AN ACT to amend the education law, in relation to education on celiac disease; and to amend the tax law and the state finance law, in relation to the celiac disease awareness and research fund

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Legislative intent. The legislature hereby finds the following:

a. Celiac disease is a digestive disease that damages the small intestine and interferes with absorption of nutrients from food.

b. Celiac disease affects people in all parts of the world. Originally thought to be a rare childhood syndrome, celiac disease is now known to be a common genetic disorder.

c. More than two million people in the United States have the disease, or about 1 in 133 people.

d. People who have celiac disease cannot tolerate gluten, a protein in wheat, rye, and barley. Gluten is found mainly in foods but may also be found in everyday products such as medicines, vitamins and lip balms.

e. When people with celiac disease eat foods or use products containing gluten, their immune system responds by damaging or destroying villi, the tiny, fingerlike protrusions lining the small intestine. Villi normally allow nutrients from food to be absorbed through the walls of the small intestine into the bloodstream. Without healthy villi, a person becomes malnourished, no matter how much one eats.

f. People with celiac disease may have no symptoms but can still develop complications of the disease over time. Long-term complications include malnutrition which can lead to anemia, osteoporosis and miscarriage, among other problems such as liver diseases and cancers of the intestine.

EXPLANATION--Matter in ITALICS (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [ ] is old law to be omitted.
g. For these reasons, and because this legislation will have significant savings to New York, the legislature finds it in the public interest to raise awareness of this disease.
