Introduced by M. of A. JOYNER -- read once and referred to the Committee on Housing

AN ACT to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, the emergency tenant protection act of nineteen seventy-four and the emergency housing rent control law, in relation to prohibiting the adjustment of maximum allowable rent where any modification, increase or improvement is made to accommodate the needs of a disabled tenant

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Subparagraph (e) of paragraph 1 of subdivision g of section 26-405 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by section 15 of part B of chapter 97 of the laws of 2011, is amended to read as follows:

5 (e) The landlord and tenant by mutual voluntary written agreement agree to a substantial increase or decrease in dwelling space or a 7 change in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided in the housing accommodations. An adjustment under this subparagraph shall 9 be equal to one-fortieth, in the case of a building with thirty-five or 10 fewer housing accommodations, or one-sixtieth, in the case of a building 11 with more than thirty-five housing accommodations where such adjustment 12 takes effect on or after September twenty-fourth, two thousand eleven, of the total cost incurred by the landlord in providing such modification or increase in dwelling space, services, furniture, furnishings or 14 equipment, including the cost of installation, but excluding finance 15 charges, provided further that an owner who is entitled to a rent 16 17 increase pursuant to this subparagraph shall not be entitled to a 18 further rent increase based upon the installation of similar equipment, 19 or new furniture or furnishings within the useful life of such new 20 equipment, or new furniture or furnishings. The owner shall give written 21 notice to the city rent agency of any such adjustment pursuant to this 22 subparagraph; provided, however, an owner shall not be entitled to any

51 52 adjustment pursuant to this subparagraph where any modification or increase in dwelling space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment is made to accommodate the needs of a disabled tenant. For purposes of this subparagraph, "disabled" means an individual (i) with a physical or mental impairment, including, but not limited to, those of neurological, emotional or sensory organs, which substantially limits one or more of the individual's major life activities, and (ii) who is regarded as having such an impairment as certified by a licensed physician of this state; or

- 2. Paragraph 13 of subdivision c of section 26-511 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by section 16 of part B of chapter 97 of the laws of 2011, is amended to read as follows:
- 13 (13) provides that an owner is entitled to a rent increase where there 14 has been a substantial modification or increase of dwelling space or an 15 increase in the services, or installation of new equipment or improve-16 ments or new furniture or furnishings provided in or to a tenant's hous-17 ing accommodation, on written tenant consent to the rent increase. In the case of a vacant housing accommodation, tenant consent shall not be 18 19 required. The permanent increase in the legal regulated rent for the 20 affected housing accommodation shall be one-fortieth, in the case of a 21 building with thirty-five or fewer housing accommodations, or one-sixtieth, in the case of a building with more than thirty-five housing accom-22 modations where such permanent increase takes effect on or after Septem-23 ber twenty-fourth, two thousand eleven, of the total cost incurred by 24 25 landlord in providing such modification or increase in dwelling 26 space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, including the cost 27 of installation, but excluding finance charges. Provided further that an owner who is entitled to a rent increase pursuant to this paragraph 28 29 shall not be entitled to a further rent increase based upon the instal-30 lation of similar equipment, or new furniture or furnishings within the 31 useful life of such new equipment, or new furniture or furnishings. 32 Provided, however, an owner shall not be entitled to any rent increase 33 pursuant to this paragraph where any modification, increase or improve-34 ment in dwelling space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment is 35 made to accommodate the needs of a disabled tenant. For purposes of 36 this paragraph, "disabled" means an individual (i) with a physical or 37 mental impairment, including, but not limited to, those of neurological, 38 emotional or sensory organs, which substantially limits one or more of the individual's major life activities, and (ii) who is regarded as 39 having such an impairment as certified by a licensed physician of this 40 41 state.
  - § 3. Paragraph 1 of subdivision d of section 6 of section 4 of chapter 576 of the laws of 1974, constituting the emergency tenant protection act of nineteen seventy-four, as amended by section 18 of part B of chapter 97 of the laws of 2011, is amended to read as follows:
- (1) there has been a substantial modification or increase of dwelling space or an increase in the services, or installation of new equipment or improvements or new furniture or furnishings, provided in or to a tenant's housing accommodation, on written tenant consent to the rent increase. In the case of a vacant housing accommodation, tenant consent shall not be required. The permanent increase in the legal regulated rent for the affected housing accommodation shall be one-fortieth, in the case of a building with thirty-five or fewer housing accommodations, 54 or one-sixtieth, in the case of a building with more than thirty-five 55 housing accommodations where such permanent increase takes effect on or after September twenty-fourth, two thousand eleven, of the total cost incurred by the landlord in providing such modification or increase in dwelling space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, including 3 the cost of installation, but excluding finance charges. Provided 4 further that an owner who is entitled to a rent increase pursuant to this paragraph shall not be entitled to a further rent increase based upon the installation of similar equipment, or new furniture or furnishings within the useful life of such new equipment, or new furni-7 ture or furnishings. Provided, however, an owner shall not be entitled 9 to any rent increase pursuant to this paragraph where any modification, 10 increase or improvement in dwelling space, services, furniture, 11 furnishings or equipment is made to accommodate the needs of a disabled tenant. For purposes of this paragraph, "disabled" means an individual 12 (i) with a physical or mental impairment, including, but not limited to, 13 14 those of neurological, emotional or sensory organs, which substantially 15 limits one or more of the individual's major life activities, and (ii) 16 who is regarded as having such an impairment as certified by a licensed 17 physician of this state. 18

- § 4. Clause 5 of the second undesignated paragraph of paragraph (a) of subdivision 4 of section 4 of chapter 274 of the laws of 1946, constituting the emergency housing rent control law, as amended by section 25 of part B of chapter 97 of the laws of 2011, is amended to read as follows:
- 22 23 (5) the landlord and tenant by mutual voluntary written agreement 24 agree to a substantial increase or decrease in dwelling space or a 25 change in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided in 26 the housing accommodations; provided that an owner shall be entitled to 27 a rent increase where there has been a substantial modification or increase of dwelling space or an increase in the services, or installa-28 tion of new equipment or improvements or new furniture or furnishings 29 provided in or to a tenant's housing accommodation. The permanent 30 31 increase in the maximum rent for the affected housing accommodation 32 shall be one-fortieth, in the case of a building with thirty-five or 33 fewer housing accommodations, or one-sixtieth, in the case of a building 34 with more than thirty-five housing accommodations where such permanent 35 increase takes effect on or after September twenty-fourth, two thousand eleven, of the total cost incurred by the landlord in providing such 36 37 or increase in dwelling space, services, furniture, modification furnishings or equipment, including the cost of installation, but 38 excluding finance charges provided further that an owner who is entitled 39 a rent increase pursuant to this clause shall not be entitled to a 40 41 further rent increase based upon the installation of similar equipment, 42 new furniture or furnishings within the useful life of such new equipment, or new furniture or furnishings. The owner shall give written 43 44 notice to the commission of any such adjustment pursuant to this clause; 45 provided, however, an owner shall not be entitled to any adjustment 46 pursuant to this clause where any modification, improvement or increase 47 in dwelling space, services, furniture, furnishings or equipment is made to accommodate the needs of a disabled tenant. For purposes of this 48 clause, "disabled" means an individual (i) with a physical or mental 49 impairment, including, but not limited to, those of neurological, 50 51 emotional or sensory organs, which substantially limits one or more of the individual's major life activities, and (ii) who is regarded as 52 53 having such an impairment as certified by a licensed physician of this 54 state; or
