- S 2. Legislative findings and intent. The legislature hereby recognizes the need to increase the pool of available nursing resources to meet the increased demands on the health care delivery system. The more complex nature of illnesses, constraints on reimbursement, pressuring accelerated treatment and earlier patient discharge, the explosion of technology, and requirements for intense monitoring for quality assurance, may be diverting nurses from the bedside into early burnout, retirement or employment elsewhere. The state's nursing education program, encompassing nursing assistants, licensed practical nurses and licensed (registered) nurses should be better articulated for career mobility in order to make the nursing profession more attractive to individuals and for recruiting and retaining qualified nurses in the health care delivery system.
- S 3. The board of regents and the state education department, in consultation with the department of health shall:
- 18 (1) investigate current education programs for nurses in all settings, 19 such as high schools, vocational-technical schools, community colleges 20 and universities, to identify the scope of nursing education programs in 21 the state;

EXPLANATION--Matter in ITALICS (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [] is old law to be omitted.

12 13 (2) ensure that the investigation of nursing programs be directed toward identifying current articulation programs, determining which factors contribute to success or failure, and sharing such information with schools;

- (3) develop a model for articulation and career mobility to enable nurses at every level of the profession to progress to higher levels and advance their professional status by integrating into a recognized nursing curriculum; and
- (4) develop models for innovative nursing education programs that will encourage flexibility in classroom hours, in education program schedules and through satellite locations, and at clinical practice settings so that individuals throughout the state have greater access to a nursing education program.
- 14 S 4. The board of regents and the state education department shall 15 present their final findings and recommendations to the legislature on 16 January 1, 2013.
- 17 S 5. This act shall take effect immediately.
