Section 1. Legislative intent. The 2013-14 winter season has brought severe winter storms and temperatures well below average. This unusual and unpredictable weather has resulted in significantly higher energy supply costs which has caused drastically higher utility bills for residential and small business utility customers. The higher utility charges are a significant burden on our residents and our small businesses. Because utility companies have the expertise to monitor wholesale energy supply prices and to calculate anticipated and actual increases in the bills of utility customers, this information should be used to develop implement programs to level out utility costs for these important customers. Such programs can be structured and implemented to provide lower and more stable energy costs for customers while simultaneously allowing public utility companies to recoup their costs over a reasonable amount of time. Therefore, the legislature hereby finds and declares that it is in the public interest to require such programs in ensure safe and adequate service with just and reasonable charges across the state of New York.

S 2. The public service law is amended by adding a new section 65-c to read as follows:
