8 § 1101. Jurisdiction. (a) The family court shall have exclusive juris-

10 (b) In determining the jurisdiction of the family court under this 11 article, the age of the child at the time the proceedings are initiated 12 is controlling.

13 § 1102. Venue. Proceedings commenced under this article may originate 14 in the county of the child's federal placement or where the child is 15 domiciled at the time of the filing.

16 § 1103. Petitions. (a) At any time, a child in a federal placement or 22 outside of the state of New York or outside of the United States.

23 (c) Facts alleged in a petition under this article relating to past

26 services or result in the placement of any individual on the state
27 central register of child abuse and maltreatment.

28 § 1104. Service of process. Service of a summons and petition under 29 this article shall be made to any persons named in the petition as known

32 § 1105. Hearings and orders. (a) Except for good cause shown, the 33 hearing shall be held as soon as practicable and shall not be adjourned.

34 (b) The court shall make a finding of dependency if, based upon the 35 evidence presented, the court finds that the child qualifies as a 36 dependent child. If the proof does not conform to the specific allega-37 tions of the petition, the court may amend the allegations to conform to 38 the proof if no party objects to such conformation.

39 (c) The court shall consider all material and relevant evidence
40 including but not limited to sworn statements, and birth and death
41 certificates.

42 (d) Upon determining that a child is a dependent child, the court may 43 issue orders as may be necessary to ensure the child's safety and 44 wellbeing, consistent with its authority under section two hundred 45 fifty-five of this act.

46 (e) The court order of dependency may recognize the child's placement 47 in federal custody. The court shall not alter the child's custody with-48 out the consent of the United States Department of Health and Human 49 Services.

50 § 1106. Continuing court jurisdiction. (a) The court shall maintain 51 jurisdiction over a case for purposes of hearing a motion for special

53 special findings filed after initiation of a proceeding under this arti-
54 cle and shall address each of the requested special findings.

55 (b) Following adjudication on the merits and disposition of any pend-56 ing motions, the court may terminate proceedings if it determines that

1 continued jurisdiction over the subject child would no longer serve the 2 child's best interests.

3 (c) In the event that further judicial action is needed as provided 4 for in this article, the proceeding may be restored to the calendar by 5 motion or order to show cause on notice to all parties.

6 (d) Upon reaching their eighteenth birthday, the child may consent to
