AN ACT to amend the public health law, in relation to the continuity and integration of the home telehealth program within the home care-managed care system

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be referred to as the "telehealth continuity and integration act".

S 2. Legislative intent. The legislature finds that home telehealth services are emerging as a vital health care modality for the state's residents, enabling new and advanced technological methods of monitoring, management and self-management of patient health at home. Both empirical and descriptive studies provide clear and mounting evidence of home telehealth's capacity for achieving improved patient outcomes, system-wide cost-effectiveness and overall more appropriate institutional/non-institutional health resource use.

As the state's health care system shifts to a managed care paradigm, complementary changes to the home telehealth program are necessary to enable it to continue and properly function within this evolving system. In view of the current and potential future benefits of the home telehealth program to the state's citizens and overall health care system, the legislature declares this act to be a priority of the state's health care actions.

S 3. Subdivision 3-c of section 3614 of the public health law is amended by adding a new paragraph (f) to read as follows:

(F) NOTWITHSTANDING SUBDIVISION THIRTEEN OF THIS SECTION, SUBPARAGRAPH (I) OF PARAGRAPH (B) OF SUBDIVISION SEVEN OF SECTION FORTY-FOUR HUNDRED THREE-F OF THIS CHAPTER OR PARAGRAPH (E) OF SUBDIVISION THREE OF SECTION
