AN ACT to amend the penal law and the criminal procedure law, in relation to mandatory imprisonment and plea restrictions for offenses victimizing the elderly and physically disabled

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEM-BLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1     Section 1. It is hereby found and declared that elderly and physically
2 disabled people continue to be singled out as victims of crime. It is 3 also found that the physical harm and emotional trauma suffered by 4 elderly and physically disabled crime victims has a devastating effect 5 on the lives of those victims.
6     The elderly or physically disabled victim has a decreased physical 7 capability to resist an attacker and thus becomes an inviting target of 8 crime. Moreover, the aftereffects of crime on the elderly and the phys-9 ically handicapped affect them more deeply than any statistics would 10 indicate. The emotional trauma and possible serious physical damage 11 resulting from a face to face crime may cause a permanent downgrading in 12 the elderly or physically disabled victim's lifestyle. Such victims
13 often impose "house-arrest" on themselves, afraid to shop, to visit 14 friends, to go to the doctor, to live, unless behind locked doors. Even 15 those elderly or physically disabled who are not direct victims of crime
16 suffer indirectly, because they, having learned of the terrible tragedy 17 suffered by other elderly and physically disabled and fearful for their 18 own individual safety, barricade themselves within their homes. The 19 older or physically disabled crime victim is thus twice victimized--by 20 the crime and by its aftermath.
21     Criminologists, sociologists, psychologists, and the police all recog-22 nize and acknowledge these facts, but the law does not. It has been

[ ] is old law to be omitted.

1 ineffective in deterring crimes against the elderly and the physically 2 disabled, particularly those involving violence or the threat of 3 violence. Similarly, special projects on crime prevention and improved 4 techniques of communications for the elderly to the police do not halt 5 or reduce such crime. For these reasons, offenses committed against the 6 elderly or the physically disabled must be treated as unique, and legis-7 lation must be enacted to provide a meaningful deterrent for those 8 offenders who now victimize the elderly and the physically disabled.

9 S 2. Subdivision 18 of section 10.00 of the penal law, as amended by 10 chapter 7 of the laws of 2007, is amended to read as follows:
