PART A

2 Section 1. Legislative findings and intent. The legislature hereby 3 recognizes the need to increase the number of producers to continue the 4 long tradition of agricultural production in New York state. The average
5 age of a farm operator in the state is fifty-four years of age. In 2004,
6 less than 1,000 students were awarded degrees in agriculture by a 7 college in this state and the majority of these degrees were not awarded 8 in a discipline leading to a career as a producer. The agricultural 9 industry has a substantial impact on the overall economic health and 10 well-being of the state, and it is in the best interest of the state to 11 ensure that enough producers are recruited and retained in agricultural 12 production.

13 S 2. The board of regents and the education department, in consulta-14 tion with the department of agriculture and markets, shall:

15 (a) Investigate current education programs for agriculture in voca-
16 tional-technical schools, community colleges and universities, to iden-17 tify the scope of agricultural education programs in the state;

18 (b) Identify non-traditional college education programs administered 19 in other states and other countries;

20 (c) Develop a model for articulation and career mobility to enable 21 producers in every agricultural production field to progress to owner-
22 ship or management of land used in agricultural production, as defined 23 in subdivision 4 of section 301 of the agriculture and markets law; and

24 (d) Develop models for innovative agriculture education programs that 25 will encourage individuals to become producers, utilizing an agricul-26 tural mentoring program from degree award to retirement, including 27 continuing education opportunities.

28 S 3. The board of regents and the education department shall present
29 their final findings and recommendations to the legislature on or before 30 January 1, 2012.

31 S 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

32
