1 Section 1. The real property law is amended by adding a new section
2 235-k to read as follows:

3 § 235-k. Use of amenities. 1. Any rental tenant must be provided with 4 the opportunity to use amenities commonly accessible to other tenants of 5 the multiple dwelling and not unique to an individual unit, including, 6 but not limited to: pools, fitness centers, storage spaces, parking, and 7 roofs or gardens accessible to building tenants, in buildings or 8 complexes where such amenities exist, provided, however, that the 9 provisions of this section shall apply only to multiple dwellings with 10 six or more units.

11 2. An owner may charge a fee to rental tenants for use of amenities
12 provided that such fee is reasonable and structured in a manner where it 13 is not prohibitive to such tenants who might normally not have access to 14 such amenities as part of their rental agreements, provided, however,
15 that such fee shall not become part of the rent. Nothing in this section 16 shall prohibit any owner from promulgating uniformly applicable rules on 17 the use of amenities through systems, including but not limited to:
18 sign-up sheets, waiting lists, or lotteries, provided, however that no
19 tenant shall be required to use or pay a fee for any amenity as a condi-
20 tion of the rental of their residential unit.

21 3. In cases where the use of amenities by all occupants is denied,
22 such denial shall not provide the basis for a rent reduction order
