FISCAL NOTE.--This bill would authorize any mutual fund or other institutional investor incorporated under the laws of New York state that is damaged in the connection with the purchase or sale of a security to bring an action for damages against the entity that committed or participated in the commission of actions prohibited by section 352-c of the General Business Law.

If this bill is enacted, insofar as it would affect the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System and the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System, there would not be any costs.

This estimate, dated March 23, 2009, and intended for use only during the 2009 Legislative Session, is Fiscal Note No. 2009-198, prepared by the Actuary for the New York State and Local Employees' Retirement System and the New York State and Local Police and Fire Retirement System.

FISCAL NOTE.--This bill would renumber section 179-a of the Retirement and Social Security Law to section 179-b and add a new section 179-a which would allow the New York State Teachers' Retirement System to bring an action for damages against any person, partnership, corporation, company, limited liability company, trust, or association which commits or participates in any act prohibited by section 352-c of the General Business Law in connection with the purchase or sale of a security.

It is estimated that there will be no annual cost to the employers of members of the New York State Teachers' Retirement System if this bill is enacted.

The source of this estimate is Fiscal Note 2009-69 dated May 27, 2009 prepared by the Actuary of the New York State Teachers' Retirement System and is intended for use only during the 2009 Legislative Session.

FISCAL NOTE.--This bill would provide the authority to institutional investors, including the State and City of New York retirement systems, to bring actions for damages with respect to violations of the State's securities laws.

With respect to the City of New York, there are no budgetary costs associated with enactment of this bill. This bill would permit the City to seek financial remedies and recoveries to the extent that certain securities violations occurred.

This fiscal note is intended solely for the 2009 legislative session and was prepared by Andrew G. Dowling, Assistant Director, New York City Office of Management and Budget.
