- S 399-y. Automated teller machine fee disclosure. 1. For the purposes of this section, "automated teller machine operator" shall mean any person who: (a) operates an automated teller machine at which consumers may make financial transactions, including but not limited to deposits, withdrawals, balance inquiries, and loan payments; and (b) is not the financial institution which holds the account accessed by the consumer to make the financial transaction.
- 2. No automated teller machine operator shall impose a fee on a consumer using such machine, unless such operator: (a) provides notice as required by subdivision three of this section; and (b) the consumer elects to continue to effect a financial transaction after receiving such notice.
- 3. [(a) The automated teller machine operator shall post a sign or warning in a prominent and conspicuous location on or at the automated teller machine at which the financial transaction is initiated by the consumer. Such sign shall clearly state: (i) that a fee is imposed for the use of such machine; and (ii) the amount of such fee.
- (b)] The automated teller machine operator shall [also] provide notice on the screen of the automated teller machine or on a paper issued from such machine after the financial transaction is initiated, but before the consumer is irrevocably committed to completing the transaction. Such notice shall clearly state: (i) that a fee is imposed for the use

9 10 of such machine; (ii) the amount of such fee; and (iii) that the consumer may cancel such transaction without being assessed a fee.

- 4. (a) Any automated teller machine operator who fails to comply with the requirements of this section shall be assessed a civil penalty not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars per transaction.
- (b) If the notice required pursuant to subdivision three of this section has been [posted] PROVIDED by an automated teller machine operator and such notice is subsequently removed, damaged, or altered by any person other than such operator, the operator shall have no liability for a failure to comply with subdivision three of this section.
 - S 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
