6. An initiative measure shall not contain alternative or cumulative provisions wherein one or more of those provisions would become law depending upon the casting of a specified percentage of votes for or against the measure.

- § 2. 1. The referendum is the power of the electors to approve or reject statutes or parts of statutes except statutes calling elections and statutes providing for tax levies or appropriations for usual current expenses of the state.
- 2. A referendum measure may be proposed by presenting to the secretary of state, within ninety days after the effective date of the statute, a petition certified to have been signed by electors equal in number to five percent of the votes for all candidates for governor at the last gubernatorial election, asking that the statute or part of it be submitted to the electors. In the case of a statute enacted by a bill passed by the legislature on or before the date the legislature adjourns in the second calendar year of the biennium of the legislative session, and in the possession of the governor after that date, the petition may not be presented on or after January first next following the effective date unless a copy of the petition is submitted to the attorney general pursuant to subdivision four of section three of this article before January first.
- 3. The secretary of state shall then submit the measure at the next general election held at least thirty-one days after it qualifies or at a special statewide election held prior to that general election. The governor may call a special statewide election for the measure.
- § 3. 1. An initiative statute or referendum approved by a majority of votes thereon takes effect the day after the election unless the measure provides otherwise. If a referendum petition is filed against a part of a statute the remainder shall not be delayed from going into effect.
- 2. If provisions of two or more measures approved at the same election conflict, those of the measure receiving the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.
- 3. The legislature may amend or repeal referendum statutes. It may amend or repeal an initiative statute by another statute that becomes effective only when approved by the electors unless the initiative statute permits amendment or repeal without their approval.
- 4. Prior to circulation of an initiative or referendum petition for signatures, a copy shall be submitted to the attorney general who shall prepare a title and summary of the measure as provided by law.
- 5. The legislature shall provide the manner in which petitions shall be circulated, presented, and certified, and measures submitted to the electors.
  - § 4. 1. Initiative and referendum powers may be exercised by the electors of each city or county under procedures that the legislature shall provide. Except as provided in subdivisions two and three of this section, this section does not affect a city having a charter.
  - 2. A city or county initiative measure shall not include or exclude any part of the city or county from the application or effect of its provisions based upon approval or disapproval of the initiative measure, or based upon the casting of a specified percentage of votes in favor of the measure, by the electors of the city or county or any part thereof.
- 3. A city or county initiative measure shall not contain alternative or cumulative provisions wherein one or more of those provisions would become law depending upon the casting of a specified percentage of votes for or against the measure.
