2011-2012 Regular Sessions

I N S E N A T E

February 1, 2011

Introduced by Sen. PARKER -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Banks

AN ACT in relation to alternative finance investment bonds

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1 Section 1. Legislative findings and intent. 1. New York's historical 2 prosperity has derived from the freedom and innovative nature of the 3 state's capital markets and New York's roles as a center of foreign 4 trade and investment, which has helped build the industries and create 5 the jobs that earned the state the nickname of the Empire State.
6 2. The legislature finds that in order to bring more jobs to New York 7 in a global economy, and to increase the state's competitiveness, the 8 state must find new sources of capital investment to create opportunities
9 throughout the state. An innovative way to accomplish this goal
10 would be to create alternate investment instruments that would attract 11 capital from investors who for personal, moral or religious reasons are 12 unable to use conventional debt instruments such as bonds due to their 13 inability to purchase securities that generate interest.
14 3. New York has the proud heritage of being a model for the rest of 15 the nation in the areas of ethnic, national, racial, and religious 16 tolerance and diversity. However, over time large numbers of New Yorkers 17 have been unable to participate in investment opportunities offered by 18 the state, or in public-private partnerships due to the lack of diverse 19 means of long term capital investments. Broadening the state's portfolio 20 of investment instruments would not only enfranchise large groups of New 21 Yorkers and lower the costs of state and local borrowing, but would also 22 aid in community renewal and revitalization. Creating more inclusive 23 forms of state financial opportunities would also broaden the streams of 24 capital available to the state, lowering the cost of financing and once 25 again involving the world's investors in the development of our state's 26 economy.

EXPLANATION--Matter in ITALICS (underscored) is new; matter in brackets

1 4. The legislature therefore declares that expanding New York's tools
2 for economic development by creating new forms of alternative invest-3 ments would enable it to participate in the multi-billion dollar market 4 for alternative investment vehicles akin to conventional bonds, thus 5 freeing up new capital for business and job creation. The creation of 6 these innovative financial instruments will furthermore permit individ-
7 uals and institutions of all faiths to invest in and issue such instru-8 ments, redressing historic wrongs and low participation rates in our 9 economy.

55 distressed census tracts.

56 S 3. This act shall take effect immediately.
