1 2. The state fire prevention and building code council [is authorized, 2 time to time as it deems appropriate and consistent with the purposes of this article, to review and amend the code, or adopt a new 3 gode, through rules and regulations provided that the gode remains cost 5 effective with respect to building construction in the state. In determining whether the code remains cost effective, the code council shall 6 7 consider whether the cost of materials and their installation to meet 8 its standards would be equal to or less than the present value of energy 9 savings that sould be expected over a ten year period in the building in which such materials are installed. For residential buildings, the code 10 11 shall meet or exceed the then most recently published International Energy Conservation Code, or achieve equivalent or greater energy savings; and for commercial buildings, the code shall meet or exceed 12 13 14 ASHRAE 90.1-2007, or achieve equivalent or greater energy savings] shall, within twelve months of the publication of each revised or 15 16 updated edition of the International Energy Conservation Code or the 17 ANSI/ASHRAE/IESNA Standard 90.1, cause the state energy conservation construction code to be updated to reflect changes in any such revised 18 19 or updated edition.

20 § 4. This act shall take effect immediately.
