Introduced by Sen. DUANE -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Health

AN ACT to amend the public health law, in relation to establishing a demonstration program to study transition authorization panels as an approach to secure decisions regarding the transition of incapable patients who do not have legally authorized decisionmakers from inpatient care to post-acute care; and providing for the repeal of such provisions upon expiration thereof

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The legislature finds and declares that in many instances there are hospital patients who are medically ready to transition to a different level of care, such as nursing home care, home care or assisted living, but they lack capacity to authorize the transition, and also lack a family member or other person who can authorize the transition on their behalf. As a result, such patients can be subject to inordinate delays in accomplishing a needed transition, and can remain as hospital inpatients for long periods. That delay is harmful to the interests of those patients, as well as to other persons who may need the scarce inpatient resources, to hospitals, to payors and to the public in general.

The legislature further finds that while article 81 of the mental hygiene law provides a procedure for the court-appointment of guardians who could be empowered to authorize transition for such patients, such procedure was designed for longer-term assistance with an incapacitated person's personal and property affairs, and includes features that often go beyond what is needed for transition-related decisions alone. As a result, the guardianship proceeding can require far more time, effort and expense than is warranted for this limited, non-contested decision.

Accordingly, the legislature finds that it would be valuable to study an alternative approach to secure decisions relating to the transition of isolated incapable patients from inpatient care to post-acute care. Specifically, the transition authorization panel demonstration program shows promise as means to protect the rights and interests of incapable patients in the transition decision, while allowing such decisions to be made within a reasonable timeframe.
