At the hearing initiated in accordance with subdivision (a) of section 20.20 of this article, the court shall hear all relevant testimony. The respondent must be present unless the court has reason to believe that his or her presence is likely to be injurious to him or her, in which event the court shall appoint a quardian advocate to represent the respondent. The respondent has the right to examination by a court-appointed qualified professional. After hearing all the evidence, the court shall determine whether there is a reasonable basis to believe the respondent meets the involuntary admission criteria of section 20.01 of this article.

- (a) Based on its determination, the court shall either dismiss the petition or immediately enter an order authorizing the involuntary assessment and stabilization of the respondent; or, if in the course of the hearing the court has reason to believe that the respondent, due to mental illness other than or in addition to substance abuse impairment, is likely to injure himself or herself or another if allowed to remain at liberty, the court may initiate involuntary proceedings under the provisions of article nine of this chapter.
- (b) If the court enters an order authorizing involuntary assessment and stabilization, the order shall include the court's findings with respect to the availability and appropriateness of the least restrictive alternatives and the need for the appointment of an attorney to represent the respondent, and may designate the specific licensed service provider to perform the involuntary assessment and stabilization of the respondent. The respondent may choose the licensed service provider to deliver the involuntary assessment where possible and appropriate.
- (c) If the court finds it necessary, it may order the appropriate law enforcement to take the respondent into custody and deliver him or her to the licensed service provider specified in the court order or, if none is specified, to the nearest appropriate licensed service provider for involuntary assessment.
- 33 § 20.22 Involuntary assessment and stabilization; responsibility of licensed service provider.
 - A licensed service provider may admit an individual for involuntary assessment and stabilization for a period not to exceed seven days. The individual must be assessed without unnecessary delay by a qualified
- § 20.23 Extension of time for completion of involuntary assessment and 39 40 stabilization.

With or without a hearing, the court may grant additional time, not to exceed seven days after the date of the renewal order, for the completion of the involuntary assessment and stabilization of the individual. The original court order authorizing the involuntary assessment and stabilization, or a request for an extension of time to complete the assessment and stabilization that is timely filed pursuant to this section, constitutes legal authority to involuntarily hold the individual for a period not to exceed fourteen days in 54 the absence of a court order to the contrary.

§ 20.24 Disposition of individual after involuntary assessment.

- 1 (a) Based upon the involuntary assessment described in section 20.22

 3 appointed evaluator, or licensed service provider, with permission of 4 the court must:
- 5 (1) release the individual and, where appropriate, refer the individ-
 6 ual to another treatment facility or service provider, or to outpatient
 7 services;
- 8 (2) if an individual does not meet the standards set forth in section
 9 20.01 of this article, the service provider may allow the individual,
 10 with consent, to remain voluntarily at the licensed provider; or
- 11 (3) retain the individual when a petition for involuntary treatment
 12 has been initiated, the timely filing of which authorizes the service
 13 provider to retain physical custody of the individual pending further 14 order of the court.
- 15 (b) Notice of disposition must be provided to the petitioner and to 16 the court.
- 17 § 20.25 Involuntary treatment.

25

- A person may petition for court-ordered involuntary treatment pursuant to this section if such person meets the criteria for involuntary admission provided in section 20.01 of this article and:
- 21 (a) has been placed under protective custody pursuant to section 20.06 22 of this article within the previous fourteen days;
- 23 (b) has been subject to an emergency admission pursuant to section 24 20.12 of this article within the previous fourteen days;
 - (c) has been assessed by a qualified evaluator within seven days; or
- 26 (d) has been subject to involuntary assessment and stabilization 27 pursuant to section 20.20 of this article within the previous fourteen 28 days.
- 29 § 20.26 Involuntary treatment; persons who may petition.
- 30 (a) If the respondent is an adult, a petition for involuntary treat-31 ment may be filed by the respondent's parent, spouse or guardian, any 32 person eighteen years of age or older that resides with the respondent, 33 any child or sibling of the respondent who is eighteen years of age or 34 older or a service provider.

- 47 (a) the reason for the petitioner's belief that the respondent is 48 substance abuse impaired; and
- 49 (b) the reason for the petitioner's belief that because of such
 50 impairment the respondent has become incapable of self-management or
 51 management of personal affairs; and
- 52 (c) (1) the reason the petitioner believes that the respondent has 53 inflicted or is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or herself or 54 others unless admitted; or

 (2) the reason the petitioner believes that the respondent has a propensity to commit crime, or has committed what would be considered crimes to support his or her addiction; or

- (3) the reason the petitioner believes that the respondent's refusal to voluntarily receive care is based on judgment so impaired by reason of substance abuse that the respondent is incapable of appreciating his or her need for care and of making a rational decision regarding that need for care.
- 9 § 20.28 Duties of court upon filing of petition for involuntary treat-
 10 ment.

Upon the filing of a petition for the involuntary treatment of a substance abuse impaired person with the clerk of the court, the court shall immediately determine whether the respondent is represented by an attorney or whether the appointment of counsel for the respondent is appropriate. The court must appoint an evaluator to determine the need for emergency admission under section 20.14 of this article. The court shall schedule a hearing to be held on the petition within ten days. A copy of the petition and notice of the hearing must be provided to the respondent; the respondent's parent, guardian, or legal custodian, in the case of a minor; the respondent's attorney, if known; the petitioner; the respondent's spouse or quardian, if applicable; and such other persons as the court may direct, and have such petition and order personally delivered to the respondent if he or she is a minor. The court shall also issue a summons to the person whose admission is sought. The court must order law enforcement to take the individual into custody and bring the individual before the court. If court is not in session, law enforcement must bring the individual to a designated treatment center and notify the court immediately of placement.

29 § 20.29 Hearing on petition for involuntary treatment.

- (a) At a hearing on a petition for involuntary treatment, the court shall hear and review all relevant evidence, including the review of results of the assessment completed by the qualified professional in connection with the respondent's protective custody, emergency admission, or involuntary assessment. The respondent must be present unless the court finds that his or her presence is likely to be injurious to himself or herself or others, in which event the court must appoint a quardian advocate to act on behalf of the respondent throughout the proceedings.
- 39 (b) The petitioner has the burden of proving by clear and convincing 40 evidence:
 - (1) the respondent is substance abuse impaired, and
 - (2) because of such impairment the respondent has become incapable of self-management or management of personal affairs; and
 - (i) the respondent has inflicted or is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or herself or others unless admitted; or
 - (ii) the respondent has a propensity to commit crime, or has committed what would be considered crimes, to sustain his or her addiction; or
 - (iii) the respondent's refusal to voluntarily receive care is based on judgement so impaired by reason of substance abuse that the respondent is incapable of appreciating his or her need for care and of making a rational decision regarding that need for care.
 - (c) At the conclusion of the hearing the court shall either dismiss the petition or order the respondent to undergo involuntary substance abuse treatment, with a licensed service provider; as directed by the court with the assistance of the office of alcoholism and substance abuse's database.

§ 20.30 Court determination; effect of court order for involuntary substance abuse treatment.

- (a) When the court finds that the conditions for involuntary substance abuse treatment have been proved by clear and convincing evidence, it may order the respondent to undergo involuntary treatment by a licensed service provider. If the court finds it necessary, it may direct the sheriff to take the respondent into custody and deliver him or her to the licensed service provider specified in the court order, or to the nearest appropriate licensed service provider, for involuntary treatment. When the conditions justifying involuntary treatment no longer exist, the individual must be released as provided in section 20.31 of this article. When the conditions are justifying involuntary treatment are expected to exist after sixty days of treatment, a renewal of the involuntary treatment order may be requested pursuant to section 20.32 of this article prior to the end of the sixty-day period.
- (b) In all cases resulting in an order for involuntary substance abuse treatment, the court shall retain jurisdiction over the case and the parties for the entry of such further orders as the circumstances may require. The court's requirements for notification of proposed release must be included in the original treatment order.
- (c) An involuntary treatment order authorizes the licensed service provider to require the individual to undergo such treatment as will benefit him or her, including treatment at any program licensed or certified by the office.
- 25 § 20.31 Early release from involuntary substance abuse treatment with 26 permission of the court.
 - (a) At any time prior to the end of the sixty-day involuntary treatment period, or prior to the end of any extension granted pursuant to section 20.32 of this article, an individual admitted for involuntary treatment may be determined eligible for discharge to the most appropriate referral or disposition for the individual when;

 - (2) the individual was admitted on the grounds of need for assessment and stabilization or treatment, accompanied by inability to make a determination respecting such need, such inability no longer exists.
 - (b) Whenever a qualified professional determines that an individual admitted for involuntary treatment is ready for early release for any of the reasons listed in subdivision one of this section, the service provider shall petition the court for permission for early release.
 - § 20.32 Extension of involuntary substance abuse treatment period.
- (a) Whenever a service provider believes that an individual who is nearing the scheduled date of release from involuntary treatment contin-ues to meet the criteria for involuntary treatment in section 20.25 of this article, a petition for renewal of the involuntary treatment order may be filed with the court at least ten days before the expiration of the court-ordered treatment period. The court shall immediately schedule a hearing to be held not more than fifteen days after filing of the petition.
