AN ACT to amend the domestic relations law and the family court act, in relation to the standing of certain relatives in custody and guardianship proceedings

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1 Section 1. Subdivision 2 of section 72 of the domestic relations law, 2 as added by chapter 657 of the laws of 2003, is amended to read as 3 follows:
4 2. (a) Where a grandparent or the grandparents of a minor child, 5 residing within this state, or relative who is related to a parent of 6 such child within the second degree of consanguinity or affinity, resid-7 ing in this state, can demonstrate to the satisfaction of the court the 8 existence of extraordinary circumstances, such grandparent [~~or~~], grand-9 parents or relative of such child may apply to the supreme court by 10 commencing a special proceeding or for a writ of habeas corpus to have 11 such child brought before such court, or may apply to family court
12 pursuant to subdivision (b) of section six hundred fifty-one or section 13 six hundred sixty-one of the family court act; and on the return there-14 of, the court, by order, after due notice to the parent or any other 15 person or party having the care, custody, and control of such child, to 16 be given in such manner as the court shall prescribe, may make such 17 directions as the best interests of the child may require, for custody 18 rights for such grandparent [~~or~~], grandparents or relative in respect to

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [~~-~~] is old law to be omitted.

1 such child. An extended disruption of custody, as such term is defined 2 in this section, shall constitute an extraordinary circumstance.

3 (b) For the purposes of this section "extended disruption of custody" 4 shall include, but not be limited to, a prolonged separation of the 5 respondent parent and the child for at least twenty-four continuous 6 months, during which time the parent voluntarily relinquished care and 7 control of the child and the child resided in the household of the peti-8 tioner grandparent [~~or~~], grandparents or relative, provided, however, 9 that the court may find that extraordinary circumstances exist should 10 the prolonged separation have lasted for less than twenty-four months 11 and provided further that where a parent of the child proves by prepon-12 derance of the evidence that an act or acts of domestic violence commit-13 ted against such parent contributed to his or her relinquishment of care 14 and control of the child, the court shall find no extraordinary circum-
15 stances exist.

16 (c) Nothing in this section shall limit the ability of parties to 17 enter into consensual custody agreements absent the existence of 18 extraordinary circumstances.

19 § 2. Subdivisions (b) and (d) of section 651 of the family court act, 20 subdivision (b) as amended by chapter 657 of the laws of 2003 and subdivi-21 sion (d) as amended by chapter 41 of the laws of 2010, are amended to 22 read as follows:

23 (b) When initiated in the family court, the family court has jurisdic-24 tion to determine, in accordance with subdivision one of section two 25 hundred forty of the domestic relations law and with the same powers 26 possessed by the supreme court in addition to its own powers, habeas 27 corpus proceedings and proceedings brought by petition and order to show 28 cause, for the determination of the custody or visitation of minors,
29 including applications by a grandparent or grandparents for visitation 30 or custody rights pursuant to section seventy-two or two hundred forty 31 of the domestic relations law , and applications by a relative who is 32 related to a parent of a child in the second degree of consanguinity or 33 affinity for custody rights pursuant to section seventy-two of the 34 domestic relations law.

35 (d) With respect to applications by a grandparent or grandparents for 36 visitation or custody rights, made pursuant to section seventy-two or 37 two hundred forty of the domestic relations law, or by a relative who is 38 related to a parent of a child in the second degree of consanguinity or 39 affinity for custody rights pursuant to section seventy-two of the 40 domestic relations law, with a child remanded or placed in the care of a 41 person, official, agency or institution pursuant to the provisions of 42 article ten of this act, the applicant, in such manner as the court 43 shall prescribe, shall serve a copy of the application upon the social 44 services official having care and custody of such child, and the child's 45 attorney, who shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard thereon.

46 § 3. This act shall take effect immediately.
