1 § 2. The election law is amended by adding a new section 6-170 to read
2 as follows:

3 § 6-170. Designating or nominating petition; residence. A designating
4 or nominating petition, or certificate of designation, as provided in 5 sections 6-132 and 6-140 of this title, naming a person as candidate for 6 a local office which requires the office holder to be a resident of the 7 subdivision, and which contains therein a residence address for the 8 candidate that is not within the subdivision in which the candidate
9 seeks nomination or election, shall be invalid unless such candidate
10 shall file, at the same time as the filing of the petition or certif-11 icate of nomination or designation, a certificate duly acknowledged by 12 the candidate which sets forth a residence within the subdivision where 13 the candidate resides as of the date of such filings.

14 § 3. The election law is amended by adding a new section 6-214 to read
15 as follows:

16 § 6-214. Designating or nominating petition; residence. A designating
17 or nominating petition, or certificate of designation, as provided in 18 sections 6-204 and 6-206 of this title, naming a person as candidate for 19 a village office which requires the office holder to be a resident of 20 the village, and which contains therein a residence address for the 21 candidate that is not within the village in which the candidate seeks 22 nomination or election, shall be invalid unless such candidate shall 23 file, at the same time as the filing of the petition or certificate of 24 nomination or designation, a certificate duly acknowledged by the candi-
25 date which sets forth a residence within the village where the candidate 26 resides as of the date of such filings.

27 § 4. This act shall take effect on the first of January next succeed-28 ing the date on which it shall have become a law.
