AN ACT to amend the general business law and the penal law, in relation to preventing the sale of firearms, rifles, and shotguns to criminals

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, REPRESENTED IN SENATE AND ASSEMBLY, DO ENACT AS FOLLOWS:

1 Section 1. Legislative findings and declaration. The legislature here-
2 by finds and declares as follows:
3 1. Firearms, rifles and shotguns are used to kill over 30,000 individ-
4 uals in the United States every year, including 1,000 individuals in New 5 York state alone. Additionally, there are 100,000 non-fatal injuries
6 across the country. The federal government has largely ignored this 7 public health crisis and has left it up to state and local governments
8 to protect its citizens. Firearm violence also costs billions of dollars 9 and causes incalculable emotional damage, devastating families and 10 communities throughout the country. Therefore, the state of New York 11 has a strong interest in reducing violence and crimes that involve the 12 use of firearms and the illegal trafficking of firearms. Illegal guns 13 obtained throughout the state end up in the hands of criminals, youth 14 and violent individuals who use them to threaten, maim and kill.
15 2. There is a thriving underground market for illegal firearms, large-
16 ly driven by demand from drug gangs and other criminals. A highly effi-17 cient and continuous business practice exists in which firearms are 18 moved from legal manufacture and sale to prohibited purchasers, making 19 them illegal firearms. In 2013, according to a review by the federal 20 Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms, and Explosives (ATF) of trace data
21 compiled for several regions in the state, including Albany, Buffalo,
22 Rochester, Syracuse, Long Island and New York City that calendar year,

EXPLANATION--Matter in ITALICS (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [] is old law to be omitted.

1 8,539 firearms were recovered and traced, 2,164 of which were long guns.
2 Outside New York City, long guns are sold without a permit. 64.4% of the 3 firearms recovered from crimes in New York in 2013 were found in New 4 York City. In 2011, ATF trace data showed that 90% of the traceable
5 guns used in crimes in the five boroughs were from out of state. State-
6 wide, in 2011, 68% of traced crime guns recovered in New York came from 7 out of state. A significant portion of guns involved in crimes upstate
8 originate within the state. For example, according to 2009 ATF crime gun
9 trace data, 69% of crime guns in the Buffalo area and 50% of crime guns
10 in the Syracuse area originated within New York state.

11 3. Youth are particularly at risk of being killed with guns. Accord-
12 ing to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, in 2010 alone, 13 116 children and teens (under the age of 19) died from gun violence in 14 New York state.

15 4. A substantial portion of illegal firearms are diverted to the ille-
16 gal market through licensed gun dealers. Rogue gun dealers play a key
17 role in this market. These rogue dealers funnel guns to the illegal 18 market through a variety of channels. One of the most common means is to 19 allow "straw purchases". A straw purchase occurs when a person purchases
20 a gun on behalf of a prohibited person. The ATF conducted an investi-21 gation of gun trafficking from July 1996 to December 1998 and found that 22 almost 26,000 trafficked firearms were associated with investigations in 23 which there was a straw purchaser. Almost 50% of all trafficking inves-
24 tigation involved straw purchasers, with an average of 37 firearms
25 trafficked per investigation. Another issue, according to a 2008 report
26 by Mayors Against Illegal Guns, Inside Straw Purchasing: How Criminals
27 Get Guns Illegally, is that many traffickers return to the same store 28 again and again once they have identified it as one in which they can 29 make straw purchases easily. According to the ATF, 1% of gun dealers 30 are the source of almost 60% of crime guns.

31 5. Although most gun dealers operate their businesses legally and 32 responsibly, some gun dealers who are corrupt or maintain shoddy record-33 keeping practices flood the streets with illegal weapons as a result of 34 their unrestricted access to new gun inventory and the unwillingness of 35 gun manufacturers to terminate their supply to these rogue dealers.
36 Current federal and state regulation has not curbed the business prac-37 tice of illegal gun dealers. According to a 2004 study by Americans for 38 Gun Safety, of the 120 worst gun dealers in the country, namely those 39 dealers with an average of 500 crime guns traced to them, 96 were still 40 in operation.

41 6. Moreover, this problem is not limited to unlicensed sellers, and 42 clearly includes federal firearms licensees (FFLs). Indeed, although 43 FFLs were involved in under 10% of the trafficking investigations under-44 taken by ATF, they were associated with the largest number of diverted 45 firearms--over 40,000 guns, which is nearly half of the total number of 46 trafficked firearms documented during the two-year period of the ATF's
47 investigation. Additionally, a 2010 report by Mayors Against Illegal 48 Guns indicated that several states which allow state authorities to 49 supplement the federal ATF inspection with routine inspections provide 50 law enforcement with more opportunities to uncover dealers in violation
51 of the law. These inspections also help identify dealers who exercise
52 lax oversight over their inventory and may lead to improved compliance 53 with federal, state, and local laws.

54 7. Current state law governing firearm dealers is inadequate to 55 prevent the diversion of firearms to the illegal marketplace. Addi-56 tional protections that are needed include, but are not limited to,

1 better gun dealer internal compliance procedures, programs to eliminate 2 straw purchases, improved security measures, reducing youth access, and 3 mandatory training for gun dealer employees. The additional protections 4 set forth in this act will greatly enhance the state's efforts to reduce 5 criminal activity in the state.

6 S 2. The general business law is amended by adding a new article 39-BB
7 to read as follows:
