In causing such a plan to be prepared or when such a plan is to be revised, the following persons shall be interviewed and provided an opportunity to actively participate in such preparation or revision: the patient; [~~an~~] the patient advocate or other authorized representative of the patient, to include the parent or parents if the patient is a minor, unless such minor sixteen years of age or older objects to the participation of the parent or parents and there has been a clinical determination by a physician indicating that the involvement of the parent or parents is not clinically appropriate and such determination is documented in the record; upon the request of the patient sixteen years of age or older, a significant individual to the patient including any relative, close friend or individual otherwise concerned with the welfare of the patient, other than an employee of the facility.

patient treatment plan. If such patient is not in compliance, the local social services commissioner shall make a good faith effort to locate the patient and return them to treatment, and monitor such patient for at least an additional thirty days to ensure compliance.

(d) The commissioner may suspend, revoke, or limit the operating certificate of any facility found not to be providing medically recommended treatment plans pursuant to this section.

If after the advisability of following the program proposed in the written [~~service~~] treatment plan has been explained to the patient who has been discharged or who is to be discharged, such patient expresses [~~his~~] their objection to such program or any part thereof, a notation of such objection shall be made in the patient's records.

2. A patient with a mental illness diagnosis may request and shall be entitled to receive inpatient or outpatient treatment recommended for such condition, irrespective of the ability of such person to pay. For the purposes of such treatment, a patient may be relocated to another facility having an appropriate operating certificate. In the absence of documentation of a mental illness diagnosis, attestation by the patient shall serve as presumptive evidence of such condition.

3. Upon discharge or conditional release, a patient shall be entitled to costs of transportation either to their place of usual residence, or another requested destination, if a social services official, in consultation with a patient advocate, determines that such person will have adequate support for their welfare.

§ 22. The mental hygiene law is amended by adding two new sections 9.34 and 9.36 to read as follows:

§ 9.34 Court authorization to continued inpatient treatment and care.

(a) If the director shall determine that a patient admitted upon an application supported by medical certification, for whom there is no court order authorizing retention for a specified period, is in need of discharge and if such patient or patient advocate does not agree with such discharge, the patient or anyone on their behalf shall apply to the supreme court or the county court in the county where the hospital is located for an order for continued inpatient treatment and care at the discretion of the patient. The hospital shall retain the patient for such further period. The court shall cause written notice of such application to be given to the director and a copy thereof shall be given personally or by mail to the persons required by this article to be served with notice of such patient's initial admission and to the mental hygiene legal service. Such notice shall state that a hearing may be requested and that failure to make such a request within five days, excluding Sunday and holidays, from the date that the notice was given to the director will permit the entry without a hearing of an order authorizing continued inpatient treatment and care.

(b) If no request is made for a hearing on behalf of the director within five days, excluding Sunday and holidays, from the date such notice of such application was given to such director, and if the mental hygiene legal service has not requested a hearing, the court receiving the application may, if satisfied that the patient requires continued inpatient care and treatment or transfer and continued retention, immediately issue an order authorizing continued inpatient treatment and care for such patient in such hospital.

(c) Upon the demand of the patient or of anyone on their behalf or upon request of the mental hygiene legal service, the court shall, or may on its own motion, fix a date for the hearing of the application, in like manner as is provided for hearings in section 9.31 of this article. The provisions of such section shall apply to the procedure for obtaining and holding a hearing and to the granting or refusal to grant an order of continued inpatient treatment and care by the court, except that if the patient has already had a hearing, they shall not have the right to designate initially the county in which the hearing shall be held.

(d) If the director of a hospital, in which a patient is retained pursuant to the foregoing subdivisions of this section, shall determine that the condition of such patient requires discharge, such director shall, if such patient does not agree to such discharge, apply during the period of retention authorized by the last order of the court to the supreme court or the county court in the county where the hospital is located for an order authorizing discharge of such patient. The procedures for obtaining any order pursuant to this subdivision shall be in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing subdivisions of this section; provided that the patient or anyone on such patient's behalf or the mental hygiene legal service may request that the patient be brought personally before the court.

(e) Nothing in this section shall prohibit the patient from voluntarily agreeing to such discharge at any time; provided, however, that such patient may not receive remuneration to agree to such discharge.

§ 9.36 Review of court authorization to continued inpatient care and treatment.

(a) If a hospital that has been ordered to continue provision of inpatient treatment and care be dissatisfied with any such order, the director may, during the period of authorized continued treatment and care, obtain a rehearing and a review of the proceedings already had and of such order upon a petition to a justice of the supreme court other than the judge or justice presiding over the court making such order. Such justice shall cause a jury to be summoned and shall try the question of the mental illness and the need for retention of the patient so authorized to receive continued inpatient treatment and care. Any such director applying for such review may waive the trial of the fact by a jury and consent in writing to trial of such fact by the court. If the verdict of the jury, or the decision of the court when jury trial has been waived, be that such person does not have a mental illness or is not in need of retention the justice shall forthwith discharge such patient, but if the verdict of the jury, or the decision of the court where a jury trial has been waived, be that such person is in need of retention the justice shall certify that fact and make an order authorizing continued inpatient treatment and care. Such order shall be presented, at the time of authorization, to, and filed with, the director, and a copy thereof shall be forwarded to the department by such director and filed in the office thereof. Proceedings under the order shall not be stayed pending an appeal therefrom, except upon an order of a justice of the supreme court, made upon a notice and after a hearing, with provisions made therein for such temporary care or confinement of the alleged person with a mental illness as may be deemed necessary.

(b) Nothing in this section shall prohibit the patient from voluntarily agreeing to such discharge at any time; provided, however, that such patient may not receive remuneration to agree to such discharge.

§ 23. Section 29.19 of the mental hygiene law, as amended by chapter 408 of the laws of 1999, is amended to read as follows:

§ 29.19 Powers and duties [~~of peace officers acting pursuant to their special duties and police officers~~] to apprehend, restrain, and transport persons to facilities.
