"Qualifying real property taxes" means all real property taxes, special ad valorem levies and special assessments, AND MUNICIPAL USER FEES, exclusive of penalties and interest, levied on the residence of a qualified taxpayer and paid during the taxable year [less the credit claimed under subsection (n-1) of this section]. In addition, for taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty-four, a qualified taxpayer may elect to include any additional that would have been levied in the absence of an exemption from real property taxation pursuant to section four hundred sixty-seven of the property tax law. If tenant-stockholders in a cooperative housing corporation have met the requirements of section two hundred sixteen of the internal revenue code by which they are allowed a deduction for real estate taxes, the amount of taxes so allowable, or which would be allowif the taxpayer had filed returns on a cash basis, shall be qualifying real property taxes. If a residence is owned by two or more individuals as joint tenants or tenants in common, and one or more than one individual is not a member of the household, qualifying real property taxes is that part of such taxes on the residence which reflects the ownership percentage of the qualified taxpayer and members of his household. If a residence is an integral part of a larger unit, qualifying real property taxes shall be limited to that amount of such taxes paid
