STATE OF NEW YORK

2191

2017-2018 Regular Sessions

IN SENATE

January 12, 2017

Introduced by Sens. PARKER, AVELLA -- read twice and ordered printed, and when printed to be committed to the Committee on Labor

AN ACT to amend the labor law and the civil service law, in relation to employees' right to review personnel records

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

1	Section 1. The labor law is amended by adding a new section 211-b to
2	read as follows:
3	§ 211-b. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer
4	shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee, provide
5	such employee, former employee separated from employment with such
б	employer within the previous three years, representative of a recognized
7	or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an
8	opportunity to review and copy the employee's personnel file if the
9	employer has a personnel file for that employee. The review and copying
10	must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained
11	and during normal business hours unless, at the employer's discretion, a
12	more convenient time and location for the employee are arranged.
13	2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to
14	the employee, one copy of the entire personnel file when requested by
15	the employee or former employee separated from employment with such
16	employer within the last three years and, when requested by the employee
17	or former employee separated from employment within the last three years
18	with such employer, one copy of all the material added to the personnel
19	file after the copy of the entire file was provided. The cost of copying
20	any other material requested during the calendar year shall be paid by
21	the employee requesting the copy.
22	3. For purposes of this section, a personnel file includes, but is not
23	limited to, any formal or informal employee evaluations and reports
24	relating to the employee's character, credit, work habits, compensation
25	and benefits, and nonprivileged medical records or nurses' station notes

EXPLANATION--Matter in italics (underscored) is new; matter in brackets [-] is old law to be omitted.

LBD03013-01-7

S. 2191

1	relating to the employee. For the purposes of this section, the term
2	"nonprivileged medical records or nurses' station notes" means all those
3	materials that have not been found to be protected from discovery or
4	disclosure in the course of civil litigation or subject to the Health
5	Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).
6	4. Records in a personnel file may be maintained in any form including
7	paper, microfiche or electronic form. An employer maintaining records in
8	a form other than paper shall have available to the employee, former
9	employee separated from employment with such employer within the previ-
10	ous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee
11	organization or attorney of such employee the equipment necessary to
12	review and copy the personnel file. The employer shall take adequate
13	steps to ensure the integrity and confidentiality of such employee
14	records.
15	5. Any employer who, following a request pursuant to this section,
16	fails without good cause to provide an opportunity for review and copy-
17	ing of a personnel file, within ten days of receipt of such request, is
18	subject to a civil fine of twenty-five dollars for each day such failure
19	continues, except that such fine shall not exceed five hundred dollars
20	per request. An employee, former employee or the department may bring an
21	action in a court of competent jurisdiction for such equitable relief,
22	including an injunction, as the court may consider necessary and proper.
23	The employer may also be required to reimburse the employee, former
24	employee separated from employment with such employer within the previ-
25	ous three years or the department for costs reasonably related to the
26	litigation including reasonable attorney's fees, if the employee or the
27	department receives a judgment in the employee's or department's favor,
28	recreatively
	respectively.
29	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any
29 30	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.
29 30 31	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to
29 30 31 32	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:
29 30 31 32 33	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer</li> </ul>
29 30 31 32 33 34	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee sepa-</li> </ul>
29 30 31 32 33 34 35	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee started from employee within the previous three years, representative of a
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee or attorney of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee or a torney of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee's personnel
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment within the previous three of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment within the previous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employ-
29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee er's discretion, a more convenient time and location for the employee
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 38\\ 39\\ 40\\ 41\\ 42\\ 43\\ 44 \end{array}$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged.
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 38\\ 39\\ 40\\ 41\\ 423\\ 44\\ 45\end{array}$	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged.</li> <li>2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to</li> </ul>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 33\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 38\\ 40\\ 41\\ 42\\ 43\\ 445\\ 46\end{array}$	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged.</li> <li>2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee, one copy of the entire personnel file when requested by</li> </ul>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 46\\ 47\\ \end{array}$	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment within the previous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged.</li> <li>2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee separated by the employee or former employee separated by the employee or former employee separated from the such employee.</li> </ul>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 37\\ 38\\ 9\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 46\\ 47\\ 48\end{array}$	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment within the previous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged.</li> <li>2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee, one copy of the entire personnel file when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employee, by the employee or former employee separated from employee by the employee or the personnel file when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employee by the employee.</li> </ul>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 37\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 47\\ 49\\ 49\\ \end{array}$	<ul> <li>6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.</li> <li>§ 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows:</li> <li>§ 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged.</li> <li>2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee are provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee to years.</li> </ul>
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 47\\ 49\\ 50\\ \end{array}$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employee such employee, former employee separated from employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employer within the previous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee separated by the employee or former employee separated by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with suc
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 30\\ 31\\ 32\\ 34\\ 35\\ 36\\ 39\\ 41\\ 42\\ 44\\ 45\\ 46\\ 78\\ 90\\ 51\\ \end{array}$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee to the employee within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee separated from the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee separated from employment by the employee or former employee separated from the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee is three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee is a former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employee separated to the personnel file af
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 301\\ 323\\ 34\\ 35\\ 37\\ 3901\\ 42\\ 44\\ 44\\ 46\\ 78\\ 901\\ 51\\ 52\end{array}$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment within the previous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee by the employee or former employee separated from employee or former employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former e
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 301\\ 323\\ 34\\ 35\\ 37\\ 3901\\ 4234\\ 4456\\ 78901\\ 52\\ 53\end{array}$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee separated from employee, one copy of the entire personnel file when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employee to the separated from employee are arranged.
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 31233\\ 335\\ 33678901234\\ 4444444901234\\ 5555555555555555555$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment within the previous three years, representative of a recognized or certified employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee separated from employee separated from employee separated from employee to the employee or former employee separated from employee are arranged. 3. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years and, when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, one copy of all the material added to the personnel file after the copy of the entire file was provided. The cost of copying any other material requested during the calendar year shall be paid by the employee requesting the copy.
$\begin{array}{c} 29\\ 301\\ 323\\ 34\\ 35\\ 37\\ 3901\\ 4234\\ 445\\ 44901\\ 52\\ 53\end{array}$	6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement. § 2. The civil service law is amended by adding a new section 153 to read as follows: § 153. Employee right to review personnel records. 1. The employer shall, upon written request from an employee or former employee separated from employment with such employer within the previous three years, provide such employee, former employee separated from employment with such employee organization or attorney of such employee with an opportunity to review and copy the employee. The review and copying must take place at the location where the personnel files are maintained and during normal business hours unless, at the employee are arranged. 2. In each calendar year, the employer shall provide, at no cost to the employee or former employee separated from employee separated from employee, one copy of the entire personnel file when requested by the employee or former employee separated from employee to the separated from employee are arranged.

S. 2191

and benefits, and nonprivileged medical records or nurses' station notes 1 relating to the employee. For the purposes of this section, the term 2 "nonprivileged medical records or nurses' station notes" means all those 3 4 materials that have not been found to be protected from discovery or 5 disclosure in the course of civil litigation or subject to the Health б Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA). 7 4. Records in a personnel file may be maintained in any form includ-8 ing, paper, microfiche or electronic form. An employer maintaining 9 records in a form other than paper shall have available to the employee, 10 former employee or duly authorized representative the equipment neces-11 sary to review and copy the personnel file. The employer shall take adequate steps to ensure the integrity and confidentiality of such 12 13 employee records. 14 5. Any employer who, following a request pursuant to this section, 15 fails without good cause to provide an opportunity for review and copy-16 ing of a personnel file, within ten days of receipt of such request, is 17 subject to a civil fine of twenty-five dollars for each day such failure continues, except that such fine shall not exceed five hundred dollars 18 19 per request. An employee, former employee or the department of labor may bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction for each such equi-20 21 table relief, including an injunction, as the court may consider necessary and proper. The employer may also be required to reimburse the 22 employee, former employee separated from employment with such employer 23 24 within the previous three years or the department of labor for costs reasonably related to the litigation including reasonable attorney's 25 26 fees, if the employee or the department of labor receives a judgement in 27 the employee's or such department's favor, respectively. 28 6. This section shall not be deemed to diminish the rights of any 29 employee pursuant to a collective bargaining agreement.

30 § 3. This act shall take effect immediately.