legislative findings. The legislature hereby 2. Declarations of finds and declares that persons, corporations, associations or other business entities which issue policies of liability insurance insuring an owner of real property or a contractor who is performing work and services on real property against claims made in reliance upon the duties imposed upon such parties by section 240 of the labor law, commonly referred to as the "scaffold law", owe an obligation to the public, to those they insure and to those who may in the future be insured by them, to fully disclose in a public and transparent manner all elements relating to the premiums paid for such insurance, the method and manner in which such premiums are determined and imposed upon insureds, and claims made by injured persons who rely on owners and contractors to provide a safe and secure worksite as required in such section of such law. It is essential that the public be made aware of such an insurer's responsibility to inform them of their financial condition and solvency, and the details and specifics of the factors and circumstances behind its financial solvency as well as the basis for the rates they charge to owners and contractors to obtain such coverage. The determination of premiums for such liability insurance policy in this state has, unfortunately, gone on too long in obscurity, with even those who bear the cost of premiums unable to learn why prices are set as they are. As a matter of public trust, liability insurers should be required

EXPLANATION--Matter in ITALICS (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [ ] is old law to be omitted.
