, systems, appli-21 cations, devices, or decision-making.

22 (iv) Operate autonomously once deployed, regardless of whether 23 designed to allow human monitoring, oversight, intervention, or over-24 ride.

"Automated decision-making system" shall not include any software used primarily for basic computerized processes, such as calculators, spell check tools, autocorrect functions, spreadsheets, electronic communications, or any tool that relates only to internal management affairs such as ordering office supplies or processing payments, and that do not materially affect the rights, liberties, safety or welfare of any human.
