1 energy. The report shall also be made available to the public via the 2 authority website.

3 2. The study shall include, but not be limited to an examination of 4 the following:

5 a. The duration of any behavioral changes with respect to energy effi-6 ciency and clean energy practices and services including a comparative 7 examination of consumers who maintain energy efficiency practices after 8 participation in energy efficiency and other clean energy programs and 9 consumers who do not maintain such practices. In completing this exam-10 ination, the authority may apply social science theories and other 11 applicable methods and mechanisms to better understand, and thus have 12 energy efficiency and clean energy programs replicate program strategies 13 that result in sustainable behaviors;

14 b. Behavioral change as a tool to improve the effectiveness of energy 15 efficiency programs, including an examination of consumers that partic-
16 ipate in energy efficiency and other clean energy programs, and consum-
17 ers who do not. In completing this examination, the authority may devel-18 op program strategies and recommendations through the application of 19 insights from the behavioral sciences and/or behavior change tools and 20 strategies which can elicit different consumer motivations that drive
21 energy-related decisions. From such examinations, the authority may 22 make program recommendations and implement program strategies that will 23 help to improve program participation and consumer decision-making; and 24 c. The impact of market prices and market price fluctuations on 25 consumer choices and behavior and the effect as a response to market

26 based fluctuations to determine the impact this has on energy conserva-
27 tion efforts.

28 3. The authority shall consult with the department of public service,
29 the power authority of the state of New York, the Long Island power
30 authority and appropriate gas and electric corporations. The department 31 of public service, the power authority of the state of New York, the 32 Long Island power authority and gas and electric corporations shall 33 cooperate with the authority and its contractor in the completion of 34 this study.

35 4. The commissioner of the department of environmental conservation 36 shall provide for the transfer of $1,000,000 of revenues collected under 37 direct oversight by the department of environmental conservation, from 38 the auction of any emissions allowances for air contaminants to the New 39 York State Energy Research and Development Authority for the purposes of 40 this act.

41 S 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
