AN ACT to amend the general business law, in relation to the price gouging of medicine

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

- Section 1. The general business law is amended by adding a new section 2 396-rrr to read as follows:
- § 396-rrr. Price gouging of medicine. 1. For the purposes of this section, "drug subject to a shortage" shall mean any drug or medical product intended for human use publicly reported as being subject to a shortage by the U.S. food and drug administration on its website, provided, however, that a drug or medical product shall only be considered a "drug subject to a shortage" during the period of time that such drug or medical product is listed as being subject to a shortage on such website.
- 2. No party within the chain of distribution of any drug subject to a shortage shall sell or offer to sell any such drug subject to a shortage for an amount which represents an unconscionably excessive price.
- 14 3. Whether a price is unconscionably excessive is a question of law
 15 for the court.
 - (a) The court's determination that a violation of this section has occurred shall be based on any of the following factors:
- 18 (i) that the amount of the excess in price is unconscionably extreme;

16 17

- 19 (ii) that there was an exercise of unfair leverage or unconscionable 20 means; or
- 21 (iii) a combination of both factors in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of 22 this paragraph.

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets
[-] is old law to be omitted.

(b) In any proceeding commenced pursuant to subdivision four of this section, prima facie proof that a violation of this section has occurred shall include evidence that:

- (i) the amount charged represents a gross disparity between the price of the drug subject to a shortage which was the subject of the transaction and their value measured by the price at which such drug was sold or offered for sale by the defendant in the usual course of business immediately prior to the onset of the shortage; and
- (ii) the amount charged grossly exceeded the price at which the same or similar drug subject to a shortage was readily obtainable by other purchasers in the trade area. A defendant may rebut a prima facie case with evidence that additional costs not within the control of the defendant were imposed on the defendant for the drug subject to a shortage.
- 4. Where a violation of this section is alleged to have occurred, the 16 attorney general may apply in the name of the People of the State of New York to the supreme court within the judicial district in which such violation is alleged to have occurred, on notice of five days, for an order enjoining or restraining commission or continuance of the alleged unlawful acts. In any such proceeding, the court shall impose a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed one hundred thousand dollars and, where appropriate, order restitution to aggrieved consumers.
- 5. Prior to applying for an order from the supreme court pursuant to 23 24 subdivision four of this section, the attorney general, in consultation 25 with the department of health, shall consider the pricing dynamics 26 unique to the small and independent distributors within the supply chain 27 including, but not limited to, the price charged by the end use dispenser relative to its acquisition cost. 28
 - § 2. This act shall take effect immediately.
