11 clubs, their members are true stewards of the land, and provide impor-
12 tant environmental and habitat preservation.

13 The provisions of this act, in the case of the conveyance of privately
14 owned land to the state of New York when a sportsmen's club is located 15 upon such land, is intended to grant any such club the right of first 16 refusal to purchase or attain a long term lease of the land utilized by 17 the club and additional land including, but not limited to, a deeded 18 right of way at fair market value. Sportsmen's clubs shall be deemed to 19 retain exclusive access to and usage rights for hunting and fishing, 20 while allowing public access to the land for other recreational activ-
21 ities.
