Introduced by M. of A. HEVESI -- read once and referred to the Committee on Judiciary

AN ACT to amend the family court act, in relation to dispositions in family offense cases and orders of protection against a child under the age of eighteen who is alleged to be a person in need of supervision or to have committed a family offense

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Subdivision (a) of section 759 of the family court act, as 2 amended by chapter 483 of the laws of 1995, is amended to read as 3 follows:

4 (a) to stay away from the home, school, business or place of employ-5 ment of any other party, the other spouse, the other parent or the 6 child, and to stay away from any other specific location designated by 7 the court, provided, however, that where the respondent resides with a 8 parent, other person legally responsible or other party, no order of 9 protection or temporary order of protection shall be issued that directs 10 the respondent to stay away from the home of such individual if, after 11 inquiry, the court determines that the effect of such order would leave 12 the respondent without an appropriate alternative residence either with 13 a relative or other suitable person or in pre-dispositional or disposi-14 tional placement under section seven hundred forty or seven hundred 15 fifty-six of this article;

16 § 2. Paragraphs (a) and (c) of subdivision 3 of section 821-a of the 17 family court act, as added by chapter 222 of the laws of 1994, are 18 amended and a new subdivision 7 is added to read as follows:

19 (a) advise the parties of the right to retain legal representation or, 20 if indigent, the right to have counsel appointed pursuant to section two 21 hundred sixty-two of this act and, if the respondent is under the age of 22 eighteen and the petitioner is a parent or other person legally respon-23 sible for the respondent, the right to have a guardian ad litem
24 appointed, if the court deems it appropriate;

25 (c) provide the respondent with a copy of such petition; and the court 26 may:

LBD11989-01-5

1 (i) order the release of the respondent on [~~his or her~~] such respondent's own recognizance pending further appearances as required by the 2 court;
3

4 (ii) if the respondent is under the age of eighteen, appoint a guardian ad litem for the respondent if the court deems it appropriate;

5 (iii) where the respondent is over the age of eighteen, direct that 6 the respondent post bail in a manner authorized pursuant to section one 7 hundred fifty-five-a of this act in an amount set by the court; or

8 [~~(iii)~~] (iv) where the respondent is over the age of eighteen, issue a 9 commitment order directing that the respondent be remanded to the custody 10 of the county sheriff or other appropriate law enforcement official 11 until such time as bail is posted as required by the court.

13 7. At any time upon or after the filing of a petition under this article by a parent or other person legally responsible against a child under the age of eighteen, the court may, on its own motion or on motion of any party, substitute a petition alleging that the child is a person in need of supervision, provided, however, that if the petition has been filed by a parent or other person legally responsible against a child under the age of twelve, the court shall substitute a petition alleging that the child is a person in need of supervision at such time as the petitioner first appears in court.

41 any political subdivision thereof; or

42 § 4. Section 842 of the family court act is amended by adding a new 43 closing paragraph to read as follows:

44 Where the respondent was under the age of eighteen at the time of the filing of the petition and resides with the petitioner or other party who seeks the respondent's exclusion from the home, the court shall inquire whether the respondent has a relative or other suitable person with whom to reside. In such cases, no order of protection or temporary order of protection shall be issued under this section directing the respondent to stay away from such home if the court determines that the effect of such order would leave the respondent without an appropriate alternative residence.
