49     (xix) All department of criminal justice services criminal history 50 record checks for all witnesses who the prosecution intends to call, all 51 defendants, and all co-defendants.

52     (b) Nothing in this subdivision shall be interpreted to limit the 53 scope of the prosecution's discovery obligations. In all questions aris-54 ing regarding the scope of the prosecution's obligation to disclose to 55 the defense and to permit the defense to discover, inspect, copy or 56 photograph all items and information in the possession, custody or

1 control of the prosecution, or persons under the prosecution's direction 2 or control, which relate to the subject matter of the case or are other-3 wise relevant, there shall be a presumption in favor of disclosure.

4 2. Identification procedure summaries. Summaries disclosed pursuant to 5 subparagraph (xi) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of this section 6 shall include:

7 (a) The date, time, location, type, and result of each procedure;

25 the perpetrator might or might not be present; and 26 (k) Whether the administrator of each procedure knew which person was 27 the suspect, and whether, before the procedure, the eyewitness was 28 instructed that the administrator did not know which person was the 29 suspect.

30 3. Disclosure prior to guilty plea deadline. (a) Upon a felony 31 complaint, where the prosecutor has made a pre-indictment guilty plea 32 offer, the prosecutor must disclose to the defense, and permit the 33 defense to discover, inspect, copy or photograph, and test all items and 34 information that would be discoverable under subdivision one of this 35 section that are in the possession, custody or control of the prose-36 cution. Such disclosure must be completed within a reasonable time, but 37 not less than three days, prior to the expiration date of any guilty 38 plea offer by the prosecution or any deadline imposed by the court for a 39 guilty plea. A defendant may waive his or her rights under this subdi-40 vision; except that a guilty plea offer may not be conditioned on such 41 waiver.

42 (b) Upon an indictment, superior court information, prosecutor's 43 information, simplified information charging a misdemeanor, information, 44 or misdemeanor complaint, the prosecution must comply with all disclo-45 sure required by subdivision one of this section and file a certificate 46 of compliance pursuant to section 240.45 of this article at least seven 47 days prior to the expiration date of any guilty plea offer by the prose-48 cution or any deadline imposed by the court for a guilty plea. If the 49 prosecution does not comply with this subdivision, the offer shall be 50 deemed available to the defendant until seven days after the prosecution 51 has filed a certificate of compliance. A defendant may waive his or her 52 rights under this subdivision; except that a guilty plea offer may not 53 be conditioned on such waiver.

54 4. Reciprocal discovery. The defendant shall, subject to constitu-
55 tional limitations and within ninety days of when the prosecution files 56 its certificate of compliance pursuant to section 240.45 of this arti-

1 cle, disclose to the prosecution, and permit the prosecution to discov-2 er, inspect, copy, photograph, or test:

3 (a) Intended expert opinion evidence, including the name, business 4 address, current curriculum vitae, and a list of publications of each 5 intended expert witness, and all reports prepared by the expert that 6 pertain to the case, or if no report is prepared, a written statement of 7 the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and a 8 summary of the grounds for each opinion;

9 (b) All photographs, tangible objects, video and audio recordings,
10 electronic recordings and data, reports of physical or mental examina-11 tions of any person or of scientific tests or experiments, and exhibits 12 that the defendant intends to introduce at trial in his or her case in 13 chief; and

14 (c) All statements, written or recorded or summarized in any writing 15 or recording made by a witness who the defendant intends to call at 16 trial, other than statements made by the defendant, except that disclo-17 sure under this subdivision is not required until the close of the pros-18 ecution's case in chief.

19 5. Redactions permitted. Either party is permitted to redact social 20 security numbers and tax numbers from disclosures.

21 § 240.15 Automatic discovery; sanctions.

22 Section 240.10 of this article shall have the force and effect of a 23 court order, and failure to provide discovery pursuant to such section 24 may result in application of any sanctions permitted for noncompliance 25 with a court order under section 240.30 of this article. However, if in 26 the judgment of either party good cause exists for declining to make any 27 of the disclosures set forth in section 240.10 of this article, it may 28 move for a protective order pursuant to section 240.60 of this article 29 and production of the item shall be stayed pending a ruling by the 30 court. The opposing party shall be notified in writing what specific 31 information or material has not been disclosed and the grounds for the 32 protective order sought or the reason that the information or material 33 cannot immediately be disclosed.

34 § 240.20 Automatic discovery; depositions.

35 1. Obtaining depositions. At any time after the commencement of a 36 criminal action, upon service of a subpoena, the defendant may obtain 37 the deposition of any person on oral examination, where such person's 38 testimony is material to the case or relevant to the preparation of a 39 defense. A person's statements in a deposition may be used in subsequent 40 proceedings in the same manner as other out-of-court statements.

41 2. Location of deposition. Deposition of a witness shall be taken in 42 the county where the witness lives, or in such other location as is 43 agreed upon by the parties, or at a location designated by the court.
44 The deposition of any person confined in prison shall be taken where 45 such person is confined, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

46 3. Experts. The defendant may discover by deposition the facts and 47 opinions to which an expert is expected to testify. Unless manifest 48 injustice would result, the court shall require that the party seeking 49 discovery from an expert pay the expert a reasonable hourly fee for the 50 time such expert is deposed.

51 4. Failure of witness to comply. The court may preclude the testimony 52 of any witness who fails to comply with a properly served deposition 53 subpoena from testifying at hearing and/or trial.

54 § 240.25 Automatic discovery; notice and preservation of evidence.

55 1. Notice. Upon receipt of information that any item described in 56 subparagraphs (i) through (xix) of paragraph (a) of subdivision one of 1 section 240.10 of this article exists, except that it is not within the 2 possession, custody or control of the prosecution, or persons under its 3 direction and control, the prosecution shall expeditiously notify the 4 defendant of the existence of the item and all information known to the 5 prosecutor concerning the item's location and the identity of any 6 persons possessing it.

7 2. Preservation order. At any time, a party may move for an order to 8 any individual, agency or other entity in possession, custody or control 9 of items that relate to the subject matter of the case or are otherwise 10 relevant, including but not limited to requiring that such items be 11 preserved for a specified period of time. In addition, the defendant 12 may move for an order to any individual, agency or other entity in 13 possession, custody or control of a crime scene that relates to the 14 subject matter of the case or is otherwise relevant, requiring that 15 counsel for the defendant be granted prompt and reasonable access to 16 inspect, photograph or measure that crime scene, and that the condition 17 of the crime scene remain unchanged in the interim. The court shall hear 18 and rule upon motions made pursuant to this subdivision expeditiously.
19 The court may modify or vacate such an order upon a showing that preser-20 vation of particular evidence will create significant hardship, on 21 condition that the probative value of said evidence is preserved by a 22 specified alternative means.

23 3. Material held by other governmental personnel. Upon request of the 24 defendant, the prosecutor shall use due diligence and make good faith 25 efforts to make available for disclosure to the defendant materials that 26 would be discoverable under subparagraphs (i) through (xix) of paragraph 27 (a) of subdivision one of section 240.10 of this article but that are in 28 possession, custody, or control of other governmental personnel. Where 29 the prosecutor's efforts are unsuccessful, the court upon motion of the 30 defendant shall issue suitable subpoenas or orders to cause such materi-31 als to be made available for disclosure to the defendant.

32 4. Material witnesses and physical evidence. When police officers or 33 other law enforcement personnel participate in the investigation of an 34 apparent criminal incident, and provided that it is practicable under 35 the circumstances, they shall request and memorialize contact informa-36 tion for all persons of whom they are aware with material evidence or 37 information that relate to the subject matter of the case or are other-38 wise relevant, and shall gather or memorialize apparently material phys-39 ical evidence of which they are aware.

40 5. Electronic recordings of interviews at police stations or other 41 detention facilities. No oral, written, or sign language statement of a 42 suspect made during an interview at a police station or other detention 43 facility shall be admissible as substantive evidence against that person 44 in any criminal proceeding unless an electronic recording is made of all 45 interviews of the suspect. Each recording must be of the complete inter-46 view, must include both audio and visual recording, and must be focused 47 upon both the questioner, interpreter, if present, and the suspect 48 throughout. Any photograph, video, or object shown to the defendant 49 during the interview must be preserved for inspection.

50 6. Certain recordings. The prosecutor shall expeditiously take steps 51 to discover, preserve, and disclose all video, audio, or electronic 52 recordings made in connection with the investigation of an apparent 53 criminal incident, including but not limited to 911 telephone calls, law 54 enforcement radio transmissions, and video recordings made by law 55 enforcement, including body camera footage.

56 § 240.30 Automatic discovery; remedies or sanctions for noncompliance.

1 1. Available remedies or sanctions. For failure to comply with any 2 discovery obligation issued or imposed pursuant to this article, the 3 court shall make a further order for discovery, grant a continuance, 4 order that a hearing be reopened, order that a witness be called or 5 recalled, instruct the jury that it may draw an adverse inference 6 regarding the noncompliance, preclude or strike a witness's testimony or 7 a portion of a witness's testimony, admit or exclude evidence, order a 8 mistrial, order the dismissal of all or some of the charges, or make 9 such other order as it deems just under the circumstances; except that 10 any sanction against the defendant shall comport with the defendant's 11 constitutional right to present a defense, confront witnesses, and pres-12 ent evidence relevant to his or her defense, and the sanction of 13 precluding a defense witness from testifying shall be permissible only 14 upon a finding that the defendant's failure to comply with the discovery 15 order was willful and motivated by a desire to obtain a tactical advan-16 tage.

17 2. Need for remedy or sanction; lost or destroyed material. When 18 material or information is discoverable under this article, but it 19 cannot be disclosed because it has been lost or destroyed, the evidence 20 shall be deemed presumptively favorable to the defendant. The court 21 shall impose an appropriate remedy or sanction whenever the party enti-22 tled to disclosure shows that the lost or destroyed material may have 23 contained some information relevant to a contested issue.

24 3. Need for remedy or sanction; belated disclosure. When material or 25 information is discoverable under this article, but it is disclosed 26 belatedly, the defendant shall be entitled to an adjournment of up to 27 thirty days, or for a reasonable period, whichever is longer. When there 28 has been belated disclosure, the court shall impose an appropriate reme-29 dy or sanction whenever the party entitled to disclosure shows that it 30 was prejudiced.

31 § 240.35 Automatic discovery; discretionary discovery by order of the 32 court.

33 The court in its discretion may, upon a showing by the defendant that 34 the request is reasonable and that the defendant is unable without undue 35 hardship to obtain the substantial equivalent by other means, order the 36 prosecution, or any individual, agency or other entity subject to the 37 jurisdiction of the court, to make available for disclosure to the 38 defendant any material or information which potentially relates to the 39 subject matter of the case or is otherwise relevant. An application 40 under this section must be on notice to any person or entity affected by 41 the order. The court may, upon request of any person or entity affected 42 by the order, vacate or modify the order if compliance would be unrea-43 sonable or oppressive. The court may permit a party seeking or opposing 44 a discretionary order of discovery under this section, or another 45 affected person or entity, to submit papers or testify ex parte or in 46 camera. Any such papers and a transcript of such testimony shall be 47 sealed and shall constitute a part of the record on appeal.

48 § 240.40 Automatic discovery; order to grant access to premises.

49 At any time, the defendant may move for a court order to any individ-50 ual, agency or other entity in possession, custody or control of a crime 51 scene or other premises that relates to the subject matter of the case 52 or is otherwise relevant, requiring that counsel for the defendant be 53 granted prompt and reasonable access to inspect, photograph or measure 54 that crime scene or those premises, and that the condition of the crime 55 scene or premises remain unchanged in the interim. The court shall hear 56 and rule upon such motions expeditiously. The court may modify or vacate

1 such an order upon a showing that granting access to a particular crime 2 scene or premises will create significant hardship, on condition that 3 the probative value of that location is preserved by a specified alter-4 native means.

5 § 240.45 Automatic discovery; certificate of compliance.

6 When a party has provided all discovery required by this section or by 7 court order, it shall file with the court a certificate of compliance.
8 The certificate shall state that, to the best of its knowledge and after 9 reasonable inquiry, due diligence, and good faith effort, the party has 10 disclosed and made available all items subject to discovery, and shall 11 identify each item provided. The prosecution shall not be deemed ready 12 for trial for purposes of section 30.30 of this chapter until it has 13 filed a certificate pursuant to this section. If further discovery is 14 subsequently provided, a supplemental certificate shall be filed with 15 the court identifying the additional items provided explaining why the 16 newly provided discovery was not provided prior to the original certifi-17 cate of compliance.

18 § 240.50 Automatic discovery; continuing duty.

19 If either the prosecution or the defense subsequently learns of addi-20 tional material that it would have been under a duty to disclose or 21 produce pursuant to any provisions of this article at the time of a 22 previous discovery obligation or order, it shall expeditiously notify 23 the other party and shall disclose the material in the same manner as 24 required for initial discovery under this article, but no later than the 25 next scheduled court appearance.

26 § 240.55 Automatic discovery; work product.

27 This section does not authorize discovery by a party of those portions 28 of records, reports, correspondence, memoranda, or internal documents of 29 the adverse party that are only the legal research, opinions, theories, 30 or conclusions of the adverse party or its attorney or the attorney's 31 agents, or of statements of a defendant, written or recorded or summa-32 rized in any writing or recording, made to the attorney for the defend-33 ant or the attorney's agents.

34 § 240.60 Automatic discovery; protective orders.

35 1. Standard. Upon a showing of good cause by clear and convincing 36 evidence that disclosure would negatively affect the safety or security 37 of a known person or entity and that any limitation of disclosure is 38 necessary to protect a known person or entity, the court may at any time 39 order that the discovery, disclosure, or inspection be denied, 40 restricted, or deferred, or make such other order as is appropriate, 41 upon written motion of the party seeking the protective order. The court 42 may, for good cause shown, grant discovery to a defendant on the condi-43 tion that the material to be discovered be available only to counsel for 44 the defendant. This provision does not alter the allocation of the 45 burden of proof with regard to the matter at issue, including privilege.

46 2. Hearing. Upon a request for such an order, the court shall conduct 47 a hearing, either ex parte with just a prosecutor or defense counsel or 48 in the presence of both the prosecutor and defense counsel, within three 49 business days to determine whether good cause has been shown. If there-50 after the court enters an order granting relief, the material submitted 51 in camera must be sealed, along with the minutes to the proceeding and 52 written motions, and shall be preserved in the records of the court to 53 be made available to the appellate court in the event of an appeal.

54 § 240.65 Automatic discovery; amendment of discovery orders.

55 Upon motion of either party made subsequent to an order of the court 56 pursuant to this section, the court may alter or amend the previous

1 order or orders as the interests of justice may require. The court may,
2 for good cause shown, affirm a prior order granting discovery to a 3 defendant upon the additional condition that the material to be discov-4 ered be available only to counsel for the defendant.

5 § 240.70 Automatic discovery; non-testimonial evidence from the defend-6 ant.

7 After the filing of an accusatory instrument, and subject to constitu-8 tional limitations, the court may, upon motion of the prosecution show-9 ing probable cause to believe the defendant has committed the crime, a 10 clear indication that relevant material evidence will be found, and that 11 the method used to secure it is safe and reliable, require a defendant 12 to provide non-testimonial evidence, including to:
