Introduced by M. of A. MORELLE, SWEENEY, SCHIMMINGER, DESTITO, ENGLEBRIGHT, BOYLAND, MAGNARELLI, RAMOS -- read once and referred to the Committee on Economic Development

AN ACT to amend the New York state urban development corporation act, in relation to high-technology working capital loan guarantees

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Legislative findings and declarations. The legislature hereby finds that economic expansion in tomorrow's economy will flow from scientific and technological advances. Indeed, technological innovation has been at the root of nearly all job creation throughout the twentieth century and will remain the engine of economic growth in the twenty-first, leading to the creation of a broad spectrum of higher paying jobs.

The legislature further finds that high-technology economic development must have a high priority for immediate action to set the stage for retooling our industrial base to meet the challenges of tomorrow's technology-based economy.

The legislature further finds that the economic well-being of New York state would be served by new and innovative approaches to financing the small business which traditionally has had difficulty in gaining access to capital markets and which are severely hampered in their expansion activities by their diminished access to capital.

The legislature further finds that decentralized economic development programs enlisting the hands-on expertise of the local economic development communities are much better able to serve small, local businesses than centralized state programs.

Therefore, the legislature declares that the economic interests of New York state and the well-being of local communities would be served by supporting and stimulating the small high-technology enterprises that add economic value to New York providing a broad spectrum of high-paying
