Introduced by Sen. SQUADRON -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Consumer Protection

AN ACT to amend the general business law, in relation to price gouging

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1     Section 1. Section 396-r of the general business law, as amended by 2 chapter 510 of the laws of 1998, subdivision 4 as amended by chapter 224
3 of the laws of 2008, is amended to read as follows:

4     S 396-r. Price gouging. 1. Legislative findings and declaration. The 5 legislature hereby finds that during periods of abnormal disruption of 6 the market caused by strikes, power failures, severe shortages or other 7 extraordinary adverse circumstances, some parties within the chain of 8 distribution of consumer goods have taken unfair advantage of consumers 9 by charging grossly excessive prices for essential consumer goods and 10 services.

11     In order to prevent any party within the chain of distribution of any 12 consumer goods from taking unfair advantage of consumers during abnormal
13 disruptions of the market, the legislature declares that the public 14 interest requires that such conduct be prohibited and made subject to 15 civil AND CRIMINAL penalties.

16     2. During any abnormal disruption of the market for consumer goods and 17 services vital and necessary for the health, safety and welfare of 18 consumers, no party within the chain of distribution of such consumer 19 goods or services or both shall sell or offer to sell any such goods or 20 services or both for an amount which represents an unconscionably excessive price. For purposes of this section, the phrase "abnormal disruption of the market" shall mean any change in the market, whether 23 actual or imminently threatened, resulting from stress of weather,
24 convulsion of nature, failure or shortage of electric power or other 25 source of energy, strike, civil disorder, war, military action, national 26 or local emergency, or other cause of an abnormal disruption of the

1 market [which results in the declaration of a state of emergency by the 2 governor]. For the purposes of this section, the term consumer goods and 3 services shall mean those used, bought or rendered primarily for 4 personal, family or household purposes. This prohibition shall apply to 5 all parties within the chain of distribution, including any manufactur-
6 er, supplier, wholesaler, distributor or retail seller of consumer goods
7 or services or both sold by one party to another when the product sold
8 was located in the state prior to the sale. Consumer goods and services 9 shall also include any repairs made by any party within the chain of 10 distribution of consumer goods on an emergency basis as a result of such 11 abnormal disruption of the market.

12 3. Whether a price is unconscionably excessive is a question of law
13 for the court.

14 (a) The court's determination that a violation of this section has 15 occurred shall be based on any of the following factors: (i) that the 16 amount of the excess in price is unconscionably extreme; or (ii) that 17 there was an exercise of unfair leverage or unconscionable means; or 18 (iii) a combination of both factors in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of 19 this paragraph.

20 (b) In any proceeding commenced pursuant to subdivision [four] FIVE of 21 this section, prima facie proof that a violation of this section has 22 occurred shall include evidence that

23 (i) the amount charged represents a gross disparity between the price 24 of the goods or services which were the subject of the transaction and 25 their value measured by the price at which such consumer goods or 26 services were sold or offered for sale by the defendant in the usual
27 course of business immediately prior to the onset of the abnormal 28 disruption of the market or

29 (ii) the amount charged grossly exceeded the price at which the same
30 or similar goods or services were readily obtainable by other consumers
31 in the trade area. A defendant may rebut a prima facie case with 32 evidence that additional costs not within the control of the defendant
33 were imposed on the defendant for the goods or services.

34 4. ANY PERSON WHO VIOLATES THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION SHALL BE 35 GUILTY OF A VIOLATION.

36 5. Where a violation of this section is alleged to have occurred, A
37 DISTRICT ATTORNEY MAY FILE AN ACCUSATORY INSTRUMENT WITH A CRIMINAL 38 COURT WITHIN THE JUDICIAL DISTRICT IN WHICH SUCH VIOLATIONS ARE ALLEGED 39 TO HAVE OCCURRED, AND the attorney general may apply in the name of the 40 People of the State of New York to the supreme court of the State of New 41 York within the judicial district in which such violations are alleged 42 to have occurred, on notice of five days, for an order enjoining or 43 restraining commission or continuance of the alleged unlawful acts. In 44 any such proceeding, the court shall impose a civil penalty in an amount 45 not to exceed twenty-five thousand dollars and, where appropriate, order 46 restitution to aggrieved consumers.

47 S 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
