however, that where a fine imposed pursuant to this subdivision remains wholly or partly unpaid, after the exhaustion of the cash and securities 3 of the employee organization, such forfeiture shall be suspended to the extent necessary for the unpaid portion of such fine to be accumulated 5 by the public employer and transmitted to the court. In fixing amount of the fine and/or duration of the forfeiture, the court shall 6 7 consider all the facts and circumstances directly related 8 contempt, including, but not limited to: (i) the extent of the wilful defiance of or a resistance to the court's mandate (ii) the impact of 9 10 strike on the public health, safety, and welfare of the community 11 and (iii) the ability of the employee organization to pay the fine imposed; and the court may consider (i) the refusal of the employee 12 organization or the appropriate public employer, as defined in section 13 14 two hundred one of the civil service law, or the representatives there-15 of, to submit to the mediation and fact-finding procedures provided in section two hundred nine of the civil service law and (ii) whether, if 16 so alleged by the employee organization AND WHEN VIEWED IN A LIGHT MOST 17 FAVORABLE TO SUCH EMPLOYEE ORGANIZATION, the appropriate public employer 18 19 or its representatives engaged in such acts of extreme provocation as to detract from the responsibility of the employee organization for the 20 21 strike. In determining the ability of the employee organization to pay 22 fine imposed, the court shall consider both the income and the 23 assets of such employee organization. 24

- S 2. Paragraph (f) of subdivision 3 of section 210 of the civil service law, as amended by chapter 677 of the laws of 1977, is amended to read as follows:
- (f) If the board determines that an employee organization has violated the provisions of subdivision one of this section, the board shall order forfeiture of the rights granted pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision one, and subdivision three of section two hundred eight of this chapter, for such specified period of time [as the board shall determine, or, in the discretion of the board, for an indefinite period of time] NOT TO EXCEED THIRTY DAYS subject to restoration upon application, with notice to all interested parties, supported by proof good faith compliance with the requirements of subdivision one of this section since the date of such violation, such proof to include, for example, the successful negotiation, without a violation of subdivision one of this section, of a contract covering the employees in the unit affected by such violation; provided, however, that where a fine imposed on an employee organization pursuant to subdivision two of section seven hundred fifty-one of the judiciary law remains wholly or after the exhaustion of the cash and securities of the partly unpaid, employee organization, the board shall direct that, notwithstanding such forfeiture, such membership dues deduction shall be continued to the extent necessary to pay such fine and such public employer shall transmit such moneys to the court. In fixing the duration of the forfeiture, board shall consider all the relevant facts and circumstances, including but not limited to: (i) the extent of any wilful defiance of subdivision one of this section (ii) the impact of the strike on the public health, safety, and welfare of the community and (iii) the financial resources of the employee organization; and the board may consider the refusal of the employee organization or the appropriate public employer or the representative thereof, to submit to the mediation and fact-finding procedures provided in section two hundred nine and (ii) whether, if so alleged by the employee organization AND WHEN VIEWED IN A LIGHT MOST FAVORABLE TO SUCH EMPLOYEE ORGANIZATION, the appropriate public employer or its representatives engaged in such acts of extreme provocation as to detract from the responsibility of the employee organization for the strike. In determining the financial resources of the employee organization, the board shall consider both the income and the assets of such employee organization. In the event membership dues are collected by the public employer as provided in paragraph (b) of subdivision one of section two hundred eight of this chapter, the books and records of such public employer shall be prima facie evidence of the amount so collected.

10 S 3. This act shall take effect immediately.
