suspension as above stated, the commission may extend the suspension for a further period, not exceeding six months.

3 If any such schedule is based on projections of revenues, expenditures 4 and utility operations for a period of more than eighteen months, the commission shall order that such schedule include annual projections or revenues and expenditures and benchmarks for maintenance and operations, 7 service quality and such other projections as the commission may deem 8 appropriate, and shall commence a proceeding to review the continued 9 validity of such projections not more than three months after the anni-10 versary date of the date such schedule became effective. All parties to 11 the proceeding at which the schedule was originally considered shall be entitled to party status in the review proceeding; provided, however, 12 that nothing in this paragraph shall preclude the admission of addi-13 tional persons to the proceeding if their intervention is likely to 14 15 contribute to the development of a complete record or is otherwise 16 fair and in the public interest. Upon a determination that any of the 17 projections was not met or is in need of reconsideration, the commission may make such orders as it deems appropriate. A review proceeding 18 commenced pursuant to this paragraph may be deemed to constitute a 19 20 proceeding undertaken pursuant to subdivision twenty of this section. 21 Similar review proceedings shall be commenced not more than three months 22 after any subsequent anniversary date of the original schedule's effective date, provided, however, that such proceedings shall consider any 23 24 revised projections ordered in prior review proceedings.

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after it shall have become a law. Provided that the public service commission is immediately authorized and directed to take any and all actions, including but not limited to the promulgation of any necessary rules, necessary to fully implement the provisions of this act on its effective date.
