AN ACT to amend the general business law and the penal law, in relation to preventing the sale of firearms, rifles, and shotguns to criminals

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1     Section 1. Legislative findings and declaration. The legislature here-
2     by finds and declares as follows:
3     1. Firearms, rifles and shotguns are used to kill over 30,000 individ-
4     uals in the United States every year, including 1,000 individuals in New 5     York state alone. Additionally, there are 100,000 non-fatal injuries
6     across the country. The federal government has largely ignored this 7     public health crisis and has left it up to state and local governments
8     to protect its citizens. Firearm violence also costs billions of dollars 9     and causes incalculable emotional damage, devastating families and 10    communities throughout the country. Therefore, the state of New York 11    has a strong interest in reducing violence and crimes that involve the 12    use of firearms and the illegal trafficking of firearms. Illegal guns 13    obtained throughout the state end up in the hands of criminals, youth 14    and violent individuals who use them to threaten, maim and kill.
15    2. There is a thriving underground market for illegal firearms, large-16    ly driven by demand from drug gangs and other criminals. A highly effi-17    cient and continuous business practice exists in which firearms are 18    moved from legal manufacture and sale to prohibited purchasers, making 19    them illegal firearms. In 2011, according to a review by the federal 20    Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) of trace data
21    compiled for several regions in the state, including Albany, Buffalo, 22    Rochester, Syracuse, Long Island and New York City that calendar year,

[ ] is old law to be omitted.

8,793 firearms were submitted to be traced, 2,119 of which were long guns. Outside New York City, long guns are sold without a permit. Fifty-five percent of the firearms recovered from crimes by New York law enforcement in 2011 were found outside New York City. A significant portion of guns involved in crimes upstate originate within the state. For example, according to 2009 ATF crime gun trace data, 69% of crime guns in the Buffalo area and 50% of crime guns in the Syracuse area originated within New York state.

3. Youth are particularly at risk of being killed with guns. According to the Children's Defense Fund, in 2009 alone, 97 children and teens were killed with guns (80 homicide and 17 suicide) in New York state. In 2010, 207 children and teens (under the age of 25) in New York state were murdered with guns, and 57 children and teens (under the age of 25) in New York state committed suicide with a firearm.

4. A substantial portion of illegal firearms are diverted to the illegal market through licensed gun dealers. Rogue gun dealers play a key role in this market. These rogue dealers funnel guns to the illegal market through a variety of channels. One of the most common means is to allow "straw purchases". A straw purchase occurs when a person purchases a gun on behalf of a prohibited person. The ATF conducted an investigation of gun trafficking from July 1996 to December 1998 and found that almost 26,000 trafficked firearms were associated with investigations in which there was a straw purchaser. Almost 50% of all trafficking investigations involved straw purchasers, with an average of 37 firearms trafficked per investigation. Another issue, according to a 2008 report by Mayors Against Illegal Guns, Inside Straw Purchasing: How Criminals Get Guns Illegally, is that many traffickers return to the same store again and again once they have identified it as one in which they can make straw purchases easily. According to the ATF, 1 percent of gun dealers are the source of almost 60 percent of crime guns.

5. Although most gun dealers operate their businesses legally and responsibly, some gun dealers who are corrupt or maintain shoddy record-keeping practices flood the streets with illegal weapons as a result of their unrestricted access to new gun inventory and the unwillingness of gun manufacturers to terminate their supply to these rogue dealers. Current federal and state regulation has not curbed the business practice of illegal gun dealers. According to a 2004 study by Americans for Gun Safety, of the 120 worst gun dealers in the country, namely those dealers with an average of 500 crime guns traced to them, 96 were still in operation.

6. Moreover, this problem is not limited to unlicensed sellers, and clearly includes federal firearms licensees (FFLs). Indeed, although FFLs were involved in under 10% of the trafficking investigations undertaken by ATF, they were associated with the largest number of diverted firearms--over 40,000 guns, which is nearly half of the total number of trafficked firearms documented during the two-year period of the ATF's investigation. Additionally, a 2010 report by Mayors Against Illegal Guns indicated that several states which allow state authorities to supplement the federal ATF inspection with routine inspections provide law enforcement with more opportunities to uncover dealers in violation of the law. These inspections also help identify dealers who exercise lax oversight over their inventory and may lead to improved compliance with federal, state, and local laws.

7. Current New York state laws governing firearm dealers are inadequate to prevent the diversion of firearms to the illegal marketplace. Additional protections that are needed include, but are not limited to,

1 better gun dealer internal compliance procedures, programs to eliminate 2 straw purchases, increased liability insurance, improved security meas-
3 ures, reducing youth access, mandatory training for gun dealer employ-
4 ees, and improved recordkeeping requirements. The additional protections 5 set forth in this act will greatly enhance the state's efforts to reduce 6 criminal activity in the state.

7 S 2. Article 40 and sections 900 and 901 of the general business law, 8 as renumbered by chapter 407 of the laws of 1973, are renumbered article 9 50 and sections 1001 and 1002 and a new article 40 is added to read as
